TWELVE SWORDSMEN BLAIN BY ONE MAR BEFORE AN ARMY.

hie Work of One Sward.

To give an idea of what a brave man ma do if he knows feeing theroughly and but keeps rood and cohered in dan ger, we will relate a literarial dust. So granting is this combat that it muld be held a romance had it not been rithered by a whole army. The here is Jern Louis, one of the great masters of the beginning of this century, and the duel happened in Madrid is 1813. He was the master-starms of the Thirty-second regiment of French infantry. The First regiment, composed entirely of Italians, formed part of the same brigade.

Regimental caprit de corps and rival ries of nationality crossed constant quar-rels, when swords were often whipped out or bullets oxclumped. After a small battle had occurred in the streets of
