"About two years ago, after suffering "About two years ago, after suffering for nearly two years from rheumatic gout, being able to walk only with great discomfort, and having tried various remedies, including mineral waters, without relief, I saw by an advertisement in a Chicago paper that a man had been relieved of this distressing complaint, after long suffering, by taking Ayer's Saraaparilla. I then decided to make a trial of this medicine, and took it regularly for eight months, and am pleased to state that it has effected a complete cure. I have since had no return of the disease."—Mrs. E. Irving Bodge, 116 West 125th at., New York.

ACCIDENTAL FIRES.

They Could Be Reduced to a Minimum ! rdinary Care Was Exercised In calling attention to fires and pointing out some of the causes of these accidents, for most of them are accidental. one cannot help wondering at the care-lessness exhibited in the every day life a large portion of our population. In former days our worthy and useful friend, the chimney sweep, made his regular rounds, and tittle was heard of defective flues and chimneys, as is so often the case at present. If household ers would have their chimneys seen to as promptly and carefully as their ancestors had theirs, vast benefits would ensue. This is of great importance. Equally so is the proper attention to building fires in open grates. All such fireplaces, or rather the flooring around and in front of same, should be protected by iron or other metal covering. The danger of live coals falling from a grate fire is one that should be recognized and understood: I need not refer to the use of kerosene in kindling fires, as the papers teem with accidents from that source. Another fruitful origin is the habit of having natches lying around loose where chil dren can get at and play with them, and he banks of the Rhine, there is a large allowing loose papers or kindlings near

THE CORSIGAN VENDETTA.

The Custom That Hos Often Extinguished Entire Families. Should a Corsican, in revenge for injury done to himself or his relations, or even to his dog or his horse, kill another with knife or coup de fusti, public sympathy sustains him, the hills shelter him, his relations feed him, and justice, in the shape of gendarmes, winks with both eyes unless the murderer be very unular. True, he is termed a "bandit"

But please understand the bandit is no brigand. Should you, defenseless, hap-pen to fall in with him, he will not take atructing an organ where the pipes are your purse, but, on the contrary, offer made of paper pulp. Au English gentleman, Capt. G., who has now lived for some ten or fifteen years in Corsica, on his own property, told me the following story: "It seems that one of the employes of the former proprietor, fancying he had some gridge against the new owner, made himself objectionable by breaking down fences, driving goats and sheep into the gardens.

Is it not worth the small price of 75 cents to recommend the small price of 75 cents to re driving goats and sheep into the gardens and annoying Capt. G. in other ways. Capt. G. happened to mention the fact of the man's enmity, and deplored it as unreasonable both to a Corsican gentleman, a neighboring proprietor, and also to a shepherd with whom he was on friendly terms.
