But the echoes made by the report had not died out among the hills before another sound aroused them again.

It was the acream of an angry patither from the mountain behind him, and it was instantly answored by another on the right, and yet another far down the valley on the left.

Clyde hospel the dry limbs upon the fire, and the dogs, usually as brave as sions, whined pitcously as they skulked close to his feet.

He waited in breathless anxiety for several minutes, but could hear nothing except the crackling of the fire, which now throw a wide circle of light, and the night wind among the trees.

Soon, following a magnetism which he could not account for, he fixed hie gaze upon a tail tree near the base of the mountain and encountered the glare of two fierce, yellow eyes.
