BY ELIZA COOK. No sable pall, no waving plume-No thousand torch lights to illume No parting glance, no heavy tear, Is seen to fall upon the bier There is not one of kindred clay To watch the coffin on its way; No mortal form, no human breast, Cares where the pauper's bones may rest.

But one deep mourner follows there, Whose grief outlives the funeral prayer: He does not sigh—he does not weep— But will not leave the sodless heap. 'Tis he who was the poor man's mate, And made him more content with fate— The mongrel dog that shared his crust Is all that stands beside his dust.

He bends his listening head as though He thought to hear a voice below He pines to miss that voice so kind, And wonders why he's left behind. The sun goes down, the night is come-He needs no food, he seeks no home; But, stretched upon the dreamless bed, With doleful howl calls back the dead.

The passing gaze may coldly dwell The passing gaze may coldly dwell On all that polished marble tell; For temples built on church-yard earth Are claimed by riches more than worth. But who would mark, with undimmed eyes, The mourning dog that starves and dies Who would not ask-who would not crave Such love and faith to guard his grave?

Agricultural,

From the Germantown Telegraph. IRRIGATION.

Without a due quantity of water, the pabulum of plants, or that which supports vegetable life, cannot be rendered soluble. No matter how prelete may be the soil with the elements of nutrition, if water be absent, or only occasionally and parsimoniously supplied, it will be unproductive and unfertile, whatever course of system of tillage we may adopt. While cold water stultifies and even destroys the crop, by his numerous Omish customers, will be when permitted to remain too long upon the surface or in immediate contact with the roots, yet its effects when judiciously applied, are highly salutary and invigorating. This is often seen in the highly beneficial action of the wash from the highways, and water from other sources, when directed over mowing fields, and other grounds. Tons of excellent hay are annually added to the farmer's produce, in a succession of years, where nothing would grow of consequence without this wash.

Not long since, in the course of a morning's excursion over a friend's estate, I noticed by the side of a traveled road, a long strip of luxuriant grass, extending from the fence, toward the centre of the field, which was somewhat depressed, or of a concave form, superficially considered, and was informed that the superior luxuriance and verdure of the section was attributable to the opening of a viaduct, which conducted the wash of the road over its surface during the thawing of the the fall and spring. The whole field had the appearance of great fertility; but this Copy Books, Blank Books, section was unusually rich. More than double the quantity of produce had been taken from it since it received the first irrigation, and such, no doubt, will be the result for years, or indeed so long as it grass. On this subject, one of the erudite authors over whose pages I delight to learn when time can be afforded, and I am not too much occupied with agrestic affairs, in some very judicious reflections upon this matter, observes :-

"The idea generally is that the increase of production results not so much from the water as from the fructifying materials conveyed along with it-the droppings of cattle, sheep, swine, &c. But if we reflect a moment, we will perceive that the amount of these droppings is by no means equal to the effect produced. The simple cold water running from a spring, flashed over ground in the spring and fall, will have nearly as great effect as water washed from the roads. The washings from the melting snow, or from spring and fall rains, is as good and as strong a stimulant as the earth will at any time require."

This assertion is undoubtedly true where the soil is replete with humus in a state of decomposition, and where water alone is requisite to reduce it to that condition in which it is capable of being appropriated or taken up by the roots of plants; but barren soils require a more fructifying application to endue them with productive powers. HARRIS, TURNER & HALE'S Compound Syrup of Spigelia or Vegetable Vermifuge,

The most effectual, the safest, pleasantest and most convenient Worm Medicine ever offered to the public. HE SPIGELIA, says a work of highest Medicines. It is adapted to a wider range of cases, and to a greater variety of constitutions and states of the constitution, than any other. But prepared as it commonly is, in the form of tea, it can seldom be given to children in sufficient doses. In Harris, Turner & Hale's Compound Syrup, it is so concentrated that the dose is very small, so combined as to ensure a purgative operation, and so palatable as to be taken, not only with ease, tion, and so paratable as to be taken, not only with ease, but with positive pleasure.

The precise composition of this syrup and the mode of preparing it, are the result of a series of experiments continued for years. Before offering it for sale, it was subjected to the test of experience in the hands of eminentphysicians, in Philadelphia and elsewhere, who have recommended it in the highest terms, and still employ it in their practice. In addition to this evidence of its mer-its, we offer the following, selected from a number of unsolicited testimonials.

"I should have written before this, but felt disposed first to try the efficacy of your Vermifuge. I have used more than half the quantity received, and the experiment has been most successful. I really believe that it possesses advantages over any other Vermifuge I have ever used. The merchant added an expression of his great regret that he had not had on hands a bottle of the Syrup at the time when his own little daughter died, as he confidently be-lieved it would have saved her life.

5th-A gentleman of Hudson, N. Y., having sent a bot. tle of Harris, Turner & Hale's Compound Syrup of Spi-gelia, to a young friend who had tried in vain a great number of worm medicines, writes, that his friend was immediately relieved; the words of the patient were: "It took every worm out my body."

"My wife and myself have received more benefit from your medicine than any other we have ever taken for the Dyspepsia and Liver disease." "THE TENTH LEGION," published at Woodstock, Va.

January 10, 1850, said-"A GREAT MEDICINE."

"We have uniformly refrained from recommending to the public any of the various Patent Medicines of the day, unless thoroughly convinced of their value. Among those we consider worthy of notice is the German Bitters, invented by Dr. Hoofland, and prepared by Dr. Jackson, in Philadelphia. One instance in particular, in which the superior virtues of this medicine has been tested, has fallen under our observation. During the last summer, s son of Mr. ABRAHAM GRABILL, of this county, was very seriously afflicted with Liver Complaint, and after trying in vain various remedies, he purchased a bottle of the Bitters, and after using it, was so much relieved of his distressing malady, that he procured another bottle, and is restored entirely to health."

READ FURTHER A FEW FACTS FROM "THE WELDON HERALD," published at Weldon N. C., January 24, 1850, which said-

" PATENT MEDICINES." "It is very seldom that we make any allusion to Patent Medicines, either approving or otherwise. Unfortunately for the country, and for honest and conscientious inventors and venders of these medicines, the land is becoming flooded with quack preparations, that are made alone for profit and are fit not even for the dogs. In this state of things it is hard to tell which are, and which are not worth having. If a person gets an indifferent medicine the first time he purchases, he is very apt to condemn the whole of them and buy no more, and inventors must only blame those of their number, (who ignorantly combine plain medicines together for the purpose of making money,) for the ill success which attends the efforts of the deserving. "We believe Dr. C. M. Jackson's 'Hoofland's Germa Bitters' to be a most excellent medicine, and one that should be highly popular in these days of Temperance; for they are altogether Vegetable in their composition, without one drop of Alcoholic Spirits in them. This med icine is innocent, but strengthening in its effects, and rich-ly deserving of an unbounded popularity, which, when it becomes known, it will, no doubt, fully enjoy." JUDGE M. M. NOAH said, in his " WEEKLY MESSEN-GER," January 5, 1850.

"Dr. Hoofland's German Bitters.—Here is a preparastands at the head of the list of Anthelminics or Worm tion which the leading presses in the Union appear to be Dr. Christopher Wilhelm Hoofland, professor to the Uni versity of Jena, private physician to the king of Prussia, and one of the greatest medical writers Germany has ever produced. He was emphatically the enemy of humbur, and therefore a medicine of which he was the inventor and endorsor may be confidently relied on. He specially recommended it in Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Debility Vertigo, Acidity of the Stomach, Constipation, and all complaints arising from a disordered condition of the stomach, the liver and the intestines. Nine Philadelphia namers express their conviction of its excellency, and sev eral of the editors speak of its effects from their own indi vidual experience. Under these circumstances, we feel warranted, not only in cailing the attention of our readers of control of the state of the state of the state of the present proprietor's (Dr. C. M. MORE EVIDENCE. The "PHILADELPHIA SATURDAY GAZETTS," the best family newspaper published in the United States. The editor says of Dr. Hoofland's German Bitters: "It is seldom that we recommend what are termed Pat-ent Medicines to the confidence and patronage of our readers; and, therefore, when we recommend Dr. Hoof land's German Bitters, we wish it to be distinctly under-stood that we are not speaking of the nostrums of the day, that are noised about for a brief period and then forgotte after it has done its guilty race of mischief, but of a med-icine long established, universally prized, and which has met the hearty approval of the faculty itself."

Evidence upon evidence has been received (like the foregoing) from all sections of the Union, the last three years, and the strongest testimony in its favor, is, that there is more of it used in the practice of the regular Physicians of Philadelphia than all other nostrums combined, a fact that can easily be established, and fully proving that a scientific preparation will meet with their quiet approval when presented even in this form.

That this medicine will cure Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, no one can doubt after using it as directed. It acts specifically upon the stomach and liver; it is preferable to calomel in all bilious diseases—the effect is immediate. They can be administered to FEMALE OF INFANT with safety and reliable benefit, at any time.

BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS. This medicine has attained that high character which is necessary for all medicines to attain to induce counterfeiters to put forth a spurious article at the risk of the lives of those who are innocently deceived.

seems to be in the very last stages of existence, when Brant's Indian Pubmenary Balsam is administered:—

Town of Ballston, Saratoga Co., N. Y.—23. ZIBA DYKE-MAN, being duly sworn, says: That in the winter of 1845, deponent's wife was believed by her physician and others to be dying with a consumption of the lungs; and deponent believing that to be the case, went to Mr. John Wait's store, in the village of Ballston Spa, to purchase cloth for a shroud, and other necessaries, to prepare his wife for burial after she should die. Deponent further says, that while he was in said Wait's store, he was persuaded by the Proprietor of "BRANT'S INDIAN PULMONARY BALSAM," who was then present, to take a bottle of said Medicine—he remarking, that if the dying woman be now past recovery, yet, if she be much oppressed and distressed, the said-medicine would soothe and relieve her, and make the pillow of death more easy. Deponent took the said medicine home with him, together with the cloth he had purchased preparatory to the anticipated death of his wife. Deponent caused a portion of said medicine to be administered to his wife, and to his astonishment it soon relieved her She continued the use of said medicine until she recovered from her disease, and has been able since (it being now more than three years) to do the work, and attend to all her household affairs; and deponent verily believes that, through the blessing of Providence, the restoration to health of his wife was the result of the curative and healing efficacy of Brant's Indian Pulmonery Balsam.

through the Bessell of the curative and healing of his wife was the result of the curative and healing eacy of Bran's Indian Pulmonary Balsam.

PHYSICIAN, HEAL THYSELF.

DOCT. J. W. FRENCH, of Hillsdale, Hillsdale Co., Mich. wrote to us, Dec. 8, 1848: "I have been in the regular practice of medicine in this place for Nine Years; but was obliged to quit the practice of my profession in consequence of ill health. I was so severely afflicted with a chronic disease of the lungs, as to convince me that I had the Consumption past doubt. I coughed almost incessantly night and day, and had severe pains and soreness in my chest, side, and breast. I tried the remedies recommended by the most skilful of my profession, all to no effect, excepting the nausea and debility caused by them. I was prejudiced against Patent Medicines, and have no faith now in them, generally. But I was induced, as an experiment, most than through faith, to try a bottle of Brant's Indian PutNONARY BALSAM, and I do here acknowledge, for the benefit of the afflicted or whom it may serve, that the effect of its use on me, was the most prompt and selutary of any med icines I ever witnessed the effect of in all my practice. My cough was immediately relief to in all my practice. My cough was immediately a relief to in all my practice. My cough was immediately a relief to in all my practice. My cough was immediately a relief to in all my practice. My cough was immediately a respectable druggist and merchant at Hillsdale.

ANOTHER IMPORTANT VICTORY!

Messrs. Holtstander & Co., respectable merchants of Oberlin, Lorsin Co., Ohio, wrote December 19, 1848: "After allowing the Brant's Medicines which you sent to us, to remain at Cleveland about three months, we sent for them. We have been so often deceived by such medicines not proving to be equal to their recommendations, and therefore would not sell, when their want of efficacy was known, that we considered it unprofitable to keep such, and were therefore prejudiced against Brant's, supposing it to be no better than many others we have on sale. After we had received Brant's, I. (A. Holtstander) was persuaded from reading the pumphlet to take a bottle of the Pulmonary Balsam home. My wife had been afflicted with a severe cough for about ten months, and our friends were alarmed and fearful that she would find nothing to relieve or cure her. But notwithstanding our prejudices to patent medicines, we are obliged to say, and cheerfully confess, that Brant's Balsam and Purifying Extract, can be depended on in preference to any or all of the many kinds that have been left with us for sale. My wife was immediately relieved in her cough, and before she had finished using the first bottle, began to gain strength and health, and only three bottles effected a perfect cure. The Purifying Extract I have personally used for a general debility of the system, and I have no hesitaney in saying that it is the best medicine to restore and invigorate the system, that I have ever found. In every instance where we have sold these medicines they have proved their effects, and given the best satisfaction."
