Cheap Cabinet Ware room,
Near J. R. McDowell's tavern, Valley st.

CHEAP FURNITURE,
 The subscriber invites those about going to housekeeping and to others that wish to purchase, to call at the above mentioned Ware room and examine his large stock of Well Made and Useful Furniture of all kinds too numerous to mention here. Among his stock they will find an assortment of which are sold for CASH CHEAPER than they have ever been sold in this place. I would draw attention to a patent Elastic Spring Bottom Bedstead, which can be seen in my Ware room at any time. It can be put up and taken down in less time than the old plan, and without a screw-driver, and the great matter is that it forms a surface now without a coil or spring, thus saving the purchaser the cost of these articles.

CANE SEAT CHAIRS,

> COFFINS made to order and funerals attended at the shortest notice. Either Mahogany, Cherry or Walnut can be had at moderate terms.

LINES
 In Memory of ELLEN M. WOODWARD, Miss BENNER, and Miss BUTLER, who were drowned together, January 19th, 1850, near Wilkesbarre, Pennsylvania.
 [INSCRIBED TO THE HONORABLE G. W. WOODWARD.]

'Tis sad to weep and wail
 Beside the severing tie,
 To woo in vain the shadows back,
 That dim the loving eye;
 But sadder far to see the blight
 Of unperished bloom,
 That left no track from day to night—
 From spring-time to the tomb.

This to this gentle trio came
 The angel of the grave—
 Quenched with a look the vital flame,
 And chilled the purple wave;
 And drinking quick the precious breath,
 He left his task abroad,
 To bear the unending wreath of Death,
 And precious gems to God.

This is the balm of bleeding love,
 In life's dear purpose cross'd,
 The shrouded here are winged above—
 The loved, but NOT THE LOST!
 The smile of Heaven had early won
 Each heart from earth away;
 And death was but the sudden dawn
 Of everlasting day.

Thou, Ellen, in thy childhood bright,
 The way but little trod,
 Hast turned from earth's delusive light,
 To yield thy heart to God.
 An opening flower, that caught the hue
 Of Heaven's refulgent dyes,
 And dripping with the morning dew,
 Was gathered to the skies.

'T were sweet to have thee bloom in time,
 But sweeter far to thee
 To pour thy fragrance in the clime
 Of immortality,
 Where blossoms close not to the night,
 Nor dread the storm to come—
 The noon-day heat and evening blithe
 Are far beneath thy home.

This tale o'er many a soul will hang
 In shadows for a day;
 But there are hearts from which the pang
 Will pass no more away—
 Heart that in after years will beat,
 Even as to-night, in pain,
 And hear in dreams the coming feet
 That ne'er shall come again.

God help the mother in her grief,
 The father in his woe!
 The hand alone can give relief
 That measured out the blow.
 They bless on each lonely hearth,
 And glad the spirits riven,
 That loved and severed here on earth
 May meet and love in Heaven!
 CENTRE COUNTY, PA. H. J. M.

Brant, the notorious spoiler of the "German Flat," who had joined the rapacious and blood-thirsty Tories and British, which but a short time ago in Cherry Valley, had given such terrible proofs of their cruelties.

With doleful looks Hollenbach regarded his gallant little band, who gnashed their teeth for rage and vengeance, stood near the place of destruction, and the looks of his men announced to him the inmost thoughts of their hearts.

There was none who would have trembled at an assault on these hordes of murderers.

"Brothers!" exclaimed Hollenbach, "against such cowards, who watch for our absence, and who now rejoice in victory over women and children only, every one of us can stand the ground against eight of them. Let us send these brutes to—[in such a manner that even the d— himself must have respect for the Germans of Wyoming Valley,]" and raising himself from his saddle he waived his sword in the air, and spurred his horse onward.

Thundering hurrahs followed his words, and his men rushed forward, eager for the ensuing combat. At the first volley, more than one hundred of these red-skins, (who formed the advance guard of the enemy,) were wailing in their blood. The enemy were quietly reposing in their camp, but in an instant the whole army was apprised of the assault, and from all sides they rushed upon the gallant little corps. The sun rose, spreading its animating beams upon the exhausted Germans, who in a moment made arrangements to take the stand behind a row of ruins, and to wait for the approach of their enemies.

The first assault of the enemy was repulsed, and many kissed the earth in death, caused by the dense drift of bullets sent forth from behind the entrenchments.

The mockery about this powerful resistance and bravery, which the appearance of the little band so openly demonstrated towards the enemy, soon engaged its whole army in a furious combat, but they were not able to stand their ground against the discharge of the pieces of the little band, which rattling, cleared their ranks. Repulsed repeatedly, and again hurrying into the fight, the enemy could not gain a foot of ground, although their guns began to clear the ranks of their powerful antagonists. During twelve long hours, these German Spartans manfully resisted the superior force of the enemy.

Finally, and with the last glowing of the setting sun, the fate of the day was decided; 300 Germans had fallen in defence of their adopted country, and 50 more lay badly wounded, who would not seek for quarters, and still striving to make a last effort against the enemy, who seeing their determination, had almost been driven to madness on account of their bravery.

What a noble military achievement! What persevering heroism! Had these men been Americans, they would, up to this day, have been remembered by the nation as the "Immortal Wyoming Boys;" but they were only Germans, and their memory, which is as worthy of immortality as that of the Helens of Thermopylae, remains silently recorded in the book of History of two Pennsylvania counties!

We cannot understand how it is that delicate young ladies, too delicate to run up and down stairs in their own houses, are able to dance down the strongest men in a ball room. 'Tis a phenomenon of nature of which no one seems capable of giving an explanation. What young girl ever refused a handsome partner at five o'clock in the morning on the score of being "so tired!"

To THE LADIES.—Kid gloves may be cleaned with milk. Husbands may be subdued by the use of the broomstick. Paint of adhesive quality may be removed from the cheeks by washing in strong ley, and to prevent the skin from becoming rough anoint it afterwards with lamp oil. Monkey jackets, it is said, will not be the fashion this summer.

In sickness there is no hand like a woman's hand—no heart like a woman's heart—no eye so untrusting, no hope so fervent. Woman by a sick man's couch is divinity impersonated.

There is no religion like that of the heart, no charity like that which does not blow its own trumpet.

In Cork, a short time ago, the crier endeavored to disperse the crowd by exclaiming, "All ye blackguards that isn't lawyers, quit the court."

WALTER LILLEY
 RESPECTFULLY announces to his old friends, and as many new ones as can make it convenient to call, that he has just received his

Fall and Winter Stock of Goods,
 which he is prepared to dispose of at as reasonable prices as Mr Johnston Thomas, and he sells about twenty per cent. lower than any store in the East Ward. My stock consists of a general assortment of SEASONABLE GOODS, viz:

DRY GOODS, GROCERIES,
Queensware, Glassware and Hardware,
BOOTS AND SHOES,
TOBACCOES AND SEGARS,
 and Spices of the purest kind.

Together with all the articles usually found in a country store. As we do not feel able to occupy the newspapers with an advertisement of two or three columns, we just say to our friends to call and see us, and if you don't purchase from us we will not grudge it.

Lewistown, Dec. 22, 1849—1f

Spring Fashions Received.
W. G. ZOLLINGER'S
HAT MANUFACTORY.
 Market street, Lewistown, adjoining Kennedy & Porter's Store.

MR. Z. informs the citizens of Mifflin and the adjoining counties, that he has just received the spring fashions, and is now prepared to furnish all in want of new HATS or CAPS with an article, neat, durable and well finished, comprising every style manufactured for this market.

The care and attention he has ever given to the manufacture of the style of Hats preferred by his numerous Omish customers, will be continued; and he feels warranted in giving the assurance that they will not be disappointed.

COUNTRY MERCHANTS
 will find it decidedly to their advantage to give him a call, for his arrangements are now such, as to enable him to furnish any quantity that may be desired on the shortest notice.

Grateful for the encouragement he has thus far received, he will continue to deserve it by continued assiduity to the wants of his friends, and strict attention to his business.

Lewistown, March 29, 1850—1f

HAT & CAP EMPORIUM.
N. J. RUDISILL,
 At his Old Stand in Market street.

HAS just received the Beebe & Costar and latest Philadelphia and New York Spring Fashion of Hats and Caps, and is now prepared to furnish both old and new customers with an article, which he will warrant good, and nothing shorter. He has now on hand a large and general assortment of

HATS AND CAPS,
 FOR MEN AND BOYS,
 which he will dispose of, WHOLESALE or RETAIL, on as fair terms as can be obtained here or elsewhere.

His Omish friends will also find him prepared to suit their tastes. His unrivalled BROAD-BRIMS will receive the same care and attention which he has always bestowed upon them. Don't forget the old stand, where you may depend upon not being disappointed.

N. J. R. feels grateful for the generous patronage he has thus far received, and assures all that he will spare no pains to give the general satisfaction that he has hitherto succeeded in affording all who have dealt with him.

THE GERMAN THERMOPYLE;
 A Sketch of the American Revolution.

Translated from the German for the Pittsburgh Post, by C. F. SANDERS.

There are, we presume, but few of our readers who have not heard of the beautiful Wyoming Valley, that rich and fertile tract of land, situated in the State of Pennsylvania, and which has often been celebrated by poets and writers. This valley was first and chiefly settled by Germans. It contains rich farms, fields and meadows, together with valuable timber land, and was visited with fire and sword, by a party of American Tories, British, and Indians, in the year 1778, at a time when the male population of the settlement, which number amounted to about 350 souls, had joined the army of the great and immortal Washington, at a distance of several days journey, where they expected to encounter the main army of the enemy.

The Colonel of these Wyoming Germans was HOLLENBACH, a justice of the peace. He was an intimate friend of Washington, who knew how to appreciate his distinguished qualities, as well as his rare intelligence; although as to matters regarding religion, their views and opinions differed widely from each other, as it is well known that Washington was a strict believer in the Bible; whereas Hollenbach did adhere to the doctrines of Thos. Paine, who was a philosopher and freethinker.

The heart-rending call in distress, of their parents, wives and children, which they had left at home, soon reached the ears of the Wyoming Volunteers, and in an instant Hollenbach found himself surrounded by his men, who urged him to meet the enemy, whose force consisted of more than 2,000 men.

In vain were the representations of Washington, who, being aware of the superior numerical strength of these barbarous and plundering hordes, had prognosticated to all a sure death.

Terror and agony moved the heart of every one at the thought of the dear ones which they had left behind and unprotected, and clinched their fists in eagerness for combat and vengeance at the gloomy prospects of their ruined happiness; and it was now no longer possible for them to remain with the army.

At the sound of the trumpet, and headed by their Colonel, they began to return homeward in great haste, marching day and night, until they arrived at their settlement, where, instead of meeting again their peaceable abodes, they beheld the smoking ruins of destroyed dwellings, near to which the enemies had comfortably erected their tents, their morning fire blazing triumphantly in the air, intermingled with their huzzas.

They soon recognised the red hordes of

Native and Foreign Herbs and Extracts;
 Surgical Instruments, warranted;
 Sash Tubs, Window Glass, Spices, &c.;
 Russell's Perfumery, &c. &c.

A great variety of ELIGANT FANCY GOODS, His drugs have been purchased from Linn, Smith & Co., 213½ Market street, Philadelphia, one of the most extensive and reputable establishments in that city, and every article is warranted to be pure and of the first quality.

The profits on the sale of drugs are well known to be very great—often exceeding 300 per cent. on the cost—so that the present exorbitant prices can be greatly reduced, and yet a good profit be realized. The adulteration of drugs the most valuable, (Opium, Calomel, Quinine, &c.) is a most dangerous and destructive, but very common, fraud, and cannot be detected without a careful chemical analysis. My stock has been selected with great care, and I will sell drugs warranted free from all impurity, CHEAPER THAN THE ADULTERATED ARTICLE HAS BEEN SOLD.

All prescriptions will be made up after the most approved method, and medical advice given to purchasers WITH UT CARE.

Physicians and druggists in the country or neighboring towns, will be supplied on the most liberal terms. All orders promptly filled, and boxes and packages of drugs, &c., carefully put up and forwarded.

THE PATENT COMPOUND
WASH MIXTURE,
 For Washing Clothes, Painted Surfaces,
 And every article or thing which may require cleansing by washing.

IT is made into a solid SOAP or in LIQUID form. The soap will doubtless supercede every other, and the process of washing now introduced, drive out of use every wash board and machine in the land. No injury is done to clothes, & time, labor, and expense are saved.

The agents for the sale of FAMILY and COUNTY RIGHTS in this State are HENRY FRYSSINGER, DANIEL WISE, MARTIN JOHNS; and in Philadelphia C. D. KNIGHT, 38 North Sixth street.

Those editors who have not yet published my first advertisement will please omit that, and publish this in its place, on the same terms, say three times for one family right. Such as have advertised and not received a right will please inform me.

The public are again cautioned against unauthorized vendors of rights, who live by pirating on others.
