THE GLADSTONE BAG.

I had breakfasted with the colonel at his club, one of those dreary, large as tablishmonts which remind you of an overcrowded cemetery, where the lowners of the land get rich on their dividends. Outside it was rainy, damp and misty, inside the numbers were regarding each other with disdain and calculating what effect the humidity of the phantly salver on the shoulders of my friend, the interpreter, and I passed the smoothers would have on the variable to the constons house at Calnia.
