A BIG EATH. The Carbon County Industrial Society Su-passes Itself and Surprises Everybody. The Seventeenth Annual exhibition The Seventeenth Annual exhibition of the Carbon County Industrial Society opened on their spacious and much improved grounds in this city on Tuesday. All day Monday the energotic secretary, Mr. Elwen E. Bauer, with cierks Whittingham and McDaniel were kept busy entering exhibits which up to Tuesday night numbered in the neighborhood of 2500 separate articles surpassing in variety and exclusiveness. neighborhood of 2500 separate articles surpassing in variety and exclusiveness the exhibits of any previous year in the history of the society. The cold weather and rain on Wednesday prevented attendance at the fair, but the energatic officers continued to enter exhibits and keep in order the muchly over-crowded fair building. Our space is too much limited to enter into more than a brief account of the exhibits, let over-crowded fair building. Our space is too much limited to enter into more than a brief account of the exhibits, let it suffice that the products of agriculture the farmers of the county have responded in a most glorious manner, and their exhibits are par excellent, in the mechanical departments are also many new and excellent things; in fancy brica-brac the ladies of the county have even surpassed themselves, while the showing of live stock was never equal to the present. In the matter of exhibits we desire to causually refer to the clothing display by Jonas Sondheim; the exhibit of queensware by J. J. Hummel; the handsome line of fine furniture by Henry Schwartz; the planos and organs by J. A. Philips; Davis sewing machines by G. W. Nusbaum; machines and organs by James Walp, and others, hardware by the Lehigh Coal & Hardware Co. In conclusion we congratulate the officers and directors of the society on the success of seventeenth annual exhibition.
