The weather is hot; and oh, dear me! How many sweltering men we see Covered with clothes from heels to chin, That to say the least they should be thin.

Now hearken to me, ye sweltering friends; Something you must do to make amends For that weary air and that look forlorn, Or else you'll rue it sure's you're born.

There's a place in town; quite handy too: Where people who enter looking ever so blue, Come out so smiling, so glad, so "fresh," With the purchase made for sweltering flesh.

So come with your dear ones, friends and all; And call at the store 'neath Opera Ball. They'll show you their goods; and you need'nt buy Unless you're satisfied. Just come and try.

A hat or cap, a coat or vest, At city prices; goods of the best. A boot or shoe for lady or gent, And little tolks; sure they too are meant.

A shirt, a collar, a tie, a cuff. A storm coat too, when the weather is rough. A pair of gloves; a handkerchief nice; A fine pocket-comb, if you think you have ----

And underwear! why come and see If we can't suit—then we'll agree On something else that's just the thing, A silk, or may be a "porpoise" shoe string.

For weather wet, or weather dry; Temperature low or very high; For Suuday, holiday, everyday wear— Just go to Zern's: the goods are there.
