Reep Them of the Streets.

Parents very often wonder what has rulned their boys. They have been in school every day, but the lessons of morality and deportment inculcated there seem to have been wasted on barren ground. The trath is, boys are allowed to be on the streets from the time school closes until late at night. The street is the best place in the world for teaching profligality, vice and crime.

The street is the best place in the world for teaching prodigality, vice and crime. Nearly all the bad language and idla, vicius habits which boys acquire are learned on the streets late at night. Teachers may be able to accomplish a little in counteracting these evil influences. Money is back of its anose, but much of their labor will be accomplished with them by keeping their boys off the streets at night.
