Harvest Home Services, The harvest is now over, the crops are in accordance with a good, old-time custom. Discourses appropriate to the occasion are delivered, the churches are frequently decorated with flowers and eyergreens intertwined with the products of the fields, and the ceremonies, having special reference to the season of the year, are solemn and impressive. This is a fitting recognition of the blessings bestowed by the hand of the great giver, now that another harvest of golden grain has been gathered in to gladden the heart of the husbandman.

"CATCH-PENNY" SOAPS.

A nything that is the best of its kind is sure to be imitated, and the fact that an article is counterfeited, is the best possible evidence of its value. There are scores of imitations of the Ivory Soap, which grocers are persuaded to buy because they pay more profit than the "Ivory" will. On account of this extra profit, the grocer represent them to be "just as good as the 'Ivory';" they ARE NOT, but like all counterfeits, lack the peculiar and remarkable qualities of the genuine. Ask for "Ivory" Soap and insist upon getting it.

The weather is hot; and oh, dear me! How many sweltering men we see Covered with clothes from heels to chin, That to say the least they should be thin.

Now hearken to me, ye sweltering friends; Something you must do to make amends For that weary air and that look forlorn, Or else you'll rue it sure's you're born.

There's a place in town; quite handy too: Where people who enter looking ever so blue, Come out so smiling, so glad, so "fresh," With the purchase made for sweltering flesh.

So come with your dear ones, friends and all; And call at the store 'neath Opera Eall. They'll show you their goods; and you need'nt buy Unless you're satisfied. Just come and try.

A hat or cap, a coat or vest, At city prices; goods of the best. A boot or shoe for lady or gent, And little folks; sure they too are meant.

A shirt, a collar, a tie, a cuff. A storm coat too, when the weather is rough. A pair of gloves; a handkerchief nice;
