MAKING

A Breezy Week of Live Happenings in a Lehigh Community.

A. E. Noll, of Bowmanstown, was the guest of Dr. Kessler at Lehighton.

A band of grapes passed through the Valley.

E. S. Hoppes and wife, of Steelville, spent Sunday in the Valley.

A surprise party in honor of Albert Feinmester was held last Thursday evening.

Mrs. Harriet Arner and her son Joseph were visiting relatives at Lehigh, Pa., during the week.

Dennis Nottelstein is erecting a large cider press which will be run by steam.

The storm which passed through the Valley last Friday night did considerable damage to the fruit crop.

Oliver Betts, of Minneapolis, Minn., was visiting at New Mahoning last week.

Miss Fanny Kress, of Shamokin, is visiting Mrs. E. L. Arner.

Moses Hutz has purchased a tract of land containing about twenty acres, being a part of the estate of the late Solomon Hoppes, deceased.

He will erect a dwelling house on this tract.

A combination reading, historical and arithmetic class, published by the American Book Co., New York, was recently adopted by the school board for use in our schools.

A short time ago Hiram Miller, Uncle Sam's mail-carrier between New Mahoning and Lehighton, met with an accident.

While stopping at the Pleasant Corner post-office the horses turned around too sharply and upset the wagon.

The cause of suspension is attributed to the fact that no new work is to be made there.

Judges Schuyler and Reeder, in the Northampton county court Monday, dismissed the case of J. S. Gummery, of the Lehigh Valley railroad company and others, to restrain the Philadelphia & Reading company from operating the Lehigh Valley road and asking for a receiver for the Reading.

This is the first judicial decision on the "combination" in this State, and is a signal victory for the Reading.

When the Lehigh Valley extension to Buffalo is completed, the Reading system will run trains from Philadelphia and New York to Chicago in 24 hours.

Little Railroad Wrecks.

A freight engine ran into a coal train at Packerstown at 1 o'clock Tuesday morning and caused a wreck.

Engine No. 64 brought the fast freight on the Lehigh Valley.

The freight engine, a quarter of a mile below the stopping place, struck the coal train.

No. 64 was slightly damaged. About a dozen coal cars were knocked off the track.

The fast freight was run by Engineer Beck, of South Easton. The conductor is Louis Patterson, of Philadelphia.

Engine No. 50, drawing train 26, across the passenger siding at Manach Chunk, at midnight Tuesday, collided with engine No. 605, whose pilot was knocked off.

The Swine Settlers.

The twenty-seven drivers who struck for an increase in pay at the No. 4 slope, Allentown, on Friday morning, went back to work on Saturday morning, having received the wages asked for.

The settlement is due to the foreman, Griff Roberts, who told the drivers that he would stand with them that evening and perfect a settlement.

The ten drivers received an increase of 17 cents per day and the other drivers 10 cents per day. Had the drivers gone to Mr. Roberts in the first place, the chances are that there would have been no occasion for a strike.—Hazleton Sentinel.

Beck, of Manach Chunk, three of the members of the Electric Cash System Company, which has its headquarters at Knoxville, are traveling through the state looking for a site to locate a factory for the manufacture of their goods. What the matter with Lehighton and Weisport having this industry?

The relatives and friends of Granville Kiser and wife who live here will be sorry to read this item which we take from the Hazleton Observer. Dr. Kiser, the tailor, has been having a run of misfortune lately. In addition to his wife and children he has lost a son to his death by severe illness, his mother-in-law, 74 years of age, fell from a chair and was fatally injured, fracturing one of her arms and cutting and bruising her head. The old lady was at first supposed to be fatally injured, but the accident did not prove as serious as was feared, and she is now doing so well that she could be expected to strike.—Hazleton Sentinel.

NEWSY WEISSPORT.

Did Charles Dream It All.

There is nothing so much as a thrill of horror through a man as to hear that the final resting place of the dead has been desecrated and the body of some loved one stolen by midnight thieves in the silent city of the dead.

It is a ghoulish business and the thought sends a thrill of alarm for the safety of the dead who sleep the sleep that knows no waking. It was Charles Lawrenson, the old German butcher, who lives in a dwelling adjoining the cemetery, that told this strange story the other morning and made the chills run down his back and down his hearer's back.

He had gone home the night before between ten and eleven o'clock, and while reaching the cemetery gate, standing at the gate a long black horse was harnessed while he was examining the team and wondering what it could be doing in such a place at so late an hour.

Two men carrying a log and several shovels and picks quickly walked out of the cemetery and depositing their mysterious burden in the carriage faculty mounted and rapidly away leaving old Charles standing with his mouth open and his head on a swivel.

He at once informed Owen Klotz, the superintendent of the cemetery, but a close inspection of the graves failed to disclose that they had been in any way tampered with. Charles tells the story in perfect good faith, but there are those who incline to the belief that "he was all a dream with him."

Let us sincerely trust that it was for the relief of those who lie in the cemetery could not rest if the thoughtless possession of them that any of the graves had been robbed of their occupants.

Teachers' Examinations.

The Carbon County teachers' examinations for the 1892-93 session of the State Camp, P. O. S. of A., to be held at the Shamokin on August 23, 24 and 25, expect that at least 3,000 members of the order and 30,000 will take part.

The parade in the latter district. The following prizes will be awarded: $100 to the largest camp in line; $25 to the second largest camp; $50 to the third largest camp; $25 to the fourth largest camp; $25 to the fifth largest camp; $25 to the sixth largest camp; $25 to the seventh largest camp; $25 to the eighth largest camp; $25 to the ninth largest camp; $25 to the tenth largest camp.
