

ORIGINAL CHEAP CASH STORE

WE GROW

not by exorbitant profits; not by fattening on the credulity of our patrons, but by selling goods by a schedule of the lowest possible prices. Through prices are often lowered, quality is kept away by standard and reliable brands of goods always being preferred.

Fifteen dozen of the popular "DAYTON" DRESS SHIRTS have just been received. Our sales are steadily increasing which proves that they give entire satisfaction. They are perfect in fit, superior in workmanship and unsurpassed for quality.

A large case of PARABOLS and UNBLEACHED SHIRTS arrived last week direct from the manufacturer. They are of superior make and the materials are our own careful selection.

Do not purchase until you've seen this line. We'll sell you something new for about a third less than what you'll pay for something old elsewhere.

Two cases of PALM LEAF FANS have been opened. Also a large line of FANCY FOLDING FANS.

A choice line of the BEST PERFORMER will always be found here at our prices.

We are also showing something special at 50c and 60c a bottle.

Joseph Connelly, known all over Carbon county as the blind and one-eyed soldier who lost both sight and limb by the explosion of a cannon during a rebellion in this place some years ago, will give his annual excursion over the Switchback on the 21st and 22nd inst.

William Stormer, an old soldier living in the second ward, still carries his right hand in a sling consequent to an accident several weeks ago. He is employed in Neice's planing mill and was engaged at a certain saw when his hand slipped and came in contact with the saw, inflicting a painful injury.

Jacob Ginter who is a familiar figure around town celebrated his seventy-seventh birthday anniversary on Thursday. He is an original Schuylkill county man and one of the oldest Mauch Chunkers now living, and an original grandson of Jacob Ginter who first discovered anthracite coal at Summit Hill almost a century ago.

On Tuesday evening with the ten o'clock Jersey Central passenger train a prepossessing young lady well dressed and evidently between the ages of 20 and 25 years was left at the depot at this place, and on request for a good hotel was directed to the Mansion House, where she engaged a room for the night. On being shown to her apartment told the porter to turn on the gas at full blast as she desired plenty of light, and then asked for a chair to sit in as she desired to depart on the early train going west the following morning.

At the hour requested when the porter knocked on the door he smelled the strong odor of gas and receiving no response informed the proprietor, when the door was forced open and the young girl found dead in bed smothered by gas escaping from a jet which is presumed she blew out sometime during the night. Investigation by the jury unphased by "Smothering Boy" Wednesday morning deduced that she was Martha Welsh an emigrant from Ireland bound to friends at Sandy Run, and that her death was the result of accident. On her person was found a $5 bill and two five cent pieces together with a ticket from New York to Sandy Run. Her clothing was neat and showed evidence of more refinement than usually found with the average run of emigrants. In her effects an Episcopal bible, showing signs of much wear was also found together with several other articles of minor importance, and the address of Mrs. Susan Keny, 921 Front street, Philadelphia.

PEOPLE WHO COME AND GO.

Personal Gossip about People who Visit and go a Visiting.

F. O. Heck, of Allentown, was among the visitors in this town Friday.

E. J. Kenta, of Philadelphia, is back home to spend the warm summer months.

Stephen Hartman, of Schuylkill, Pa., was a guest at the residence of T. D. Claus this week.

Councilmen Koch and Sommel were at Staughton Tuesday looking at that town's macadamized streets.

H. J. Morgan, of the Herk Heater Works, was doing business for the firm in York State this week.

Miss Laura, daughter of M. U. Trexler, will spend the summer months with her aunt at Atlantic City.

A July trip, Ex-sheriff Raudenbush, Jonathan Kistler and F. E. Miller, left Staughton on business Wednesday.

Mrs. I. S. Koch and daughter Mattie, spent several days this week very pleasantly with relatives and friends at Berlinville, Pa.

Two jolly good fellows hailing from Wilkesbarre and spending a few days here this week were John D. Miller and Henry Reudenauer.

Alex Bowman, superintendent of electric light Allentown, with his wife, spent Sunday with Ex-sheriff Raudenbush and family, on north First street.

Two genial young fellows in town Friday shaking hands and making friends with the "boys," were James and Frank Jennings, of Muncie, Pa., brothers of our Hugh Jennings.

M. A. Weiss and family, of Wilkesbarre, were in town over Sunday with friends, prior to leaving for their new home in Allentown, where Mr. Weiss will be connected with a cracker bakery.

Two estimable young ladies of Weiserville, Pa., visiting in town during the past week, were the Misses Knerr, sisters of our young friend T. J. Knerr. They were the guests of Miss Sallis and Emma Claus.

Rev. G. W. Gross was a familiar figure on our streets this week. He was formerly pastor of the Ebenezer Evangelical church here, but is now of Allentown. He is also a leader in the prohibition movement in Pennsylvania.

William Thompson, of Mauch Chunk, was in town on Wednesday. He was on his way home from a visit to his farm in New Mahoning, and reports all kinds of grain to be in a flourishing condition—especially; there being stalks seven and eight feet tall.

Early Monday morning we had a pleasant call from our old friend and former citizen, John Marquart, of Scranton, who was on his way home from Bethlehem, where he was a delegate to the Lutheran Synod. Mr. M. was a charter member of Trinity Lutheran church in this place, and at home is a worker in the good cause.

O'Hara is a pitcher. Yenser is infallible in left field. Chambers being on first base. Lehighton is playing great ball. Mauch Chunk will have no club. Simmons does well behind the bat. Smith don't hit as hard as formerly. Mantz outmaneuvered the natives as usual. The home team goes to Tanqua Saturday.

Nusbaum is covering more ground at short. Buy your grand stand tickets at the box office. Observe Bob Chambers smile when he makes a hit.

The Alerts, of New Jersey, will play ball here on the 14th.

Reichard overdid first in good shape Friday and Saturday.

Jennings' injured finger made a fielder of him in the last two games.

It's great to see Jennings back up the bases as a fielder. He's a player. Jennings is hard pushed by Chambers at the leading "masher" in the club.

On June 21st either the Hardware, of Allentown, or Mt. Carmel will play in our park.

Admiring friends of Hugh Jennings presented him with a beautiful silver mounted mask.

Lehighton has dangled from her bill the scalps of seven victims who monkeyed with the boys saw.

The Cuban giants, of York, Pa., the celebrated club of colored players are expected here on Thursday, 20th.

The Jeausville club, with Zellert as pitcher, will play at Mahoney City Saturday and defeated the club of that place by a score of 21 to 20.

Albright works hard on third, and is looked as a reliable batter—having headed the battery list since the first game this season.

Bartholomew is an umpire without an equal among amateurs. He is a baseball giant in himself—quoting any rule without reference to the "book."

From the gallery corner of the ball park floats the stars and stripes, ditto from the grand stand. They were hoisted to the breeze by J. H. Esch, of the Valley House, and Jesse Roth, two patriotic citizens who have unbounded faith in the possibilities of the home team. From their high position the flags can be seen from any part of town sending forth their challenge of liberty. This reminds us that Lehighton, the hero flag, was never been downed. Long may she fly!

The first game with Jeausville Friday morning gave Lehighton its sixth consecutive victory—the score standing 7 to 4.

Reichard was in the pitchers box for the home team, and in the middle of the game he retired catcher Jennings with a badly hurt middle finger. He was succeeded by Chambers, the infallible first baseman. In the afternoon 1000 people saw the "hottest" contested game of ball on the home park this season. Both clubs drew blanks until the fifth inning when Jeausville scored two runs and Lehighton soon followed suit. The home team played the best ball having had nine men on bases to the visitors three. O'Hara and Simmons were in the points and did excellent work. When rain fell rain stopped the game at the seventh inning the greatest excitement was manifested and every one of the 1000 present moved away sorry that the game could not be fought out to a finish. In the game on Saturday with Muhlenberg College, Allentown, the home team won an easy victory—out generating the visitors in every point—the score being 15 to 9.

Where is the Missing Lady? These disappeared from the house of Horace Hallow at Harveyville Luzerne County, Pa., on the morning of May 7, 1890, Norma Fatherman, aged 14 years, wore dark clothing, poor shoes, was dark haired, and eyes and rather dark complexion. Any information concerning her whereabouts would be thankfully received by her father, Peter H. Fatherman Sagersburg, Monroe County, Pa.

Well to Remember. Keep your eye on your newspaper and see which of the merchants want your custom and are sufficiently courteous to invite you to call. There is a good deal more in advertising than you may think. NEWSBY WEISPORT.

Local Families Strung Together by the "Stroller," Things that will Interest you.

George Enlist is running a severe sprained foot.

Our public schools will re-open for a nine months term on August 25.

Miss Clara Miller, of Bangor, Pa., spent Sunday very pleasantly with her parents here.

We regret to report the genial B. J. Hogen as being on the sick list, suffering with neuralgia.

Hollo Samuel Roger; there is a letter in the post office for you. When you call for it say advertised.

Mrs. M. Weaver, Misses L. Eckert and A. Kresaly of Allentown, spent Sunday with Jacob Strausberger.

Next Sunday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock Rev. Weichter will be installed as pastor of the North Weisport Lutheran church. All are invited to be present.

A business change talked of is that Jacob Strausberger will buy Frank Reed's butcher route, home, shops &c., and that the latter will go into the wholesale cattle trade.

W. H. Strausberger, W. H. Whitehead, H. A. Graver and W. H. Horn left on Monday for Allentown, where they are enrolled as students in the American Business College.

Burglars forced an entrance into Levi Horn's residence on the east side Sunday evening by removing a window glass and raising the window. Before securing Levi's roll, however, they were frightened off.

The school board re-organized on Monday evening with W. F. Hicy as president, J. H. Trapp as secretary and Reuben Musselman as treasurer. The other members are W. L. Kutz, A. J. Guth and John Arner.

Joseph Peters is succeeded by the genial Aaron Snyder as general manager of Nathan Snyder's general store and planing mill, on the east side. Mr. Peters goes to Paryville where he has growing business interests.

A game of ball on Decoration Day between the "Never-weacs," of Mackertown and "Bluffers," of Rascalville, resulted in a score of 13-6, in favor of the "Never-weacs." The game was umpired by Charles Acker.

Services in the Union church on Sunday morning and evening next by the Reformed congregation. The pastor, Rev. J. J. Stauffer, will preach in the evening on the subject of "The Unspeakable Gift." The public is cordially invited to attend these services.

Iron Moulder's Union No. 295 will hold a grand fair and festival in the school hall, on the evenings of July 10, and 12. For the success of the affair a live committee are now at work perfecting arrangements. When the time comes you want to patronize the boys.

An ice cream and strawberry festival will be held in the school hall and campus on Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings under the auspices of the Lady Mammets of the Reformed church. The proceeds are to be devoted to the future use of the congregation.

While Amanda Beer of the east side was engaged weaving timber one day recently his axe leaning in the branch of a tree and glancing off struck him on the right foot inflicting a severe wound from the ankle to the big toe. Dr. Zern dressed the injured pedal appendage and Amanda will soon be U. K.

Progressive Weisport, you cast shame on Lehighton. This week a plank walk and ralling one hundred and fifty feet long was laid from the approach of the new iron bridge east along Bridge street. The borough fathers deserve the heartiest commendation for the wise and enterprising improvement. Now, get to work on the Park.

The Lehigh Coal and Navigation Company put a new floor on the canal bridge this week. They don't seem to care much for the Reformed church. The proceeds are to be devoted to the future use of a new structure. Judge Deiber will have to call 'em in and go at them with the legal whip; Compel them to do what a common poor man would have to do were the property his.

The "Stroller" is pleased this week to chronicle the marriage of our former townsmen Wesley Fatzinger, now of Taylorville, Pa., to Miss Jennie Cooper, an estimable and accomplished young lady, of the same place. Friends here extend best wishes and best congratulatory wishes for a fair share of this life's successes. The young couple spent a few days with Fritz Fatzinger and family this week while on a delightful little wedding tour.

John W. Reed, of Weisport, is the agent for this county for "The Business Guide," a very valuable and interesting book for all business men, in fact no man who is doing business should be without it and especially so as the price places it within the reach of all, viz $1.00. He is also agent for the G. M. Barber's "Book of Laws," a valuable book for everybody to have at $2.00. When Mr. Reed calls, examine samples and order the books.

From the Wilkesbarre Record we learn this concerning the former pastor of St. John's Lutheran Church who rapidly getting acquainted with their new pastor, Prof. Sandt, and are beginning to appreciate him very highly. At their gathering of last Thursday evening they found him possessed of very pleasing social qualities, and as a speaker he is equally satisfactory. Prof. Sandt is a scholarly looking man of delicate features, fair complexion, high forehead, and fine, curling brown hair. His manner in the pulpit is easy and graceful and his delivery is excellent. His words are thoughtful and well considered, giving the hearer something to ponder over after the discourse is ended.
