"THE FAIR NAME AND CHARACTER OF BEN."

Following the custom of small fry newspapers and small fry editors our interesting contemporary recognizing its mistake in supporting the despicable conduct of Ben Kuntz it turns with fury on the CARBON ADVOCATE and in its mad anger struts about with the noise and pomp of a turkey gobbler. All this is so much folly. There is practically no living issue between the Lehighton Press and the CARBON ADVOCATE. We never did and we never will stoop to the methods of gaining a livilihood that characterizes our contemporary's efforts to maintain a fairly decent appearance before the public, but at the same time we pride ourself on our manhood sufficiently to keep us from attacking the moral calibre of a man who if he but continues to follow in his previous paths, will soon enough be but too well known to our people. He knows this and this is what is now troubling him. As we said before there is no living issue between Mr. Watson and Mr. Morthimer or the "Morthimers." and for that matter is there an issue between THE CARBON ADVOCATE and Mr. Ben. J. Kuntz, further perhaps than this, that we will never stoop so low as to compliment a dirty, contemptible piece of work and herald it forth as the doings of a saint when we know it to be the reverse. Mr. Watson has placed Ben Kuntz on a pedestal and three times a day bows in homage to his "supporter" and protector. This blinds him to all else but the "fountain" of his existence. But there are none so blind as those who will not see.

While Mr. Kuntz was serving his first term as Burgess we complimented him time and again on some excellent work that he was doing. From all appearances he made a good, faithful official. Then he was re-nominated and the ADVOCATE editorially said that he should be re-elected and in the same issue Mr. Kuntz himself had published a lengthy communication, WRITTEN BY HIMSELF, and annonymously signed, telling why he should be re-elected. This latter article was paid for at the rate of "five cents per line" the same price as is charged for similar articles by the Mauch Chunk Gazette, Times, Democrat, Weatherly Herald and Lansford Record, and which price is now and will always be charged by the CARBON ADVOCATE for similar articles. Mr. Kuntz was re-elected—he had a large majority—and then followed a severe case of swelled head which has only lately been reduced. During this last term as the highest officer of this town has he played the demagogue pure and simple and the only reason why we will not praise Mr. Kuntz when he only deserves the strongest censure. Fortunately we have been in a position recently to learn this great apostle of purity as we never knew him before. At the election of last spring Mr. Kuntz sold out his party to encompass his own election. He was ready and willing to make deals with anybody. That was the first. After he was burgess he commenced his bull-dozing. Among the famous things was the hose house when he "didn't care a d—n but he wasn't going to be beat," no matter for the people's interests. Then he tried to set down on the fire company; then he wrote petitions for people and hypocritically presented them to Council, he favored the re-election of policeman Ed Raworth when it served his purpose; then he would tell people who had been notified by Council to lay pavements that they didn't need to bother about it that it was all right as it was; he delayed apparently legal action on the First street muddle; he seeming ly acquiesced in the selling of beer at the Fair; he apparently acquiesced in the gambling at the Fair; he acquiesed in the drinking of beer on Sunday. In fact everything went because he was a candidate for the Legislature to which high and honorable office he was defeated by a through, as the Lehighton Press, his own organ, has openly admitted, the efforts of the CARBON ADVOCATE. Now then as a climax "to this open and pure life" of our moral burgess, he sinks still lower in the estimation of all honorable people by playing the part of the squealer, this too, after telling the individual who ran the "pool wheel" at the Fair that it would be all right, that he would see to it, or words in similiar effect. No apology can be made for him, he has sunk almost as low as "Kerrigan," he has positively shown himself to be unscrupulous and totally unprincipalled, and now in face of these indisputable facts we are called on by our contemporary to herald forth "Ben's" great moral and mental purity. Bah, such hypocrisy is despicable. The ADVOCATE wants none of it. What matters it to us whether Mr. Kuntz was instrumental in the establishment of the Press or not. We are actuated solely on principle in our opposition to Mr. Kuntz who is only "squealing" through extreme vindictiveness which is the controlling factor in his make-up. Had Mr. Kuntz made these exposures immediately he would have been complimented and applauded by all people, the ADVOCATE included but now, three month's later, it only plainly demonstrates what we have said, viz, that he is an unprincipled demagogue. The Press attempts a feeble apology for Mr. Kuntz's late "squealing" by saying that the constable was in attendance at court and that there was no council meeting since the fair until the second Tuesday of November, which is extremely silly when it is remembered that the burgess is vested with power to call special meetings whenever he so desires, and that the constable only attended the session of court on the first day. There may be some who will swallow this, but there will be mighty few who will look at it otherwise than the outcome of pure and simple spite The Press should try again, but when it does let it remember that the leading Republicans (not Democrats only) are emphatic in condemning the latest moral action of the burgess. As for us now and in the future, we will continue in the interests of the town, willing at all to give space in our paper for the booming of lively Lehighton, but never to compliment a demagogue no matter whether friend or not.

AFTER FIFTY YEARS.

A Woman's Chance Receipt of Tidings of Her Kin in Kamchatka.

More than half a century ago William Tolman sailed on a whaling ship bound for the northern seas. The ship was disabled and put into Kamchatka for repairs. Mr. Tolman was a master mechanic, and so well pleased were the inhabitants with his work of repairing the disabled ship that the authorities of the place induced him to stay. A few years after he married a Russian girl, by whom he had a daughter and two sons. When the daughter was eleven years old her father sent her to America on a whaler in charge of the captain. The ship put into the port of New London, Conn., and the captain sent word to the girl's relatives in western New York, who came to New London by team and took her to their home. Afterward she, with relatives, came to Michigan.

The girl grew to womanhood, married an Episcopal clergyman named Dunn, and settled down in Lawrence, Kan. For fifty years Mrs. Dunn never heard a word from her parents in faraway Kamchatka. One day about a year ago she chanced to speak to a Russian in the streets of Lawrence, and was surprised when the subject of the czar said he once knew William Tolman, her father, and two brothers. He said that Mr. Tolman was dead, but that the sons were alive, but very poor. One of them, he told her, was a trapper.

The Russian gave Mrs. Dunn their address and she wrote to them, sending them clothing and many useful presents. In due time she got a letter from one brother, the first for over fifty years. The letter was passed around among the relatives. Yesterday W. T. Hess, of this city, got a letter, written in Russian, from one of the Tolman brothers in Kamchatka. Not being a Russian scholar he went out of his store to find some one to translate it. He espied a street fakir, and he asked him if he could read the letter. The fakir looked at it and replied, "Yes, sir; it is Russian and from Kamchatka." He translated the letter for Mr. Hess.

"Here's the funny part of the whole thing," said Mr. Hess. "Mrs. Dunn learned of her relatives through a Russian on the street in Lawrence, Kan., and I had one of her brother's letters translated by a Russian found on the street in Grand Rapids. The William Tolman who sailed on the whaler was my uncle, for whom I was named. Funny how we get news from relatives sometimes," continued Mr. Hess.—Grand Rapids Democrat.

The highest salary drawn by a diplomatist is that of the French ambassador to London, which is $60,000 a year.

The Lady Was Not the Ghost.

An Irish family once had a ghost so troublesome that they sent for detectives. One of these men late at night fell asleep in his chair. The lady of the house chanced to come into the room and could not resist the temptation to groan and rattle her keys. She had never played ghost before; it was a momentary indiscretion. But the police man did not, and could hardly be expected to, believe this. He said it was hardly worth while to bring him from Dublin, and he withdrew in dudgeon. Yet the lady was not really the ghost. He was talking in retirement. Hence doubt has been cast on the ghosts of haunted houses, even among reflecting minds.—London Illustrated News.

PROF. ALEXANDER BOUDROU

DISCOVERER OF

Boudrou's Miraculous Remedies.

Liberal Minded Physicians' Endorse Them

As being the Greatest Discovery of the Age. Positive cures when used in accordance to instructions, in diseases heretofore so-called incurable. Diphtheria, Asthma, bronchitis, catarrh, congestion of the lungs, the result of sunstroke, apoplexy and limbs paralized restored to their natural condition. Spine hip and bone disease cured. Rheumatism Sciatica, neuralgia, Bright's disease of the kidneys, liver complaint, dysentery, and so-called heart disease are entirely cured by pure medicine of my own preparing.

During nine years over 10,000 persons have had these medicines and are living witnesses of their worth. I will not go into practice myself, being over 74 years of age, will sell my medicines only. I have two eminent physicians connected with me to attend to calling at the residences of the sick if required.
