SATURDAY, JUNE 7, 1890.

Bona Fide Circulation Larger than that of any Weekly Newspaper in the County.

IT IS VARIOUSLY estimated that the result of the present census will give Lehighton a population of 3500 to 4000 an increase over 1880 of more than 1500. Our growth has been slow, but with that steady continuity that marks pre-eminently healthy progress and stability. We are gradually developing into a model little city with all the necessaries for future greatness, and though the movement is slow it is safe and sure and gradation regular. There are still many things necessary, but with enterprise and push they will come in their season. First among the improvements of the past decade has been the introduction of a water supply, next comes the macadamizing of First street and then follow minor items of progress. We have a bright out look ahead, the future is full of promise and with half a chance 1900 should see Lehighton way ahead in the van of progress, a lively, thriving, booming, pushing city of 10,000 people and the ADVOCATE a daily newspaper.

THE OBSERVANCE of Memorial Day in this place, wh'le entirely unostentatious, was conducted in a quiet, solemn and impressive manner, fully indicative of the deep and patriotic promptings of the human heart to pay due homage to the dead who went forth to battle and died fighting for the persevation of a great and glorious nation, or returned broken down in health racked with disease but to answer the final roll call. Each year the number grows less, and fresh mounds on the hillside and in the valley grow more numerous, until finally, the last one shall be called hence to bivouc with the silent marchers on the other side. Monuments sky high chiseled by rarest genius may be erected to proclaim their valor to the generations to come, but the simple act of strewing flowers on their graves has more significance and perfectuates more solemnly in the minds and hearts of the people the sacrifices and heroism of the volunteer soldier who when needed was not found wanting.

HOKENDAUQUA, a town with less than one half the population of Lehighton, was illuminated by electricity last week for the first time. This is a strong argument for our people to consider. Next to water works and good streets comes first-class illumination. We need it, the contemptable coal oil lamp is a fraud on the people.

CANDIDATES for office who publish their announcements in this paper, reach 1300 intelligent voters every week. The ADVOCATE goes into every town, village and township in the county and is read by all classes of people.

NOTES AND OPINIONS

Samuel S. Dreher, of Stroudsburg, President Judge of the Monroe-Carbon district will be re-elected without opposition, as the Republicans will make no nomination. And so it ought to be in every judicial district in the State where the incumbent has worthily performed his judicial duties. Such a record Judge Dreher maintains.—Stroudsburg Jeffersonian (rep')

Where are we drifting? asks the Mahanoy City Record. Every law passed by Congress or the State Legislature obnoxious to parties having money enough to pay expenses, is appealed to the Supreme Court on a question of constitutionality and what the representatives of the people in the halls of legislation have declared law, is by a handful of men declared to be no law at all. Is there no remedy for this uncertain, changeable mode of doing public business?

There is some queer pension business going on at Washington. The Senate has been passing bills giving pensions to the stepmothers of soldiers, and now one is granted to the widow of a man who was drafted, who never reached his regiment, and who is not positively known to have died, though he is reported to have been killed in a quarrel. If Artemus Ward were alive now, he would apply for a pension on account of the cousins he intended to send to the war.—Palladelphia Ledger (Ird Rep.)

SECRET SOCIETY NOTES.

The Department Commander of the Grand Army of the Republic issued an order relative to a post in Lancaster county and another in Crawford county, which violated rules and regulations of the order in adopting resolutions of a politicalnature. The posts referred to, the circular states, have been instructed that their action must be rescinded, so far as it is possible to do so, and all the other posts are again warned against such transgression in the future. "Partisan politics," the Deparment Commander says, "must be kept out of the Grand Army of the Republic."

According to the report of Grand Secretary Nicholson, there was paid the past year by the Odd Fellows of Pennsylvania a total of $489,742 for relief. The increase in amount of relief over the previous year was $19,368.37, Assets of working lodges, $3,224,853,26, showing an increase of $152-382.31. The relief amounted to $1344, 50 per day. During the past twenty-two years the lodges of Pennsylvania have distributed for relief $8,068,286.74 which added to the amount distributed by the encampments, makes a great total of $9,265,903.43.

At the session of the Supreme Castle, K. G. E., held at Pittsburg last week, the following amendments were adopted: A Grand High Priest serving five consecutive terms becomes a Past Grand Chief; Castles can merge the posts of M. of R. and C. of E., the said officer performing both duties and being known as the Master of Records. The minimum age at which candidates can be admitted was fixed at eighteen years. Committees were appointed on jewels for the Military Branch and for a badge of the Order, discountenancing the use of the Maltese cross or the badge of any other Order.

There are in Northampton county 109 license hotels and saloons, 12 wholesale liquor stores, 5 breweries, 6 bottling establishments, and 4 distilleries.

Geo. W. Mack, a resident of Rittersville, has brought suit in this city against Henry Kershner, of Bethlehem, for the recovery of $5,000 damages for alienating the affections of his(Mack's) wife.

John White, of Williamsport, Pa., a leading lumber man, died Tuesday, aged 72 years. He was one of the engineers in the construction of the South Fork Dam at Johnstown.

STATE CLEANINGS.

The Lutheran Ministerum in session at Bethlehem, adjourned to meet next year in Pottstown.

The five Lutheran churches of the Bethlehems have an aggregate membership of 1400 people.

In 1875 ice was half an inch thick in May, frost and ice were common in June, and also in July and August.

Ground has been broken at Stroudsburg for a new Presbyterian church that will cost $13,000, $5,000 of which have been raised.

A fire in East Oakland, Tuesday, a suburban of Ashland, rendered seven families homeless. A seven-year-old son of James Fogarty was burned to death.

Geo. Franiz, a one-legged beggar, died suddenly on Sunday evening while eating supper in a house into which he had been invited at Hazelton. Death was due to paralysis of the heart.

Mrs. Mary Green, of Freemansburg, who is enjoying the ripe old age of four score and nine years, is the possessor of an Easter egg that was presented to her 74 years ago, when she was a blooming maiden.

A Pottstown real estate agent went away from home the other day leaving a sign on his door thus: "Gone to Norristown. Back at6," which some wag altered so as to read, "Gone to Norristown Jail. Back in 6 years."

John Edwards, a porter at the Franklin House, Easton, who had no faith in banks "because cashiers stole and so did presidents," lost all his savings for all that. His trunk was broken open the other day and the $100 it contained cannot be found.

Last Sunday afternoon the wife of George Haus, a South Bethlehem painter and paper hanger, tied a rope to a door knob and proceeded to make arrangements to end her existence by hanging. Before she had fully succeeded she was discovered by one of her children who gave an alarm and the woman was cut down. There is no explanation for Mrs. Haus' conduct except depression of spirits.

A CHINESE FUNERAL.

Imposing Obsequies in Chinatown—Idolatrous Rights in the Streets.

There was in Chinatown today a scene unique and heathenish, and which could only have taken place in San Francisco, which in itself is a distinction or a disgrace, as it may be regarded. It was the funeral rites over the body of Gy Ah Wy, who was shot in Chinatown. It proved beyond question the remarkable influence exercised by the notorious "Little Pete." The funeral was the greatest that has taken place in Chinatown for many years. No one could be found who had seen a more ceremonious affair.

Yet Gy Ah Wy was a most commonplace individual, and the only distinction he could claim was that of being a friend and supporter of the highbinders' agent and diplomat, "Little Pete." A great mandarian, even Consul Bee, could not possibly have secured such a fanfaronade on his exit as did this humble follower of Pete.

The funeral took place from Stockton street, near Washington, the headquarters of the deceased's society. A huge platform was built in the street (without a permit). It was covered with a canopy of white cloth of fine texture. The platform was loaded with all the delicacies to be found in Chinatown. Gy Ah Wy will probably have a post mortem attack of dyspepsia on his arrival in the other world should he sample the dainties that were spread out for him on the platform.

There were whole carcasses of roast pig and goats. There were chickens and ducks' eggs and birds' nests, small fish and large fish, fish brought from China and fish smuggled from Sacramento. There were pies and puddings and a magnificent opium layout for Mr. Wy to smoke or for the appeasing deity to enjoy. There were plenty of victuals and opium for both.

The coffin in which were the remains of the late lamented slave dealer and blackmailer lay in front. It was decorated with gold and silver and cost a fabulous sum, contributed by the highbinders.

On a matting near at hand lay his widow, who howled at the beginning, but who gradually reduced her lamentations to a feeble squeak, uttered at long intervals of exhaustion. By her side lay the child and the dead man's brother. At a short distance away, but without matting, lay the dead man's three slaves, who also sent up hideous cries of grief. A high priest, dressed in raiment like unto Solomon's and glittering with jewels, tortured a musical instrument like the bagpipes, and the second high priest beat cymbals furiously. A crowd of young Chinese women, dressed in white silk, poured out tea over the platform and on the heads of the mourners, while another crowd of women from the houses of ill fame beat time with their hands and tried to weep.

A large gang of men wandered about for blocks around casting forth the papers through the holes of which the Chinese Mephistopheles has to leap before he can catch the spirit of the dead man. Before his satanic majesty could get through all the holes it was confidently believed that the dead man would have been safe in heaven. The ceremonies lasted two hours.

At 1 o'clock the funeral started. There were eighty carriages, containing the leading highbinders, and an immense number of Chinese followed on foot.—San Francisco Report.

Southerners Like New York.

Southerners take to New York more than to any other city north of Mason and Dixon's line. They are at home there whether as visitors or residents. When the close of the war found thousands of southern men penniless, and without any method of earning a living in the devastated south, many of them came to New York.

At every considerable social gathering in New York one is almost sure to find several distinguished ex-Confederates. The southerner in New York retains much of the provincialism and clannishness with which he is created, but in spite of this he is adaptable, more so, probably, than the New Englander. His happy go lucky temper fits in well with the recklessness of the city and his suavity of manner vastly smoothes the rough places of business life. It is noticeable, too, that the southerner seldom falls into the social vice of snobbishness.—Cor. Pittsburg Post.

In Ye Olden Tyme.

We remember the time when a small Spanish silver coin did service all over the United States as a 12½ cent piece, and one-half the size as a 6¼ cent piece, and both were abundant and more popular than the dimes and half dimes. These were the days of small things, fractions of cents being carefully calculated, a method which was aided by the large number of half cents in circulation. Merchants' ledgers showed many entries for 6¼, 12½ and 18¾ cents, and from that up to 87½ cents. It was a common practice for merchants when they were short of half cents for change to give half a row of pins in the place of one. Common cigars sold everywhere four for a cent, and many a time have we seen one, two, or three cigars handed over the counter for fractional change.—Goshen Times.

Resolutions of Condolence.

At a meeting of Washington Camp, No. 122, P. O. S. of A., held in school hall, in the borough of Weissport, Pa., on MAY 12, '90, the following resolutions were adopted:

WHEREAS, It has pleased Almighty God in his infinite wisdom and mercy to remove from our midst by death our worthy and esteemed Brother Henry Fatzinger, be it therefore,

Resolved, That while we bow in humble submission to the divine will of Him who doeth all things well we fully appreciate and deeply deplore the loss of our deceased Brother and extend our sincere and heartfelt sympathy to his bereaved family, parents and relatives.

Resolved, That our loss by his death we hope and trust is his eternal gain, and while we cannot fail to give expression to our sorrow at his untimely death we recognize in his sudden departure that God is no respecter of persons and summons whom and when He pleases.

Resolved, That as a token of our love to the memory of our departed Brother, we drape the charter of our Camp in mourning for the period of thirty days and that this testimonial of our heartfelt sympathy and sorrow be presented to the family of our deceased Brother and be spread on the minutes of the Camp.

WHEREAS, Our Camp has again been invaded by the ruthless hand of death—the Supreme Ruler of the universe in His infinite wisdom having taken from our midst our Brother William Millhime, therefore be it

Resolved, That we tender, in behalf of the Camp, to his bereaved wife and children, in their sore affliction, our heartfelt sympathy, praying that the Heavenly Father will verify his promise of being a father to the fatherless and a God to the widow.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the bereaved wife, one be spread on the minutes, and one be sent to the CARBON ADVOCATE for publication.

PAINLESS CHILDBIRTH, a new book by Dr. John H. Dye, one of New York's most skillful physicians, shows that pain is not necessary in childbirth, but results from causes easily understood and overcome. It clearly proves that any woman may become a mother without suffering any pain whatever. It also tells how to overcome and prevent morning sickness, swelled limbs, and all other evils attending pregnancy. It is reliable and highly endorsed by physicians everywhere as the wife's true private companion. Cut this out. It will save you great pain, and possibly your life. There will be a meeting of the stockholders of THE LEHIGHTON WATER COMPANY in Gabel's Hall, in the Borough of Lehighton, Pa., at Eight o'clock P. M., on SATURDAY, JUNE 21st, 1890, for the purpose of voting on an INCREASE OF INDEBTEDNESS. By order of the Board,

Special Important Notice.

Property holders who have not as yet made water service connections on Bank street should do so at once and save considerable in the cost of the same, from the fact that after the thoroughfare has once been macadamized according to the plans and specifications now with the Borough Council it will necessitate increased work and naturally a considerably INCREASED COST. Every property holder should certainly see the direct importance of this and make the service connection now as it would certainly be objected to after the street is macadamized to have it torn up and re-laid thereby causing unsightly crevices.

May 1st, 1890. BY ORDER OF COUNCIL.

Important Notice.

At a special meeting of the Lehighton Borough Council held on Monday evening, April 28, 1890, the following resolution was unanimously approved:

RESOLVED, That every citizen on Bank street be required to put up a curb at such places where none are now in, from Bank way to Carbon street, including Walp's building; said curb to be put in accordance with time fixed on notice served on each and every property holder.
