The Carbon Advocate

SATURDAY, JUNE 22, 1889

LOCAL EVENTS CUT UP.

—Mary, wife of Jonas Snyder a well-to-do farmer of Lowhill, Lehigh county, died Tuesday of pneumonia, after an illness of some months. Deceased was born and raised in the neighborhood of her death, and was the mother of five children among the number being Dr. O. W. Snyder, of town, who was in attendance at the funeral Thursday. Deceased was aged fifty-five years. Interment took place from the Lynnville Lutheran church, of which she was a firm and consistent communicant. The bereaved family have the ADVOCATE'S sympathy in their sorrow.

—The wife of Alfred Mertz, the lessee of Dolan's farm in Mahoning township, near Packerton, took suddenly ill while picking strawberries Tuesday afternoon and at two o'clock the next morning died. She was aged thirty-nine years, and was kind and affectionate mother of six children who survive her. Deceased was a daughter of Samuel Evert, for many years supervisor of the township and well-known in the county. Interment takes place from the Reformed church on Lehigh street, Saturday morning at 10 o'clock—Revs. Reber and Bartholomew officiating.

—An individual giving his name as Frank Monroe, with residence at Allentown, was in attendance at the sale of the Clauss estate on Saturday and succeeded in having the property "knocked off" to him for $2100. After the sale he left for Mauch Chunk, presumably to have a check for $1000, which he was flourishing conspicuously, cashed. Since then he has failed to materialize and it is concluded that he is a humbug of the first water, and to tell the truth is looks a good bit that way.

—One enactment of the late Legislature is that partridge, or quail, can only be lawfully killed from November 1st until December 15th, and fixes a fine of $10 for every bird that is killed out of the season. The time last year was from October 15 to January 1. Sportsmen should paste the above item on their gun stocks.

—Burke's grand street demonstaation last Tuesday failed in many points, but fully demonstrated the ability of the management as first class prevaricators, or more vulgarily speaking as multitudnous liars. The exhibitions in the afternoon and evening were excellent for the absence of anything meritorious.

—The ladies of the Presbyterian Church desire to express their sincere thanks to all who so ably assisted them in making their "Fete" of last week such a grand success and also to the public for their generous contributions and liberal patronage. COMMITTEE.

—There is a penalty of from $10 to $30 for the killing of song birds, and if the Judge isn't quite satisfied with your appearance he can send you "up" for thirty days. So taking all in all its best to leave the birds alone.

—Lawn tennis is looming up in this burg, a court having been erected on the old fair grounds by John and Rob Lentz. The sport is a most delightfully interesting one and it will no doubt soon be a popular game.

—Rev. Salmon, of Bangor, Northampton county, will fill the pulpit in the First Presbyterian church, on Sunday morning and evening. Rev. C. J. Allen being absent. All are cordially invited to be present.

—Lewis Graver, of south Lehighton, plucked a strawberry from his garden the other day that mea sured seven inches in circumferance. Most have been a Democrat, eh, judging from its size.

—The K. G. E. fund for the Johnstown sufferers amounts to $7,067.83. Grand Chief A. C. Lytle has issued another appeal; he has been to the scene three times.

—PHOTOGRAPHS of family groups, cabinets all styles, and old pictures copied and enlarged at Rishel's Gallery, near Lehigh Valley Depot, Lehighton, Pa.

—John Hauk's little donkey, "Jennie," attracts considerable attention on account of its size and comical insinuations.

—Get measured for a fine suit at the One Price Star Clothing Hall, Mauch Chunk. Fit the finest and prices the lowest. o

—An artistically lettered sign has been painted for Clauss & Bro. the tailors, at Trexler & Kreidler's paint rooms.

—FOR SALE CHEAP.—I have on hand three nice Baby Carriages that I will sell at or below cost. J. L. GABEL.

—Railroaders, you can save a good day's wages by buying your watches from D. S. Bock, Lehighton.

—Jakey Kistler, the liveryman has refloored his large stable on North street.

Full line of Ingrain and Brussels carpets at Henry Schwartz, on Bank st.

—The new residence of L. J. Hausman, on Northampton street, is going up.

—David Ebbert hires out the best teams in town for the lowest prices.

—Tilghman Stouts new home on Lehigh street is under roof.

—Friday (to-day) is the longest day in the year.

MAUCH CHUNK GEMS.

A Versatile Scribbler Catches News on the Fly and Records it for Immediate Reading.

—The [illegible] opens an annual [illegible] for the [illegible] plum to freeze [illegible].

—Court opened again on Wednesday for the continuation of business. A number of trifling cases are to be disposed of.

—John D. Bertolette, Leulla McAllister, Nettie Walker, Lizzie Ross, Frank Wilson, Lizzie Pryor and Ethel Hazard, comprise the graduating class of our high school. The members passed a very creditable examination.

—There will be a big Fourth of July celebration here if indications amount to anything, and if we don't lose our guess we think they do. Over $1000 will be shot off in a grand pyrotechnic display which promises to but anything ever seen in the county.

—The Valley railroad put the pee-wee trains to work on Monday between this place and Glen Onoko. Eight trains will be run daily, one to start from Lehighton shortly after one o'clock p. m., and another from Penn Haven Junction. Regular passenger train, No. 21, will only stop on signal at the Glen during the summer.

—The funeral of James McGeady, who was cruelly murdered at Scranton last week, took place from his home on Susquhanna street, Saturday morning at nine o'clock. The cruel manner of his death brought out a large concourse of people. Rev. Father Bunce, of the church of Immaculate Conseption delivered the funeral sermon. Interment took place in East Mauch Chunk.

—After a long and very painful illness Simon Reichard died Saturday at the age of fifty-seven years and some months. Interment took place on Monday afternoon at half past two o'clock, Rev. Stevenson officiating. Deceased was born in Berks county, but for many years was a resident of this county and a much Chunk. In 1851 he was married to Rebecca Romig who preceeded him to the tomb by about one month. Four sons and three daughters survive to mourn the death of a fond parent. Deceased was for many years foreman of the Hazzard wire mill until its removal to Wilkesbarre in 1884. He had insurances on his life in the sum of $4,500; $2000 with the Knights of Honor and $2,500 with the Mutual of New York.

—The Dimmick Memorial Library was dedicated with ceremonies commensurate with the magnificence and importance of the event on Saturday. The exercises were under the management of Carbon Lodge, No. 242, F. & A. M. They were clothed in full dress of conventional black and silk hats and were escorted to the building by Marion Cornet Band. Following the ritualistic ceremonies of the order Hon. Allen Craig, chairman of the trustees of the estate, delivered a neat address pertinent to the occasion. Mauch Chunk owes much to the judicious forethought and generosity of the late Milton Dimmick, who dying on the 31st of December 1884, in the city of Philadelphia, at the early age of thirty-six years, left his fortune for the erection of a free public library in the town of Mauch Chunk, the scene of his birth, childhood and mature years. Mauch Chunk furnished the building site and Milton Dimmick the money on which to erect a magnificent edifice and a lasting monument to his memory as a man open hearted, free, noble and great in the attributes that make men dear to the common people.

Carbon County's Upper End.

—The Jeanesville Cornet Band will run an excursion to Glen Onoko and the Switchback Saturday. Schmauch's Orchestra will furnish the dancing music.

—Sunday afternoon the funeral of Patrick Gillespie, of Buck Mountain, who Thursday night last was drowned while fishing, took place and was largely attended. The funeral services were held in St. Ann's church, Woodside, and the remains interred in St. Ann's cemetery.

—William Lazarus Post, No. 133, G. A. R., held a grand camp fire on the grounds at Hossock Hall, Audenried, Saturday evening last. The attendance was very large and the sum realized quite respectable. The popular Ferry Orchestra of Honey Brook furnished music for dancing which was indulged in by the lads and lasses un a late hour.

—Daniel J. Murphy, nephew of Rev. Father Marron, of Audenried, was on Saturday morning ordained a priest in the Roman Catholic Cathedral at Philadelphia. At 10:30 o'clock Sunday morning the young priest read his first mass in St. Patrick's church, Audenried. The attendance was very large. The singing by the choir was grand. The church and alters were profusely decorated with flowers and looked exquisitely beautiful. The occasion was made one of great importance and interest owing to the young man's popularity.

Base Ball.

—Lehighton will go to Slatington Saturday.

—Macungie will visit this town about the 22nd of next month.

—Owing to the rain last Saturday the Weatherly—Lehighton game was not played. And taken all around we believe its a good thing it was'nt.

—The next game of ball on the home grounds will be Slatington—Lehighton, 29th instant.

—Alfred Bartholomew, of Lehighton, did the fairest umpiring last Saturday this town ever witnessed. He was appreciated by the crowd, too.—Catasauqua Dispatch. "Barney's" derby is off to the editor.

—Children's toys, books and games, at Luckenbach's, Mauch Chunk.

—The daily mail for New Mahonning commences on the 1st of next month.

—The drum corps "did things up" in a lively manner on Wednesday evening.

—No, it has not been removed! We refer to the old rickerty fence enclosing the Park.

—The monthly meeting of the Social and Athletic Club convenes to night (Friday) Be on hand.

—The Lehighton post office is published as paying an annual salary of over one thousand dollars.

—Everything in the line of furniture at Kemerer & Swartz's. Prices always lowest and goods the best.

—During the school term just closed there were enrolled 607 pupils. Upon the opening of the schools next term there will be twelve instead of eleven schools.

—Our veteran friend Jacob Walters, of south Lehighton, was out this week for the first time in about two months. His recovery is pleasing to old acquaintances.

—On our second page to day will be found a striking and instructive illustration of the comparative worth of the various kinds of baking powders now in the market.

PROHIBITION POSTPONED.

Carbon County Emphatically Repudiates the Proposed Amendments to the Constitution.

The last week of the campaign was an active one for the Liquor League and the votaries of Prohibition. From the centre of the county to every available election district the voice of prohibition and anti-prohibition had been heard—temperance tracts and anti-temperance tracts were distributed by the thousands and the work was so earnest, energetic and continued that there were few in the county who would admit to a majority against the proposed amendment of more than 1000, and there were many who put their figures considerably below the above. Last week the ADVOCATE put the majority at from 2000 to 2500 with very neag a full vote cast, and the returns as published below show that we guaged the result of public sentiment correctly. With almost 2500 against the adoption of prohibition in Carbon and more than 150,000 in the state it may be put down as reasonably safe to assume that the Keystone state is not favorable to a restriction of the "inalelnable rights of our people."

In the local option contest of March 13, 1873, Carbon county emphatically repudiated interference with her liberities. Out of the total vote cast at that time, 3287 a majority of 1341 resulted, thus twice within a period of sixteen years the state and county have rejected amendments of a prohibitory character to her constitution. It will take five years before this question can be voted on again according to law, but sincere prohibitionists in this section have already announced a determination to continue knocking away at the issue until that time. They lay the result at the door of trickery and deception and will hereafter appeal to men and not party for the advancement of the cause.

It will not be uninteresting to the political or local observer at this time to note the tablered vote of 1873 in connection with that of last Tuesday, so we append both. A careful perusal will show that there has been no revolution of opinion in proportion to the increased vote since that time.

Children's Day in the First Presbyterian Church.

The Presbyterian church was crowded to its fullest capacity on Sunday morning the occasion being the celebration of Children's Day, an event in the church year always happily anticipated by young and old. For this congregation it was the first celebration of the occasion and to make it a pleasureable success was the consideration of all. The vicinity of the altar was profusely decorated with evergreen and flowers, while suspended from the arch above the pulpit was an anchor, star and cross underneath of which was Children's Day, all weaved from daises and making a pretty appearance. The exercises opened with song and followed up with an interesting programme which was recited with much success. The collection, from all sources, Sunday school, church and envelopes amounted $35.05.

No Peddling Without a License.

The Governor has approved the Hawkers and Peddlers' bill passed at the last session of the Legislature. The bill absolutely prohibits the hawking and peddling of foreign goods, wares and merchandise without license, except that persons residing within the State may sell articles of their own manufacture without license. License to hawk and peddle can only be obtained by citizens of the United States and residents of the country for at least one year, on the certificate of two respectable practicing physicians of the county that the applicant, by reason of infirmity, is unable to procure a livelihood at his trade, if he has any, or by bodily labor. This will virtually abolish the peddling by foreigners, and will thus protect our merchants who pay a license.—Exchange.

Valley Breezes from a Special.

—At the Hokendauqua Presbyterian Parsonage Saturday evening, June 8, by the Rev. Dr. James A. Little, John Howells of Fullerton, Lehigh county was happily married to Miss Katharine Haddock of Fern Dale. Carbon and Luzerne county papers please copy.

—A new, annual prize of one hundred dollars has been offered to and accepted by Lafayette College, Easton. It is from an unknown donor, for the best essay on "The Place of the Bible in the college curriculum." Dr. I. H. M. Knot has crowed himself a very successful President of "Lafayette."

—"Children's Day" will be observed next Sunday, June 23. in the Hokendauqua Presbyterian church edifice which has been undergoing so many attractive improvements. Chief among these is the magnificent organ, which no doubt will add very much to the attractions of that popular and prosperous church.

Children's Day a Success.

As usual the announcement of Children's Day exercises in the Reformed church for last Sunday evening caused a rush for that edifice, and long before the doors were opened an assemblage large enough to fill many churches had gathered and awaited admission. Ten minutes after the doors were opened the large auditorium was crowded to its fullest; from pulpit to door every available seat was occupied, while the accommodating Deacons carried benches and chairs up the aisle and along the sides of the church for the convenience of the people. The vicinity of the altar was made beautiful by floral decorations, placed attractively by the hands of the lady members of the church, who take great interest in the celebration of this day. The evening's exercises opened with excellent music by the choir and continued with recitations, hymns, &c., by the school.

THE FIFTH COMMENCEMENT

Passes off with a Flourish of Success Beyond the Most Sanguine Expectations.

The deep, sincere and abiding interest felt in the welfare of our public schools was eloquently demonstrated on Saturday evening, the occasion of the fifth annual commencement exercises of the Lehighton High School in Wieand's Opera House on the corner of Bank and Iron streets. The commodious auditorium, from stage to door, was occupied to its fullest capacity while the gallery was literally packed with the large audience. Everybody was interested, and many faces wore happy signs of delightful expectancy. Here and there throughout the audience parents and close friends of the graduates could be singled out by a happy, eager, yet half apprehensive look that had possession of them, while a joy that passeth the understanding of man filled their eyes with scintillations of hope, which springing from the heart, the great fountain of love, found eloquent expression in silent, but anxious, prayers and best wishes for success. They were not to be disappointed for their fondest hopes were gloriously realized, even beyond the most sanguine expectations, for the class surpassed itself as a whole in more ways than one, and are unquestionably entitled to the distinguished honor of leading all the classes in the valley. Their essays, orations, &c., contained sound and practical illustrations of merit and were interestingly worthy of attention. Not crude, neither excitingly brilliant, the inceptions, the thoughts and purposes were original with them, and as such worthy of the highest credit both to Prof. Stetler and the pupils who have exhibited rare capacity and attained a commendable end through his wise and sagacious instruction.

At half past eight o'clock to strains of the sweetest music by the popular Lehighton orchestra the graduating class, Sophie Miller, Irene Fenstermacher, Allen Peters, William D. Clauss, Abram Wolfe and Edwin Ohl, followed by the principal, F. J. Stetler, Co. Supt. T. A. Snyder, President Long and Secretary Lentz of the school board, and Revs. Allen, Reber and Dungan, marched down the centre aisle and onto the stage where they occupied seats facing the audience. Every face wore a happy look, even the classes of '90 and '91 who occupied the stage with the graduates. Overhead was suspended the class motto, "We gather to scatter," in letters of gilt and framed with evergreen.

Following a piano solo, "Caprice Martial," by Prof. C. V. Kleintop, Rev. J. Alvin Reber, of the Reformed church, read aloud from the 28th chapter of Job. In the absence of Rev. J. S. Newhart, of the Evangelical church, Rev. G. W. Dungan, of the M. E. Church, delivered a thoughtful invocation, praying the guiding eye of God to watch carefully the actions and deeds of those present that they might not stray into the paths of evil but live and have everlasting life. "The Song of the Brooklet," by members of the High School, under the leadership of H. B. Kennel, concluded amidst a round of applause that only half expressed the appreciation and success of the rendition. The introductory address by Co. Supt. Snyder, while short, was full of pertinent remarks, wise suggestions, practical elucidations and contained a deep and earnest plea for the free public school system, the bulwark of American liberty, the guardian of our rights and the elevation of our people to a full realization of free governmental greatness. Following a well rendered musical selection by the Orchestra, Allen H. Peters made his initial bow and in a graceful, easy manner delivered the class salutatory. It was short, pertinent and to the point and in conclusion was greeted with hearty applause. Members of the class '90, Maud Wheatley, Sallie Gabel, Etta Drissel, Carrie Newhart, Albert Bartholomew, Bert Durling, Charles Bowman and Granville Clauss, composed an excellent double quartette and rendered in a delightful manner "The Old Oaken Bucket." "Nobility of Toil" was the subject of a well prepared and splendidly delivered oration by William D. Clauss. The subject was gracefully handled and the oratorical display promising. He came in for a goodly share of well-earned applause. A solo, "The Sailor's Return," by H. B. Kennel, was a treat to the lovers of good vocal music and evidence of its appreciation was demonstrated by the echoes of applause that followed. Edwin C. Ohl, in a carefully prepared essay on "Time" did not procrastinate, but followed the thread of the subject closely and interestingly to his own credit, the pleasure of the audience and the satisfaction of the principal. Oration, "Self Knowledge," by Abram J. Wolfe, in point was clear and cogent and altogether showed convincing evidence of careful preparation. The event of the evening beyond question, however, was the vocal selection, by the double quartette of the class of '90, entitled "A Natural Spell." Its rendition produced a natural laugh, a continued round of applause and resulted in a well-earned encore. Following this Miss Irene Fenstermacher read in a pleasing and entertaining manner an essay entitled "Turning Points in Life." It was full of thoughtful considerations and unassuming suggestions that could not fail of attention by reason of the modest, maid only and sensible manner of presentation. A musical selection by the orchestra and Co. Supt. Snyder introduced F. Pierce Lentz, Sec'y of the school board, who held the attention of the audience for fifteen minutes in a spicy address. He recalled the "great struggle" for the erection of a school building fifteen years ago or more by the intelligent community here and it is pleasant for us to remember that in the thickest of the fight was the CARBON ADVOCATE. He was followed by Rev. C. J. Allen in one of his usual bright, interesting and attentively listened to addresses which was followed by hearty applause and a musical selection "Blushing Rose," by the orchestra. Rev. G. W. Dungan spoke of the great moral purpose of our public schools and lauded the greatness of the same, concluding in well wishes for the class and audience. The remarks by the principal, F. J. Stettler, were limited to a hearty expression of thanks to all who had contributed to the evening's commencement exercises and the welfare of the schools and expressing the earnest wish that parents will not under-estimate the necessity of a good education for their children. He concluded by congratulating the graduating class and wishing them a pleasant and safe voyage through the future now hid by a curtain impenetratable to human eyes. Another selection by the orchestra, and Miss Sophie R. Miller, the class validictorian, of Saegersville, Lehigh county, a neice of Dr. W. G. M. Seiple, of South street, performed the sad duties of her office by expression of best wishes and good byes at the ending of their public school life. She paid a graceful compliment to the principal and the School directors for their kind attention and earnest endeavers, and concluded in a final farewell to the audience. She was attentively listened to and heartily applauded in conclusion; she is a graceful speaker and has a voice modulated to full expression. The presentation of diplomas was made by President of the School Board, W. Penn Long, following which a pleasant item not on the programme took place, by Co. Supt. Snyder presenting to the principal, on behalf of the class, an elegant arm chair. The gift was accepted with the kindliest of feelings and the heartiest expressions of appreciation. In conclusion the graduating class sang "Thy Slumbers are Lonely," and the High School sang "One More Day," Rev. J. Alvin Reber repeated the benediction and the fifth annual commencement, the most successful in the history of our public schools, closed amidst the kindliest of feelings and the earnest wishes of our people who were fortunate enough to be in attendance. One pleasant consideration in connection with the evening's ceremonies is the fact that the exercises entire were by members of the high school. The success of the affair is to their credit and the congratulation of their principal.

In conclusion Prof. F. J. Stettler has proved himself fully worthy of the great trust which was reposed in him by the people's representatives. He has labored faithfully and assiduously in the cause of education and as a result our schools are to-day in a better condition than ever heretofore, and the Board of Directors have exhibited a degree of commendable enterprise in securing his re-appointment at an increased salary. His appearance at the commencement was the first time in that capacity since his residence here, and his quiet, gentlemanly demeanor pleased the people. They like him in other words for his unassuming characteristics and the most excellent work he does.

Appointed Post Master.

Hon. A. W. Raudenbush has been appointed post master of this city, according to advices received from the Philadelphia Times, vice James Smith removed. We congratulate Mr. Raudenbush in his appointment and acknowledge that no better selection could have been made, but at the same time we, along with hundreds of our Democratic and Republican citizens, regret the "removal" of James P. Smith who has made an official worthy of the very highest compliment.

"There was a frog who lived in a spring,
He caught such a cold that he could not sing."

Poor, unfortunate, Batrachian! In what a sad plight he must have been. And yet his misfortune was one that often befalls singers. Many a once tuneful voice among those who belong to the "genus homo" is utterly spoiled by "cold in the head," or the lungs, or both combined. For the above mentioned "croaker" we are not aware that any remedy was ever devised; but we rejoice to know that all human singers may keep their heads clear and throats in tune by a timely use of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy and Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, both of which are sold by druggists.
