Agricultural.

HARVEST DRINK .- A beverage composed of cold water and molasses, with the addition of an ounce of ground ginger to every gallon of the mixture, will be found most refreshing and invigorating for harvest hands.

KEEP YOUR CORNFIELDS CLEAN .-- Weeds and grass are regular robbers of the food of the corn, and should be exterminated at once, and your cornfields kept perfectly clean from this period to the time of the corn's full maturity. Stir the surface of your cornfields in time of drought, and by this means the enriching gasses that float in the air, will be absorbed, and the growth of the corn largely promoted.

is nothing that irritates a lover of gardening more than to have plants destroyed by insects after they are up and growing. An effectual* remedy will be found in applying plaister, (gypsum) sufficiently impregnated with spirits of turpentine, to make it smell pretty strongly, freely to the plants when the dew is on them. The plaister is conductive to the growth of the plant, and the odor of the turpentine will entirely rid them of every insect.

Mowing Pastures .- We have before spoken of the necessity of keeping the grass pastures from running up to seed and dying on the ground. As grass grows with more rapidity in the early part of the season than at a later period, it is difficult to keep it properly fed down, without putting on more stock than can be kept on the land after the flash of feed is over, and yet if the grass goes to seed and lies on the ground, the after feed will be less in quantity and of poorer quality. The difficulty may be overcome by mowing the grass at the right time—before it has run to seed, at all events. This may be done on many pastures to good advantage, the hay obtained being of good quality for any kind of stock; and the pastures are left clean, start equally, and afford a growth of fresh after-feed. We have lately met with several farmers who have followed this practice for many years, and they agree with us in regard to its utility .-Albany Cultivator.

Tomatoes Anti Bilious .- The tomato is excellent for bilious affections, and for dyspepsia. When we were publishing the Yankee Farmer, there was an article in that paper on the healthful properties of the tomato, and the same paper contained a seed catalogue, in which was the tomato. A person who had been severely afflicted with the dyspepsia for ten years, so that he could eat but very common dishes of food, procured some tomato seed, of which he had previously no knowledge; and he raised some fruit and used it as food, and he had jellies and other preparations made in the fall, that he might use when the season for fresh tomatoes was over. By this simple remedy he was completely cured, in a few months, of an obstinate disease, that had bid defiance to the best medical skill for ten long years, for so they must have seemed to the unfortunate invalid. Here we also have the important bearing which a single fact gleaned from a useful paper, has upon a man's health, life and interest generally .-N. E. Farmer.

The Bumorist.

A young lady being asked why she did not use the medicated soap, replied, that as to soap, she had got plenty of soft soap from her beau, and that always brought plenty of color into her cheeks.

Joe Pentland says he knows a youth who every time he wishes to get a glance of his sweetheart, has to "hollar fire" right under her window. In the alarm of the moment she plunges her head out of the window, and exclaims "where?" when he poetically slaps himself on the bosom and exclaims "here, my Hangilina."

A pedlar overtook another of his tribe on the road, and thus accosted him: " Hallo, friend what do you carry?"

"Drugs and patent medicines," was the prompt reply.

"Good," said the other, "you may go ahead, I carry grave stones.'

Ерітари.—The following appears on the tombstone of John Lang, who was killed by a falling timber while raising a meeting house:

On the 25th of September, A big stick of timber Fell slam bang,

And killed poor John Lang.

Don't say you will become rich till you have asked your wife. Of all spendthrifts that nature ever invented, a thoughtless that nature ever invented, a thoughtless woman is the most so. We care not how much money a man may make, if his wife does not second his endeavors, he is just as sure of dying poor as if he kept a groas sure of dying poor as if he kept a grocery store and trusted everybody.

An elderly lady, telling her age, remarked that she was born the twenty-second of April. Her husband, who was present, observed, "I always thought you were born on the first of April." "People might well judge so," responded the matron, "in the choice I have made of a husband."

How apt men are to condemn in others what they practice themselves without scruple! Plutarch tells of a wolf, who. peeping into a hut where a company of shepherds were regaling themselves with a joint of mutton, exclaimed, "What a clamor would they have raised, if they had caught me at such a banquet !"

or Vegetable Vermifuge, The most effectual, the safest, pleasantest and most convenient Worm Medicine ever offered to the public. THE SPIGELIA, says a work of highest authority, stands at the head of the list of Anthelmintics or Worm Medicines. It is adapted to a wider range of cases, and to a greater variety of constitutions and states of the constitution, than any other. But prepared as it commonly is, in the form of tea, it can seldom be given to Dr. Christopher Wilhelm Hoofland, professor to the Unichildren in sufficient doses. In Harris, Turner & Hale's Compound Syrup, it is so concentrated that the dose is very small, so combined as to ensure a purgative opera-tion, and so palatable as to be taken, not only with ease, but with positive pleasure. The precise composition of this syrup and the mode of preparing it, are the result of a series of experiments continued for years. Before offering it for sale, it was subjected to the test of experience in the hands of emi-nentphysicians, in Philadelphia and elsewhere, who have commended it in the highest terms, and still employ it in their practice. In addition to this evidence of its mer-its, we offer the following, selected from a number of unlicited testimonials. 1st. A distinguished physician of Virginia, of much experience, writes of it thus:

"I should have written before this, but felt dispose: first to try the efficacy of your Vermifuge. I have used more than half the quantity received, and the experiment has been most successful. Ireally believe that it posses-ses advantiges over any other Vermifuge I have ever used. Independent of the smallness of the dose, and the pleasantness of the syrup (great advantages in dosing children) the advantage of administering it under a variety of circumstances, enhances its value; indeed there is scarcely a condition of the system in which it may not be administered.

2d. A respectable physician of Lebanon county, in this "I have been in the habit of prescribing your Compound Syrup of Spigelia for some time past, and have found it an excellent worm medicine, particularly for children.— Please forward per bearer 2 doz. bottles.—Yours, &c." 3d .- An intelligent merchant of Virginia to whom we had previously sold the syrup, writes:

"Since my return home, I find that your Syrup of Spigelia has come into general use in this neighborhood. We have sold what we had on hand, and it gave such satisfaction that it is now called for evey day. You will please put us up 5 or 6 dozen in a small package, and send to the care of W. Philadelphia, stated, that some time since he had been applied to by a customer for a vial of ————'s Ver-mifuge for his son. Not having the article asked for, he advised a trial of Harris, Turner & Hale's Compound Syrup of Spigelia and gave him a part of a bottle which was all that remained in the store. A day or two after this the gentleman returning to the store, expressed his surprise and delight at the effect of the Syrup, declaring it had expelled 200 worms and entirely relieved his son. The merchant added an expression of his great regret that he had not had on hands a bottle of the Syrup at the time when his own little daughter died, as he confidently believed it would have saved her life.

Y., having sent a bottle of Harris, Turner & Hale's Compound Syrup of Spi-gelia, to a young friend who had tried in vain a great num-ber of worm medicines, writes, that his friend was immediately relieved; the words of the patient were: "It took every worm out my body."

"My wife and myself have received more benefit from your medicine than any other we have ever taken for the Dyspepsia and Liver disease."

"THE TENTH LEGION," published at Woodstock, Va.

"A GREAT MEDICINE." We have uniformly refrained from recommending to the public any of the various Patent Medicines of the day, unless thoroughly convinced of their value. Among those we consider worthy of notice is the German Bitters, invented by Dr. Hoofland, and prepared by Dr. Jackson, in Philadelphia. One instance in particular, in which the superior virtues of this medicine has been tested, has fallen under our observation. During the last summer, a son of Mr. Abraham Grabill, of this county, was very seriously afflicted with Liver Complaint, and after trying in vain various remedies, he purchased a bottle of the Bitters, and after using it, was so much relieved of his distressing malady, that he procured another bottle, and

"PATENT MEDICINES." 'It is very seldom that we make any allusion to Patent Medicines, either approving or otherwise. Unfortunately for the country, and for honest and conscientious inventors and venders of these medicines, the land is becoming flooded with quack preparations, that are made alone for profit and are fit not even for the dogs. In this state of things it is hard to tell which are, and which are not worth having. If a person gets an indifferent medicine the first time he purchases, he is very apt to condemn the whole of them and buy no more, and inventors must only blame those of their number, (who ignorantly combine plain medicines together for the purpose of making money,) for the ill success which attends the efforts of the deserving."
"We believe Dr. C. M. Jackson's 'Hoofland's German Bitters' to be a most excellent medicine, and one that should be highly popular in these days of Temperance; for they are altogether Vegetable in their composition, without one drop of Alcoholic Spirits in them. This med icine is innoceni, but strengthening in its effects, and richly deserving of an unbounded popularity, which, when it becomes known, it will, no doubt, fully enjoy." JUDGE M. M. NOAH said, in his " WEEKLY MESSEN-GER," January 5, 1850.

"Dr. Hoofland's German Bitters.-Here is a preparation which the leading presses in the Union appear to be unanimous in recommending, and the reason is obvious versity of Jena, private physician to the king of Prussia, and one of the greatest medical writers Germany has ever produced. He was emphatically the enemy of humbug, and therefore a medicine of which he was the inventor and endorsor may be confidently relied on. He specially recommended it in Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Debility, Vertigo, Acidity of the Stomach, Constipation, and all complaints arising from a disordered condition of the stomach, the liver and the intestines. Nine Philadelphia papers express their conviction of its excellency, and several of the editors speak of its effects from their own indi vidual experience. Under these circumstances, we feel warranted, not only in calling the attention of our readers to the present proprietor's (Dr. C. M. Jackson's) prepara-tion, but in recommending the article to all afflicted." MORE EVIDENCE.

The "PHILADELPHIA SATURDAY GAZETTE," the best family newspaper published in the United States. The Dr. Hoofland's German Bitters: "It is seldom that we recommend what are termed Pat-ent Medicines to the confidence and patronage of our readers; and, therefore, when we recommend Dr. Hoofland's German Bitters, we wish it to be distinctly under stood that we are not speaking of the nostrums of the day, that are noised about for a brief period and then forgotten after it has done its guilty race of mischief, but of a med-icine long established, universally prized, and which has met the hearly approval of the faculty itself."

(like the foregoing) from all sections of the Union, the last three years, and the strongest testimony in its favor, is, that there is more of it used in the practice of the regular Physi-We cians of Philadelphia than all other nostrums combined, a fact that can easily be established, and fully proving that a scientific preparation will meet with their quiet approval when presented even in this form.
