NOTES AND OPINIONS.

Senator Micheal of Oregon appears to be a man of sense. He sees the necessity for a reform in the way of electing United States Senators, so that they will be nearer to any likely to have more sympathy with the people. He wants them elected by popular vote Mr. Mitchell is right. Like the House of Lords in England, the Senate chamber at Washington is too far removed from the people. An oligarchy of wealth controls it, and its members generally have nothing in common feeling with the masses.

Very wisely speaks the Lansford Record when it says: "Candidates for the county offices should print cards in the newspapers, then yoters would know who is who and what is what. As it is no one can keep track of the various aspirants, and some ce themselves privately certain offices, thinking no one else is in the field. A bona fide candidate will always find it to his advantage to print his card in the papers even though it adds a few ad ditional doilars to his campaign expenses." By an act passed the last session of the Legislature, the old fence taw was repealed. and now any person owning cattle, horses or swine allowed to run in the public road. that break into or enter on any private in closures, is liable for any damage done to the same by any such animal or animals In any case where real estate is in the wife's name, the insurance also must be in ber name.
