President Harrison estimates that the public expenditures for 1892 will be Holiday Goods amount $407,000,000, and the clerks of the Appropriation Committees of House and Senate agree upon $481,000,000. A little difference of a hundred millions or so is of small account with this liberal Administra-

The increase and an endless variety of Nic rate of 1.83 per cent, pe. onnum. This has not equaled the rate of growth of the school population, which has been 2,17 per cent. per annum. The discrepancy of school en rollment and school population is as much due to lack of school accommodations as to the indifference on the part of parents.

Senator Quay has opened his lips to may a few words about the defeat of his Gubernatorial candidate, George W. Deiamater, and the more recent financial failure of that gentleman; "We have no apologies to make. We were defeated, but that is past. We will make the next fight a victory if we pull together. I cannot understand why Mr. Delamater kept the condition of his financial affairs from his friends. Something might have been done to tide matters over, or at least to break the force of the blow. It is an unfortunate thing at this time. The developments as they come out are not improving matters. I have known practically nothing about his financial affairs, and therefore the aubject was as great a surprise to me as to ever; one else. There is no occasion, as far as l know, for the failure to have any bearing upon political affairs. I doubt whether Mr. Delamater knew that there was to be an assignment, although he may have known that the recent disturbances in fluancial circles were affecting his house. He was absent when it took place. I know that Chairman Andrews knew nothing about it, as he came here on other matters. and I believe that my information was the first he had on the subject. What relations others may have had with Mr. Delemater financially, if any, I cannot pay, for the season that I never received any inform ation on the subject."

President Harrison, in his message says the only bar to United States manufacturers successessfully competing with foreign nations in the markets of the world, "is the high prices paid for labor," Mr. Harrison thus intimates that labor is paid to much, and should be cut down.

Since the passage of the anti-lottery law by Congress a number of our business men have stopped giving prizes with tea ; coffee, baking powder, etc. Their customers cannot understand why this is and many think that it is only a scheme on the part of the business men.
