ORGANIZATION.

THE PROBLEM THAT HAS ADITATED WOMEN FOR MANY YEARS.

What Organization Has Dony for Pe Mistake for Women to Begard Mon as Constan-Man Have Halped Them.

The problem of organization is one which has agitated women who work over since the sex has been regarded as a factor in industrial competition, and it is apparent, from the almost duily dis an of the subject, that it is no solution than it was at its incep-

The relative sides of the control versy, whether organization assists in the amelioration of the sox from the evil affects of prejudice, have many cham-pions who argue the question of princio with much wisdom and enthusiacm to a casual observer, or even one who is ntarested in the outcome of the agitatook without taking part in it, the affirmative side of the proposition would seem to be the most logical and popular, and there are many evidences to sub-stantiate this view.

and succeeded; organization has demon-sizated the capabilities of woman more than individual merit could have ever doos; it has rendered women independ-ent of the influences of men in the adent of labor and social difficulties and in the matter of compensation." Taking this view of the matter, which, it may be explained, is advanced by a Wisconsin lady who is much interested in the subject, it would seem that or-ganization has not only done much to promote the advancement of women, but has in addition opened up a broad field for discussion as to the claims of women for recognition in other than an industrial sense. Our correspondent argues that "a woman who, in the face of the strong opposition of men engaged in similar industrial parsuits, succeeds in elevating benself by her own efforts to an equal plane with them, is certain-ly entitled to consideration as a factor in both the social and official spheres of from these conditions is. That women shall combine their own (as yet diso-ganized and incomplete) interests with those of men. Organization under such circumstances will obtain for a woman what she wants. Men are to be made friends, not ensuring. To obtain recog-nition from their admirably organized aritical from their admitrably organized systems of industrial pursuits is as much of a triumph for working women as they will ever secure.
