Country Reys Make Good Soldiers.

Within a year past the recruiting day has been hung out in many of our New England towns and villages by officers of the regular army detailed for the purence of play and liquor, and it was said by some that he had killed half a dozen men in his lifetime. Yet no one dared to speak those stories openly, for no one dared to bring upon himself the anger

The experiment is said to be working admirably so for as the welfare of the army is conserned, though the officers do not only the measure of means if your would let me have support with you and your daughter. That is a common difference between a man and a waman on such occasions. It seemed to her that now for the first time she really lived.

After Jeanne had said good night. Philip had some clust with her father about her.

and congratulated himself. Everything was very next and clean. The landlord was a capital fellow—a little solumn, perhaps, but still a capital fellow. This was far above the accommodation which he had expected.

Just then a light footfall came up the stairs, and Philip caught a smatch of a French cong. The song stoped short part just before the footfall passed his does. Philip conjectured that this most be the daughter, and that it had been a French maid that Bill had married—hence the and the second to allow the mant, and the population of each year region was do with the many between the same and to o voluntore to place bimode in the schedules.
