WE'LL HEET AGAIN. We'll meet again! how sweet the word-How soothing in its sound! Like strains of far-off music heard

On some enchanted ground. We'll meet again! thus friendship speaks, When those most dear depart, And in the pleasing prospect seeks A balm for the bleeding heart.

We'll meet again, the lover cries And oh, what thought but this Can e'er assuage the agonies Of the last parting kiss?

We'll meet again, are accents heard Beside the dying bed, When all the soul by grief is stirr'd And bitter tears are shed.

We'll meet again, are words that cheer While bending o'er the tomb; For oh! that hope, so bright and dear, Can pierce its deepest gloom.

We'll meet again! then cease to weep, Whatever may divide; Not time nor death can always keep The loved ores from our side.

For in the mansions of the blest, Secure from care and pain, In Heaven's serene and endless rest We'll surely meet again.

Agricultural.

PLAX, METHOD OF CULTIVATION.

BY WM. NEWCOMB, OF RENSSELAER COUNTY.

From the forthcoming volume of Transactions of the N Y. State Agricultural Society. The importance of this crop to the farmer has just begun to be appreciated, and as it has a few peculiarities in its culture, I shall attempt to give the results of my exinterest for the last sixteen years. I have een extensively engaged in the raising road ad managing of flax; and have drawn the openelowing conclusions : First, the soil best pted to its culture is a rich loam; but p ill succeed well on almost any soil, except sand, provided it be high or hilly and; it will not grow well on low lands, on borders of streams or rivers; it would not probably succeed oftener than once in en years, for causes I shall presently state. The seed being small, it must not be placed deep in the ground. I would recommend the ground to be well ploughed, and thoroughly pulverized by dragging before sowing, and very lightly dragged or bushed in, after sowing. The earlier sown in the spring after the ground is fit to work, the better. One bushel of seed to the acre is the best amount of seed to insure a good Cang of sal and lint; if a less quantity Mar seed be sown, the quantity of seed for would be increased, but the quantity of Ho lint would be lessened, and if a little more lint would be lessened, and if a little more seed be sown, the lint would be increased but the seed would be lessened. On low lands the flax is subject to mildew or rust. which is of two kinds, the red rust, which destroys both seed and lint, and the black rust, which affects the stem of the flax and destroys the lint; this is the great enemy of flax growing; but on elevated or hilly lands it is very seldom attacked with either of these kinds of rust. Flax succeeds the best after corn or notatoes, or such crops as have been culvated the previous year so as to destroy seds. The ground cannot be too rich, it must not be made so by manuring flax grounds with manures filled with seeds of grass and weeds, which would spring up and destroy the crop. Therefore I would not recommend manuring the bushel, by the quantity. flax ground the season it is sown, except with the following stimulants and manures, to wit: to each acre of land apply one bushel of plaster of Paris, one bushel of fine Western salt, one bushel of wood ashes, one bushel of slacked lime, of course varying these manures according to the nature of your soil. If it be a light loam, mixed with gravel or sand, leave out the lime; if it be tenacious soil bordering on clay, or nearly so, be sure and put on the lime. The salt and ashes in the quantity mentioned are not only manures, but a preventive to the operations of the worm, which are often very destructive to flax. Plaster is a strong stimulant, and is invaluable on dry soils, by its attractive principles for moisture. The expense of getting in a crop of flax is about the same as oats. The expense of hand pulling usually is $3 per acre; threshing the seed and cleaning, $1 per acre; w rotting and taking it up, $1 per acre : and dressing at the mills from $2 to $2 50 per hundred pounds of flax. The average quantity of seed raised is eight bushels per acre, and the average quantity of flax, 250 lbs. per acre; although this has frequently been more than doubled both in seed and lint. The average price of seed lint, 9½ ets. per pound.

In 1847, I raised sixteen acres of flax, producing a little over $800 as gross receipts. From my book of that year, I copy the following results of one acre, of about the average of the field. Weight of flax and seed before threshing 2,848 lbs.; weight of flax after it was dew rotted, 2,009 lbs.; weight of lint when dressed. 318 lbs.; quantity of clean seed, 13 bushels and one pint; and 1; bushels of yellow seed.

is $1 25 per bushel, and average-price of 851 85 WATER ROTTING .- There are two methods of rotting flax, one by spreading it thinly and evenly on our meadows, and is gettis enter noticed. It is considered suffiiently rotted when, by rubbing the stem it, and breaking it with the hand, the hurl or int easily separates from the woody portion of the stem. This is the common process, and requires but little judgement to do it properly. The other method is, by immersing it in water.

I have been offered 25 per cent, on the present price of dew rotted flax for water cotted, and it may be asked, what better is E.q. Lewistown.

water rotted flax than dew rotted? In answer I state that many articles manufactured from flax are required by government to be made from water rotted flax or hemp, and that the cloth and twines thus manufactured will withstand in warm climates the mildew or rotting, which dew rotted cloth is subject to. Of course all flax, before being immersed in water, must be well bound in bundles with strong bands; the size is not important, but if very large, it makes very heavy handling while wet. The flax crop I consider less exhausting to land than any other cereal grains. It is true the crops do not succeed well if sown in succession, but all other crops succeed better after flax than any other; and it is my favorite crop to lay down in grass seeds, and I have uniformly had seed take better after this crop than after any other.

WOOLLENS AND FURS.

Many persons suppose that the best way to prevent moths from getting into woolens at the ARCADE, East side of the Diamond. or furs, is occasionally through the summer to hang these articles in the sun and rain. This is a great mistake, as it is by such exposure that the moths are most likely to get into them. On the contrary, in the spring, when the season is over for furs and woolens, they should be well shaken and brushed, and then wrapped tightly in linen, laying among them lumps of camphor; handful of fresh hops; cedar shavings, and above all fat pine wood shavings, all of which are preventatives to moths; the camphor is by far the best for furs. All woolens, &c., should be kept during the summer unopened, in dark dry places, such as drawers or large chests. Cedar presses are preferable to all others for keeping clothes or other woolen articles. Hair trunks rarely fail to introduce moths. The month of June is the best time to put away flannels.

HARRIS, TURNER & HALE'S Compound Syrup of Spigelia or Vegetable Vermifuge. The most effectual, the safest, pleasantest

The precise composition of this syrap and the mode of reparing it, are the result of a series of experiments ntinued for years. Before offering it for sale, it was subjected to the test of experience in the hands of emineatphysicians, in Philadelphia and elsewhere, who have recommended it in the highest terms, and still employ it in their practice. Their power over the above diseases is not excelled-if equalled by any other preparation in the United States as the cures attest, in many cases ofter skilful physicians had These Bitters are worthy the attention of invalids. ing powers in weakness and affections of the digestive or-READ AND BE CONVINCED. CHAS. ROBINSON, Esq., Easton, Md., in a letter to Dr Jackson, January 9, 1850, said-

"A GREAT MEDICINE." "We have uniformly refrained from recommending to the public any of the various Patent Medicines of the day, unless thoroughly convinced of their value. Among those we consider worthy of notice is the German Bitters, invented by Dr. Hoofand, and prepared by Dr. Jackson, in Philadelphia. One instance in particular, in which the superior virtues of this medicine has been tested, has falder our observation. During the last summer, a Bitters, and after using it, was so much relieved of his distressing malady, that he procured another bottle, and is restored entirely to health." READ FURTHER A FEW FACTS FROM "THE WELDON HERALD," published at Weldon.

V. C., January 24, 1850, which said-son of Mr. ABRAHAM GRABILL, of this county, was very seriously afflicted with Liver Complaint, and after trying in vain various remedies, he purchased a bottle of the " PATENT MEDICINES." "It is very seldom that we make any allusion to Patent Medicines, either approving or otherwise. Unfortunately for the country, and for honest and conscientious inven-tors and venders of these medicines, the land is becoming flooded with quack preparations, that are made alone for profit and are fit not even for the dogs. In this state of things it is hard to tell which are, and which are not worth having. If a person gets an indifferent medicine the first time he purchases, he is very apt to condemn the whols of them and buy no more, and inventors must only blame those of their number, (who ignorantly combine plain nedicines together for the purpose of making money.) for he ill success which attends the efforts of the deserving." "We believe Dr. C. M. Jackson's 'Hoofland's German Bitters' to be a most excellent medicine, and one that should be highly popular in these days of Temperance; for they are altogether Vegetable in their composition, without one drop of Alcoholic Spirits in them. This medicine is innocent, but strengthening in its effects, and richy deserving of an unbounded popularity, which, when it becomes known, it will, no doubt, fully enjoy." JUDGE M. M. NOAH said, in his "WEEKLY MESSEN-GER," January 5, 1850. "Dr. Hoofand's German Bitters.—Here is a prepara-tion which the leading presses in the Union appear to be unanimous in recommending, and the reason is obvious. It is made after a prescription furnished by one of the most celebrated physicians of modern times—the late Dr. Christopher Wilhelm Hoofland, professor to the University of Jena, private physician to the king of Prussia, and one of the greatest medical writers Germany has ever produced. He was emphatically the enemy of humbug, and therefore a medicine of which he was the inventor and endorsor may be confidently relied on. He specially recommended it in Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Debility, Vertigo, Acidity of the Stomach, Constipation, and all complaints arising from a disordered condition of the stomach, the liver and the intestines. Nine Philadelphia papers express their conviction of its excellency, and several of the editors speak of its effects from their own individual experience. Under these circumstances, we fee! warranted, not only in calling the attention of our readers to the present proprietor's (Dr. C. M. Jackson's) prepara-tion, but in recommending the article to all afflicted."

MORE EVIDENCE.

The "PHILADELPHIA SATURDAY GAZETTE," the best

mily newspaper published in the United States. The editor says of Dr. Hoofland's German Bitters: "It is seldom that we recommend what are termed Pat-ent Medicines to the confidence and patronage of our readers; and, therefore, when we recommend Dr. Hoof-land's German Bitters, we wish it to be distinctly under-stood that we are not speaking of the nostrums of the day, that are noised about for a brief period and then forgotten after it has done its guilty race of mischief, but of a med-icine long established, universally prized, and which has met the hearty approval of the faculty itself." Evidence upon evidence has been received (like the foregoing) from all sections of the Union, the last three years, and the strongest testimony in its favor, is, that there is more of it used in the practice of the regular Physicians of Philadelphia than all other nostrums combined, a fact that can easily be established, and fully proving that a scientific preparation will meet with their quiet approval when presented even in this form.

That this medicine will cure Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, no one can doubt after using it as directed. It acts specifically upon the stomach and liver; it is preferable to calomel in all bilious diseases—the effect is immediate. They can be administered to FEMALE OF INFANT with safety and reliable benefit, at any time. BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS. This medicine has attained that high character which is necessary for all medicines to attain to induce counterfeiters to put forth a spurious article at the risk of the lives of those who are innocently deceived. Look well to the marks of the genuine. They have the written signature of C. M.

JACKSON upon the wrapper, and the name blown in the bottle, without which they are spurious. For sale Wholesale and Retail at the GER-MAN MEDICINE STORE, No. 120 ARCH STREET, one door below Sixth, (late of 278 Race Street,)
