

NEWS

Ed. Christmas's new home on Coal street will be a very pretty structure and have all the modern conveniences.

The interior of Harry Lawler's tonorial parlor has been modernized by the addition of an excellent water service.

Lehigh Fire Company has re-organized but will not report to Council for service until after we have a hose house.

Erw School has had his cozy Fourth street residence nicely re-painted which is a big improvement to its general appearance.

Squire F. Lutz has improved and beautified his handsome property on Third street by remodeling his spacious lawn.

It is said that the graduating class of our public school is very ahead of all previous classes. This speaks well for Prof. Shope.

Soon a pavilion will extend all along both sides of Lehighway. This is very creditable to the property owners on that thoroughfare.

Frank Eshenhour will greatly improve the surroundings of his Fourth street property.

Some Fourth street property owners are desirous of laying payments along their property. Unfortunately the street has not yet been graded, but no doubt, this will very soon be remedied by our excellent board of commissioners.

There is much talk of building gates at the Valley railroad crossing at the foot of what is generally spoken of as Spitzer's hill. Only the other day our Mayor Third street butcher John Veilhouse came near being caught on the tracks at that point.

There is much talk of building gates at the foot of what is generally spoken of as Spitzer's hill. Only the other day our Mayor Third street butcher John Veilhouse came near being caught on the tracks at that point.

A man who kicks against improvements should go out into the cemetery and hate himself to death.

The Chicago Bell Company's new building is almost ready for occupancy. It is a large structure with all modern improvements.

We might casually remark that the County Commissioners should have the Lehigh bridge at this point re-painted. It needs it very badly.

They have been packing away many tons of oak bark at Kuntz's tannery in the south end during the last week or two.

It is very creditable to our people that no other town in Pennsylvania has better or more well kept cemeteries than are those in this town.

Arlon Cornet Band will parade with Gaudin Buffen Lodge of Odd Fellows on Decoration Day in the demonstration in this city.

Fred E. Miller has been "all broke up" for several weeks. He is just getting over an attack of rheumatism and neuralgia.

Ed C. Dettlerin, of Packerston south-law to our popular townsmen Samuel Graver, will take up a residence in this city next month, occupying the Wm. Rex property on North First street.

Our handling expert, James H. Flinstenstein, has put down a first class pavement in front of his residence on Second street. Correct! Many more should follow suit.

Erve McDaniel, of Pleasant Corner who is doing some tall hustling in the fence business, was in this place Friday and put 120 feet of combination fence along the Rich property on Elm street. Next week he will put 300 feet of the same fencing in position for Daniel Kulp at Bowmanstown.

Messrs. M. O. Kuntz and W. E. Ash have just received through Aaron Snyder a handsome two seated motor car carriage.

Local Base Ball Matters are Beginning to Put on Some Color.

Rothman and O'Hara who formerly played in the old Lehigh club and recently in the Catskills are now with Harrisburg at the old Lehigh club. Both are good players and will no doubt meet with much success.

We have enough young blood here to make a first-class base ball club and the time is ripe for organizing. The Base Ball Association will no doubt give them the use of the Park at nominal rental, and without paid players we might have a very successful season. Suppose it is tried. Somebody make it!

An exchange says: Jennings, formerly with Lehighton, is playing great ball for Louisville. His salary next season will likely touch high-water mark.

Heese, the wonderful pitcher of the Lehigh University nine, is six feet three inches high. He fills the box in such good shape that this year Lehigh is not out classed by any college team.

These players have been signed by Manager Marks, of the Allentown & Bethlehem Base Ball Club. Ely, pitcher and outfielder, Camden, Clarke, catcher, and Loftis, short stop, Camden Condon, outfielder, Chas. J. Lullinger, first base, New York; Ira Davis, second base, and W. Seeb, pitcher, of the Athletics, Philadelphia. Manager Marks is in communication with pitcher named McCullough, of Brooklyn. It is likely that by the end of the week a full team will have been signed.

Anderson the red headed left hander, who pitches for Jeannette's team on the crack Cape May team two years ago, and won almost every game in which he played. Carl Rogers, of the Philadelphia League team, brought him to Philadelphia to have a trial on his team. Last year he was with the Lehigh club. He is a first-class pitcher and our boys will have to put on their batting clothes if they desire to keep in the procession.

Lawford's club is now a go. Over $500 has been subscribed, and all is O. K. The contract for fencing the ground has been given to J. B. Hall, of Lansford, for $200, which does not include the grand stand. The work of grading has been commenced and it is expected to cross late with the Bethlehem club on Decoration Day. G. M. Davis has been made manager and Jesse Reese field captain.

The Weatherly Base Ball club arranged for two games of ball on Decoration Day. In the morning a team from Silver Brook will play there and after dinner that same team will visit the weatherly boys and play the "Stars." Both games are expected to be interesting. In the evening the home club will hold a ball in Cassler's Park. Herald.

Political Scraps. Jonathan C. Fincher, formerly of this county, but now editor of the Summit County Journal, New-Kennel, Colorado, has still a warm side for his native State. He wants a Pennsylvania constitution for President, and holds the name of Robert E. Putnam, and vice-president Alva Adams, of Colorado.

Attention, Soldiers. The Board of Public Examining Surgeons will not meet on Wednesday May 25, to their office at March Street.

1892 MAY. 1892 calendar table with days of the week and dates.

MOON'S PHASES. Quarter 8 11 p.m., Full 15 11 p.m., etc.

RAILROAD NOTES. Short Paragraphs That Will be of Interest to the Railroad Boys.

The ticket sales at the Eastern station of the Lehigh Valley Railroad last week amount to about $12,000, or about $1,200 more than the same month last year.

The following notices from Alex. Mitchell, superintendent of motive power of this division of the Lehigh Valley Railroad system, has been posted in the South end of the station.

The Bethlehem Times claims to be the only newspaper in the Pennsylvania which will have a line in the Lehigh Valley. It will take in the form of a Catalogue, Hokenansqua and Allentown, and reach Bethlehem under the fair ground.

The Bethlehem Times claims to be the only newspaper in the Pennsylvania which will have a line in the Lehigh Valley. It will take in the form of a Catalogue, Hokenansqua and Allentown, and reach Bethlehem under the fair ground.

The report of the Secretary of Internal Affairs on railroads for the past year shows the total mileage of all railroads in Pennsylvania to have been 228,132.574.4, an increase of $18,500, 000.00 over the previous year.

The total number of men employed was 187,654, who were paid $12,517,391.41.

The Reading's book of rules is now in the hands of its employees, who are diligently studying them that they may become familiar with the company's requirements.

Among them is one that says employees who are discharged for the use of intoxicating liquors is not permitted while on duty, and those who get drunk while on duty, and those who get drunk while on duty, and those who get drunk while on duty.

Another is that "rain-soaked watches must be examined by a responsible watchman, who must give a certificate that the watch is reliable. These certificates must be filed before a conductor and engineer will be given a train or engine. New certificates must be filed every six months."

Forged Fred Horcher's Name. Much surprise was created Thursday morning when it was announced that J. C. Reifnyder, a young insurance agent of Allentown, had been arrested on a charge of forgery.

The case is one of the most interesting heard for some time. The allegation is that Reifnyder forged a note in the sum of $100 on Frederick Horcher, of Allentown, and for this offense he is now in the hands of the law.

The details of the crime with which Reifnyder is charged are as follows: In December, 1891, Reifnyder signed the name of F. Horcher, on a check for $100 payable to the order of Daniel Kulp at Bowmanstown.

Mr. Kulp, however, before this time secured the money at the Second National Bank in Allentown. Mr. Horcher, when shown the note, at once declared it a forgery, and consequently a warrant was issued.

The signature was an excellent one and few could tell the difference from the original.

LOCAL SCENARIOS. The Welch Baptist church at Anderson is being improved and beautified.

The holding of our record of No. 5 colliers of the Lehigh & Wilkes-Barre Coal Company at Anderson, Pa., got quite a piece with him before I told him he was mistaken and had better go back after his girl.

George D. Schiffo, real proprietor of the Millport hotel, has purchased the Cherryville Hotel, formerly conducted by P. B. Henry, who has related to Peterville. Mr. Schiffo has remodelled and refurnished the hotel, and on Saturday, May 25, he will formally open the same with a big time generally.

Charles Deavers Successor. Prof. C. A. Hank, of Lehighton, who has been principal of the Tolyhanna schools for the past term, and C. D. Miller of this place, who taught the Philadelphia League team, brought him to Philadelphia to have a trial on his team. Last year he was with the Lehigh club. He is a first-class pitcher and our boys will have to put on their batting clothes if they desire to keep in the procession.

Prof. C. A. Hank, of Lehighton, who has been principal of the Tolyhanna schools for the past term, and C. D. Miller of this place, who taught the Philadelphia League team, brought him to Philadelphia to have a trial on his team. Last year he was with the Lehigh club. He is a first-class pitcher and our boys will have to put on their batting clothes if they desire to keep in the procession.

Charles Deavers Successor. Prof. C. A. Hank, of Lehighton, who has been principal of the Tolyhanna schools for the past term, and C. D. Miller of this place, who taught the Philadelphia League team, brought him to Philadelphia to have a trial on his team. Last year he was with the Lehigh club. He is a first-class pitcher and our boys will have to put on their batting clothes if they desire to keep in the procession.

Charles Deavers Successor. Prof. C. A. Hank, of Lehighton, who has been principal of the Tolyhanna schools for the past term, and C. D. Miller of this place, who taught the Philadelphia League team, brought him to Philadelphia to have a trial on his team. Last year he was with the Lehigh club. He is a first-class pitcher and our boys will have to put on their batting clothes if they desire to keep in the procession.

Charles Deavers Successor. Prof. C. A. Hank, of Lehighton, who has been principal of the Tolyhanna schools for the past term, and C. D. Miller of this place, who taught the Philadelphia League team, brought him to Philadelphia to have a trial on his team. Last year he was with the Lehigh club. He is a first-class pitcher and our boys will have to put on their batting clothes if they desire to keep in the procession.

Charles Deavers Successor. Prof. C. A. Hank, of Lehighton, who has been principal of the Tolyhanna schools for the past term, and C. D. Miller of this place, who taught the Philadelphia League team, brought him to Philadelphia to have a trial on his team. Last year he was with the Lehigh club. He is a first-class pitcher and our boys will have to put on their batting clothes if they desire to keep in the procession.

Charles Deavers Successor. Prof. C. A. Hank, of Lehighton, who has been principal of the Tolyhanna schools for the past term, and C. D. Miller of this place, who taught the Philadelphia League team, brought him to Philadelphia to have a trial on his team. Last year he was with the Lehigh club. He is a first-class pitcher and our boys will have to put on their batting clothes if they desire to keep in the procession.

Charles Deavers Successor. Prof. C. A. Hank, of Lehighton, who has been principal of the Tolyhanna schools for the past term, and C. D. Miller of this place, who taught the Philadelphia League team, brought him to Philadelphia to have a trial on his team. Last year he was with the Lehigh club. He is a first-class pitcher and our boys will have to put on their batting clothes if they desire to keep in the procession.

Charles Deavers Successor. Prof. C. A. Hank, of Lehighton, who has been principal of the Tolyhanna schools for the past term, and C. D. Miller of this place, who taught the Philadelphia League team, brought him to Philadelphia to have a trial on his team. Last year he was with the Lehigh club. He is a first-class pitcher and our boys will have to put on their batting clothes if they desire to keep in the procession.

Charles Deavers Successor. Prof. C. A. Hank, of Lehighton, who has been principal of the Tolyhanna schools for the past term, and C. D. Miller of this place, who taught the Philadelphia League team, brought him to Philadelphia to have a trial on his team. Last year he was with the Lehigh club. He is a first-class pitcher and our boys will have to put on their batting clothes if they desire to keep in the procession.

Charles Deavers Successor. Prof. C. A. Hank, of Lehighton, who has been principal of the Tolyhanna schools for the past term, and C. D. Miller of this place, who taught the Philadelphia League team, brought him to Philadelphia to have a trial on his team. Last year he was with the Lehigh club. He is a first-class pitcher and our boys will have to put on their batting clothes if they desire to keep in the procession.

Charles Deavers Successor. Prof. C. A. Hank, of Lehighton, who has been principal of the Tolyhanna schools for the past term, and C. D. Miller of this place, who taught the Philadelphia League team, brought him to Philadelphia to have a trial on his team. Last year he was with the Lehigh club. He is a first-class pitcher and our boys will have to put on their batting clothes if they desire to keep in the procession.

Charles Deavers Successor. Prof. C. A. Hank, of Lehighton, who has been principal of the Tolyhanna schools for the past term, and C. D. Miller of this place, who taught the Philadelphia League team, brought him to Philadelphia to have a trial on his team. Last year he was with the Lehigh club. He is a first-class pitcher and our boys will have to put on their batting clothes if they desire to keep in the procession.

REMARKABLE TWINS.

TWO WOMEN SO NEAR ALIKE AS TO DECEIVE THEIR HUSBANDS.

Mrs. Coombs and Mrs. Turner, of Springfield, Mass., have had lots of fun to their lives because of their Great Resemblance—Mrs. Coombs' Story.

Similarity in facial appearance has often resulted in mistaken identity with the subjects of this sketch, Mrs. Levi T. Coombs and Mrs. Josiah Turner.

These estimable women are twins; their maiden names were Frances Arris and Florida Antinoria Fox. It will be observed that their initials were the same, the middle name being bestowed in the promise of a peach blossom for each.

The Fox twins were the daughters of Dr. Simon Fox, a Maine physician of good school and of high degree. They were born in Belfast, Me., Nov. 23, 1853. Frances made her debut in this world half an hour before her sister.

At Paris Hill they went to school with the late Hannah Hamlin, late vice president of the United States, who was married to the United States, who was married to the United States, who was married to the United States.

Florida married Josiah Turner, a town doctor, who also lived in the town of Lisbon. Both have been school teachers in their respective localities. The mother died when they were 25 years of age.

It is difficult to distinguish one from the other, and the photographer who took the pictures presented that Florida had just been in the room when, in fact, it was her sister who had been there.

Frances has given birth to six children, all of whom are dead but two—Walter Coombs, of this city, and Simon Coombs, now mail agent on the Maine Central railroad.

Mrs. John Staples, of Charlestown, and Charles E. Turner, of Lawrence, are the only living children of Florida, who had three in all.

The height of the twins is exactly the same, and the photographer who weighed just 100 pounds apiece.

Singularly, when one would fall away in weight the other would do the same. Their aggregate weight at present is 150 pounds.

These duplicate sisters think alike, eat alike and have never adopted different characteristics in their mode of life or mode of thinking. Often one has worn the other's shoes, while years ago their money came from one pocketbook, and it did not matter which one carried it.

"Mistaken identity was almost a daily occurrence with us in our younger days," remarked Frances a few days ago. "I have never been discharged. The use of intoxicating liquors is not permitted while on duty, and those who get drunk while on duty, and those who get drunk while on duty."

"After we were married people addressed me by my sister's name so often that I declared I got puzzled myself, and could not tell whether my name was Turner or Coombs."

"We took our first ride on a railway train at eighteen years of age. We never had seen the cars before. At that time we were living in Lisbon and drove down there in a chaise to Portland. When we alighted at Saco the depot closely resembled the one in Portland, and I stuck to it that it went with us."

"One time in church Judge Chamberlain was sitting in my sister's pew. My seat was just ahead of him. When I came in he mistook me for my sister, and politely asked me to step into the aisle to let him into my sister's seat."

"My husband often mistook my sister for myself. To illustrate how easily he was fooled, I will recall the time when I dropped into my husband's store to pay him a call. Judge Chamberlain sat there, and I knew him well, but my sister entered leisurely my husband said, 'Come in, Mrs. Turner, and be seated.' I kept a straight face as long as I could, but he had introduced me to the judge, when a smile on my face let the cat out of the bag, and then my husband discovered that he had introduced his wife instead of Mrs. Turner."

"When we lived in Minot we studied French under Parson Jones. One day I had a perfect lesson, and my sister did not know a word of French. My husband and the parson mistook me for sister, and I recited the lesson for her and no one was the wiser."

"We used to attend parties in my younger days, and on one occasion, when the fellows came in after the girls, I started off with sister's fellow and got quite a piece with him before I told him he was mistaken and had better go back after his girl."

"I once took Mr. Coombs as sister home from the store. He saw my sister on the other side of the street and thought it was I. Florida had a long talk with her husband, which he mistook for a baby. My husband thought it strange that I was out at that time with my baby, and he called me up to him, and showing her badge, demanded his number."

"Lord, miss," said the man in a condescending voice and commiserating smile, "if I was for tell you it would go out of that pretty head afore you got to the door."

"They be drove on, leaving the girl between conflicting emotions, and so the desire to laugh—Washington Post.

A Strange Pond. Hicks pond, in Palmyra, Me., is a strange body of water. It is only twelve acres in area, but it is more than 100 feet in depth. It has no visible inlet, although a fair sized stream flows from it into Lake Umbagog. The water of the pond is not materially affected by either drought or freshets, and the water is always cold.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Adobe Houses. The adobe houses of Arizona and New Mexico are not built from ignorance, but from a regard to comfort. They are, for that climate, the warmest in winter and the coolest in summer. They can be constructed. The adobe is only mud made of the loamy clay; the bricks are about sixteen inches long by nine or ten wide and eight or ten thick. They are sun-dried, and after the house is begun and the walls are raised to a height of two or three feet they are left for a week in order to dry. The process of building and waiting continuing till the house is constructed.

Lord Palmerston was very little of a lord, in the ignominious and more ignominious manner, than the very noblest of the crown, the nob of the house of commons. George IV. could not endure him. In the controversy with the crown he was a failure. His only success was in his secret service as a minister of the crown to be in the house of commons in a somewhat mistaken manner and swaggle for a general playfulness. But on the whole he was a man of high character and life by the qualities which he showed in his school days, when he earned the description of "the best tempered and most amiable boy at Harrow"—London Standard Review.

What Women's Knowledge Falls. Mrs. Watson's Knowledge Falls. She has always to go to a woman to find out what is the matter with her. She has always to go to a woman to find out what is the matter with her. She has always to go to a woman to find out what is the matter with her.

Cardy's View of Aprons. Cardy in his "Social Horrors" was unable to find a deep philosophy in aprons. "Aprons are Defenses; against injury, cleanliness, to safety, to modesty, among other things, they are the most important article of dress. They are the most important article of dress. They are the most important article of dress."

A New Tree Fertilizer Sold Here. The fertilizer tree grows in West India. It is a lofty tree, with large, entire, smooth leaves and white flowers. It is remarkable for the intensity of its iron bark and the richness with which the inner bark may be separated after immersion in water—layers of phosphoric acid, and a small amount of sulphuric acid, and is said to have been presented to Charles II. a cravat, and called made of it.—Goldwater's Geographical Magazine.

Two Fairies.

"I'm so hungry," the smaller whispered a large, well-dressed man in my ear. No, it wasn't the plea of a street beggar, but was the sad wail of a rich and popular millionaire, who, in the excitement of being engaged in leading one of the fine blue plush sofas at the Fifth Avenue. Weighing about 300 pounds the club man was admirably adapted to that line of business.

"I'm hungry all the time, I dare not eat. I am dieting myself to get rid of some of this fat. Every month of abstemious diet or drink seems to make a pound of adipose tissue. I work with the clubs and balls and eat so little I'm half starved. Yes, sir, correct! You think that's funny, don't you, but it isn't. It may be easy for a man without money or friends or tastes who sleeps in a park, but to me the fat is a terrible terror! But I lost three pounds last week," he added, brightening up a bit, "and hope to get off five this week."

While the unfortunate man was talking and moaning I was not smiling at all. I was thinking of a clever and energetic young man who had returned from Europe, and who that very day had triumphantly returned in my other ear.

"Do you think I'm any thinner than I was a month ago?" he asked, looking at me. "I weigh only 125 pounds today; a month ago I weighed 135. Awful, isn't it?"

"I am afraid that it might be awful, but at the terrible rate of falling off given also couldn't have lost more than three ounces since I saw her last, and this was quite impossible."

"Now you're making fun of me," said she. "It is too serious. I'm getting to be nothing but skin and bones. Every day I eat and drink and sleep and I lose weight. I'm a terrible case. I'm a terrible case. I'm a terrible case."

"I must just waste away two unhappy people and let them talk it over—New York Herald.

The Green Fisherman. It is amusing to a veteran when visiting angling resorts to watch the beautiful way in which the guides locate the greenhead, bluegill, silver perch, and other fish. They are not far from them or from the local stores. There is always some particular fly or spoon without which it is useless to fish. They are not far from them or from the local stores.

The Evidence Was Against Her. Finally, when the end of the trial was reached, the appearance of a half dozen new and glowing testimonies, which would contain the most damning evidence, was announced.

"Mamma," piped the eldest child, "what ails this?" "All right," said the mother, "I'll be right back."

"Well, just let her come in some day without telling nobody, and if she don't get me, I'll be right back."

"Yes, to be sure," piped the other children, "an' let mamma know you're coming, for we're awful tired of 'er."

"While I live I purpose to live," one of our modern world conquerors is credited with having said, and it was a noble saying, which any earnest individual is equal, since God sets our tasks every twenty-four hours and watches with us to its close as well as our release.

"I used to fool my children sometimes and would be able to get to work again in a few days. Shamokin Dispatch.

George D. Schiffo, real proprietor of the Millport hotel, has purchased the Cherryville Hotel, formerly conducted by P. B. Henry, who has related to Peterville. Mr. Schiffo has remodelled and refurnished the hotel, and on Saturday, May 25, he will formally open the same with a big time generally.

Charles Deavers Successor. Prof. C. A. Hank, of Lehighton, who has been principal of the Tolyhanna schools for the past term, and C. D. Miller of this place, who taught the Philadelphia League team, brought him to Philadelphia to have a trial on his team. Last year he was with the Lehigh club. He is a first-class pitcher and our boys will have to put on their batting clothes if they desire to keep in the procession.

Charles Deavers Successor. Prof. C. A. Hank, of Lehighton, who has been principal of the Tolyhanna schools for the past term, and C. D. Miller of this place, who taught the Philadelphia League team, brought him to Philadelphia to have a trial on his team. Last year he was with the Lehigh club. He is a first-class pitcher and our boys will have to put on their batting clothes if they desire to keep in the procession.

Charles Deavers Successor. Prof. C. A. Hank, of Lehighton, who has been principal of the Tolyhanna schools for the past term, and C. D. Miller of this place, who taught the Philadelphia League team, brought him to Philadelphia to have a trial on his team. Last year he was with the Lehigh club. He is a first-class pitcher and our boys will have to put on their batting clothes if they desire to keep in the procession.

Charles Deavers Successor. Prof. C. A. Hank, of Lehighton, who has been principal of the Tolyhanna schools for the past term, and C. D. Miller of this place, who taught the Philadelphia League team, brought him to Philadelphia to have a trial on his team. Last year he was with the Lehigh club. He is a first-class pitcher and our boys will have to put on their batting clothes if they desire to keep in the procession.

Charles Deavers Successor. Prof. C. A. Hank, of Lehighton, who has been principal of the Tolyhanna schools for the past term, and C. D. Miller of this place, who taught the Philadelphia League team, brought him to Philadelphia to have a trial on his team. Last year he was with the Lehigh club. He is a first-class pitcher and our boys will have to put on their batting clothes if they desire to keep in the procession.

Charles Deavers Successor. Prof. C. A. Hank, of Lehighton, who has been principal of the Tolyhanna schools for the past term, and C. D. Miller of this place, who taught the Philadelphia League team, brought him to Philadelphia to have a trial on his team. Last year he was with the Lehigh club. He is a first-class pitcher and our boys will have to put on their batting clothes if they desire to keep in the procession.

Charles Deavers Successor. Prof. C. A. Hank, of Lehighton, who has been principal of the Tolyhanna schools for the past term, and C. D. Miller of this place, who taught the Philadelphia League team, brought him to Philadelphia to have a trial on his team. Last year he was with the Lehigh club. He is a first-class pitcher and our boys will have to put on their batting clothes if they desire to keep in the procession.

Charles Deavers Successor. Prof. C. A. Hank, of Lehighton, who has been principal of the Tolyhanna schools for the past term, and C. D. Miller of this place, who taught the Philadelphia League team, brought him to Philadelphia to have a trial on his team. Last year he was with the Lehigh club. He is a first-class pitcher and our boys will have to put on their batting clothes if they desire to keep in the procession.

Charles Deavers Successor. Prof. C. A. Hank, of Lehighton, who has been principal of the Tolyhanna schools for the past term, and C. D. Miller of this place, who taught the Philadelphia League team, brought him to Philadelphia to have a trial on his team. Last year he was with the Lehigh club. He is a first-class pitcher and our boys will have to put on their batting clothes if they desire to keep in the procession.

Charles Deavers Successor. Prof. C. A. Hank, of Lehighton, who has been principal of the Tolyhanna schools for the past term, and C. D. Miller of this place, who taught the Philadelphia League team, brought him to Philadelphia to have a trial on his team. Last year he was with the Lehigh club. He is a first-class pitcher and our boys will have to put on their batting clothes if they desire to keep in the procession.

Charles Deavers Successor. Prof. C. A. Hank, of Lehighton, who has been principal of the Tolyhanna schools for the past term, and C. D. Miller of this place, who taught the Philadelphia League team, brought him to Philadelphia to have a trial on his team. Last year he was with the Lehigh club. He is a first-class pitcher and our boys will have to put on their batting clothes if they desire to keep in the procession.

Charles Deavers Successor. Prof. C. A. Hank, of Lehighton, who has been principal of the Tolyhanna schools for the past term, and C. D. Miller of this place, who taught the Philadelphia League team, brought him to Philadelphia to have a trial on his team. Last year he was with the Lehigh club. He is a first-class pitcher and our boys will have to put on their batting clothes if they desire to keep in the procession.

Charles Deavers Successor. Prof. C. A. Hank, of Lehighton, who has been principal of the Tolyhanna schools for the past term, and C. D. Miller of this place, who taught the Philadelphia League team, brought him to Philadelphia to have a trial on his team. Last year he was with the Lehigh club. He is a first-class pitcher and our boys will have to put on their batting clothes if they desire to keep in the procession.

Charles Deavers Successor. Prof. C. A. Hank, of Lehighton, who has been principal of the Tolyhanna schools for the past term, and C. D. Miller of this place, who taught the Philadelphia League team, brought him to Philadelphia to have a trial on his team. Last year he was with the Lehigh club. He is a first-class pitcher and our boys will have to put on their batting clothes if they desire to keep in the procession.

Charles Deavers Successor. Prof. C. A. Hank, of Lehighton, who has been principal of the Tolyhanna schools for the past term, and C. D. Miller of this place, who taught the Philadelphia League team, brought him to Philadelphia to have a trial on his team. Last year he was with the Lehigh club. He is a first-class pitcher and our boys will have to put on their batting clothes if they desire to keep in the procession.

Charles Deavers Successor. Prof. C. A. Hank, of Lehighton, who has been principal of the Tolyhanna schools for the past term, and C. D. Miller of this place, who taught the Philadelphia League team, brought him to Philadelphia to have a trial on his team. Last year he was with the Lehigh club. He is a first-class pitcher and our boys will have to put on their batting clothes if they desire to keep in the procession.

Charles Deavers Successor. Prof. C. A. Hank, of Lehighton, who has been principal of the Tolyhanna schools for the past term, and C. D. Miller of this place, who taught the Philadelphia League team, brought him to Philadelphia to have a trial on his team. Last year he was with the Lehigh club. He is a first-class pitcher and our boys will have to put on their batting clothes if they desire to keep in the procession.

Charles Deavers Successor. Prof. C. A. Hank, of Lehighton, who has been principal of the Tolyhanna schools for the past term, and C. D. Miller of this place, who taught the Philadelphia League team, brought him to Philadelphia to have a trial on his team. Last year he was with the Lehigh club. He is a first-class pitcher and our boys will have to put on their batting clothes if they desire to keep in the procession.

Charles Deavers Successor. Prof. C. A. Hank, of Lehighton, who has been principal of the Tolyhanna schools for the past term, and C. D. Miller of this place, who taught the Philadelphia League team, brought him to Philadelphia to have a trial on his team. Last year he was with the Lehigh club. He is a first-class pitcher and our boys will have to put on their batting clothes if they desire to keep in the procession.

BEHOLD THE PRICES!

I will show you a list of prices, to have in mind of business in shape by June 1st, 1892, however, I carry some of the following goods in stock, and what I have not in stock, I can get at short notice.

Spring Tooth Harrows, all leading