Caravans of the Desert.

As we are constantly hearing of the consports by caravan in Africa, the foling information, lately published in Mobacher, the official journal of Ala concerning the caravans which note the Gourara routs in 1839-90, ia in resting. It says: A regular traffic ex between our nomed tribes of the harn parties of the department of a and the desert populations. Six ayans went to Gouran during the last opaign. The somewhat unimportant avan of Augad and Oulad-en-Nahar cago is taken as a type, because our ravan comprised 24 men and 108 mels. Setting out upon November 18, D, it returned on January 29, 1890 or an absence of about two months a half. The actual point of departis Ain-el-Hadjad, in the circle of serra; to reach the objective point paired 14 marches in 14 days; the gost march was 28 miles, the shortest, about to. The caravan carried woolen fleeces, butter, dried meat, wheat, and beans, the value of which, at the current prices of El Aricha, was estimated at about $160; add to this the value a sum of silver money—about $500—and the total value of the whole, loads and all, will be $860. The return load was composed exclusively of dates: 60 loads of Hamita dates at $19 a load, and 32 of Tinacem dates at $15, which at El Ar icha represents a value of $1,820. The profits were thus $000. Another caravan that of Hamyan, numbered 1,272 person and 5,001 camels. It was two tounds en route, from December 1 to February ! traveling, like the first, about 250 mile The Hamyan carried shoop to Gaurara, wheat, barley, wool, fallow, closes, dried meat, oil, butter, candles, and even soap, it apperts, and chick peas; it brought in exchange dear shin, spices, heans, and dates.
