THREE CHRISTMAS CHIMES. He threw off his dressing gown, hurried into his shoes; overcoat and hat, and followed the boots out of the street door, which had opened at their approach. Down the steps they tripped gayly and turned toward the brilliantly lighted avenue. The still, startly night was bitterly cold, and Lawyer Fint shivered as he intioned his neak. Up the street he hastened, following the wanty boots, which alipped sideways at every other step and jammed their beels into the trodden many, but made their way ranilly, never-Hearken! how the Christmas ellines
