pepper and brandy, it showed immediate signs of life, and was apparently as active as ever it was, in a minute, although the Professor assured us it had been in a state of torpor for six years.

GRUNBLING AGAINST EDITORS.

It is amusing to hear the contradictory complaints which are sometimes made against a newspaper. A prefers a quarter sheet—B declares he could never get the "hang" of one.

REMARKS OF A. K. CORNYN, ESQ., OF HUNTINGDON COUNTY, On the Bill to Elect the Judges, delivered February 6th and 8th, 1850.

MR. SPEAKER: I would gladly avoid entering upon the discussion of this question, at the present time, if I could at all reconcile it with my convictions of duty...

It will be remembered that "no amendment or amendments shall be submitted to the people oftener than once in five years."

NOTICE.—In the Circuit Court of the United States, in and for the Eastern District of Pennsylvania, in the Third Circuit of April Session, 1850, No. 3.

And now, December 20, 1849, on motion of John W. Ashmead, Esquire, District Attorney of U.S. for the plaintiff, the Court orders and directs, that notice be given by the Marshal, of the issue of the above writ, by publication thereof, once a week, until the return day thereof, in two daily newspapers published in the city of Philadelphia, and in the "Legal Intelligencer," and in one of the newspapers published in Mifflin county, in this State.

WHEREAS, the United States of America, lately, in the Circuit Court of the United States, in and for the Eastern District of Pennsylvania, in the Third Circuit of April Session, A. D. 1843, recovered against William B. Norris, John Norris, and James C. Norris, executors of the last will and Testament of John Norris, deceased, late of your district, as well a certain debt of Twenty Thousand Two Hundred and Three Dollars and Fifty Cents; which to the said United States of America, in the said Court, was in like manner adjudged for their damages which they had sustained, as well by occasion of the detention of that debt as for their costs and charges by them, about their suit in that behalf expended: Whereof the said William B., John and James C., executors as aforesaid, are convict, as appears of record. And whereas, we have received information, that although judgment be rendered as aforesaid, yet execution thereof still remains to be made: Whereupon the said United States of America, have besought us to provide for them a proper remedy in this behalf, and we, being willing that those things which in the said Court are rightly done by due execution, should be demanded, do command you, that by good and lawful men of your district, you make known to the said William B., John and James C., executors as aforesaid; and heirs and devisees of the said John Norris, deceased; and also Trustees under the will of the said John Norris, deceased; Mary B. Patton; Eliza, formerly Eliza Norris, intermarried with William Miller; Harriet, formerly Harriet Norris, intermarried with the Honorable Abraham S. Wilson; Nancy, formerly Nancy Norris, intermarried with Albert G. Chew; Martha G. Norris, Horatio Norris, and Alexander B. Norris, heirs and devisees of the said John Norris, deceased; and Nancy Norris, widow and devisee of the said John Norris, deceased, with notice to the said William Miller, Abraham S. Wilson, and Albert G. Chew, intermarried as aforesaid, that they be and appear before the Judges of the said Court, at a session of the same Court, to be holden at Philadelphia, on the eleventh day of April next, to show, if anything they have or know, to say, why the said United States of America, execution of the judgment aforesaid, ought not to have, if to them it shall seem expedient; and have you then and there the names of those by whom you shall so make known to the persons aforesaid and this writ.

Witness the Honorable Roger B. Taney, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States, at Philadelphia, this thirteenth day of November, A. D. 1849, and in the seventh year of the Independence of the said United States.

HAT & CAP EMPORIUM. N. J. RUDISILL, At his Old Stand in Market street.

HAS just received the Beebe & Costar and latest Philadelphia and New York Spring Fashion of Hats and Caps, and is now prepared to furnish both old and new customers with an article, which will warrant good, and nothing shorter. He has now on hand a large and general assortment of HATS AND CAPS, FOR MEN AND BOYS, which he will dispose of, WHOLESALE or RETAIL, on as fair terms as can be obtained here or elsewhere.

His Omish friends will also find him prepared to suit their tastes. His unrivalled BROAD-BRIMS will receive the same care and attention which he has always bestowed upon them. Don't forget the old stand, where you may depend upon not being disappointed.

A NEW MEDICINE! BROWN'S ESSENCE OF JAMAICA GINGER, A VERY valuable preparation for persons recovering from fever, or other diseases, a few drops imparting to the stomach a glow and vigor equal to a glassful of brandy, or other stimulants, without any of the debilitating effects which are sure to follow the use of liquor of any kind; and it is therefore especially applicable to children and females. To the aged it will prove a great comfort; to the dyspeptic, and to those who are predisposed to gout and rheumatic affections, it gives great relief; and to the inebriate, who wishes to reform, but whose stomach is constantly craving the noxious liquor, it is invaluable—giving tone to the digestive organs, and strength to resist temptation, and is consequently a great agent in the cause of temperance. For sale by J. B. MITCHELL. Lewistown, March 22, 1850.

From The Home Journal. THE FLAG OF OUR UNION.

BY GEORGE P. MORRIS. "A song for our banner?"—the watchword recall Which gave the Republic her station; "United we stand—divided we fall!"—It made and preserved us a nation! The union of lakes—the union of lands—The union of hearts—the union of hands—And the Flag of our Union for ever!

Miscellaneous.

MOST EXTRAORDINARY DISCOVERY. A lie is worse than criminal if it is a poor weak invention. When it proves a ready wit, there is a redeeming feature in it. A Scotchman defined a lie to be "the misrepresentation of a fact will intend to deceive." The definition will hardly apply to the following narrative of an "extraordinary discovery!"

Professor Von Grosseback, of Stockholm, has very lately brought to a state of perfection the art of producing a torpor in the whole system by the application of cold of different degrees of intensity, proceeding from a lesser or a greater, so as to cause the human body to become perfectly torpid without premature injury to any organ or tissue of the frame. In this state they remain one hundred or a thousand years, and again, after a sleep of ages, be awakened to existence as fresh and blooming as they were when they first sunk into this frigid slumber. The attention of the learned Professor was first led to the subject by finding a toad enclosed in a solid fragment of calcareous rock, ten feet in diameter, which, when taken out, showed unequivocal signs of life; but it is supposed that the concussion caused by blasting the rock occasioned its death in a few hours after. The opinion of Baron Gruithuisen, who is at present a geologist to the King of Sweden, was, that it must have been in that situation for at least seven thousand years—and his calculations were drawn from the different layers of strata by which it was surrounded. From this hint the Professor proceeded to make experiments, and after a painful and laborious course for the last twenty years of his life, he at last succeeded in perfecting the great discovery. Not less than sixty thousand reptiles, shellfish, &c., were experimented on before he tried a human subject. The process is not laid entirely before the public as yet, but I had the honor, in company with a friend, of visiting the Professor. I shall give a slight description of one of the outer rooms containing some of his preparations. Previous to entering we were furnished with an India rubber bag, to which was attached a mask with glass eyes. This was put on to prevent the temperature of the room from being raised in the slightest degree by our breathing. It was a circular room, lighted from the top by the sun's rays, from which the heat was entirely disengaged by its passage through glass, &c., colored by oxide of copper, (a late discovery, and very valuable to the Professor.) The room is shelved all round, and contains nearly one thousand specimens of animals. One was a Swedish pig, from appearance about 19 years of age. She was consigned to the Professor by order of the government, to experiment upon, having been guilty of murdering her child. With the exception of a slight paleness, she appears as if asleep, although she has been in a state of complete torpor two years. He intends to resuscitate her in five years, and convince the world of the soundness of his wonderful discovery. The Professor, to gratify us, took a small snake out of his cabinet into another room, and although he appeared perfectly dead, and rigid as marble, by application of a mixture of Cayenne

LED ASTRAY.—A good story was recently told at a Temperance meeting in New Hampshire. A stranger came up to a Washingtonian with the inquiry: "Can you tell me where I can get anything to drink?" "Oh, yes," said the other, "follow me." The man followed him through two or three streets, till he began to be discouraged. "How much further shall I go?" said he. "Only a few steps further," said the Washingtonian, "there is the pump!" The man turned about and "moved his boots."

A chapel exists in Red Lion Square, London, in which thrice on every Sunday the service of the Church of England is performed, and a sermon preached, by signs, for the deaf and dumb.

"Ah, John, my uncle has been to New York, and your'n haint." "Well, what of that?" said John; "my uncle has been in jail, and your'n haint."

"My dear," said a lady to a little girl, "what is the matter with your mother?" "She's got the rebellious fever, ma'am!" An ancient and somewhat common disorder.

"Jack, your wife is not so pensive as she used to be?" "No, she has left that off and turned expensive."
