Beclination of Mr. Calvin.

The last Hollidaysburg Register contains the following letter from Hon. S CALVIN, by which it will be perceived that he declines a re-nomination. Immediately on its becoming known, a strong determination was manifested by our leading whigs from all parts of the county, who happened to be in town attending court, to remonstrate against it, and letters, numerously signed, were at once forwarded to that effect. We sincerely hope that he will re-consider the matter, and if he can do so without a sacrifice of his best interests, vield himself to the wishes of his constituents. From personal intercourse with our country friends during the present week, we are satisfied that no man in the district would be more cheerfully and strenuously supported, and that nine-tenths of the locofocos would sooner see him the representative than any other whig in it.

WASHINGTON, July 21, 1850. Dear Sir:—The time is approaching when it will become the duty of the Whigs of the 17th District to select their candidate to represent them in the 32d Congress; and I consider it proper to inform them, through your valuable Journal, that it is not my intention to be a can-didate for re-nomination. My duty to myself and family requires this step.

I desire to express my sincere thanks to all those who gave to me their generous support and confidence; and I hope the gallant Whigs of the District will be able without difficulty to agree upon and elect a successor better able serve them. I shall consider it my duty and pleasure to give them any aid in my power in promoting his election and the cause of the Whig party.

Very respectfully,

Yours, &c. SAMUEL CALVIN. J. PENN JONES, Esq.

The Locofoco Delegate Election.

Had the citizens of Mifflin county been in Lewistown on Saturday last and witnessed for themselves the extraordinary scenes enacted in and around the Court House by our locofoco brethren, not one in a thousand but would have exclaimed "Can such things be, and not create our special wonder!" It was in truth an exhibition without parallel at a primary election, and if it has heretofore been equalled, the memory of the "oldest inhabitant" cannot recal it. To understand the matter properly, it may be necessary to state that there are two factions among the locofocos, the one striving to gain, the other to retain, political ascendancy. The stronger portion is Cameronian-the other is anti.-The caucusing for weeks past at street corners and in offices, the anxiety displayed by those more immediately interested, had prepared us for a "spirited" contest, but the scene as it actually occurred almost beggars description. It opened with a war of words and an anxious desire on the part of the captains to make "their marks" on each other's phizzes, and the example having thus been set, the rank and file soon exhibited a disposition to do likewise, and in several cases fell to work in earnest, and but for the interference of some who seemed to feel that the democracy had got on more than an ordinary "spree," more blood would have flowed than has fattened the streets of Lewistown at any election within ten years. As it was, the boiling waters did not subside until a late hour in the night, at which time Captain Whiskey succeeded in flooring the more uproarious. No one could well help laughing at the antics cut up in this menagerie exhibition, as a correspondent calls it, yet the feeling of disgust was certainly uppermost, not only among the whigs, but the more orderly disposed among the locofocos. Taken altogether, it was a memorable day, and will long be remembered by participants On Monday the convention met in the was decapitating Mr. Gibboney, by nominating John Ross, formerly Supervisor on the Upper Division, for the Assembly. This move created no little surprise among the uninitiated, as a great many did not even know that Mr. Ross was a candidate for that station. The guillotine having thus been set in operation, Mr. Rittenhouse, the present Prothonotary, certainly a most worthy, competent, and obliging officer, had his head taken off under the plea of one term, Capt. The editor of the Union Star, who has known Mr. Banks from childhood, ately asserted that the locofoco candidate for Auditor General is a gentleman possessing "moderate talents, and is not an experienced accountant." On this the editor of the Mifflintown Register, who may have seen Mr. B. half a dozen times in his life, flies into a fit of eulogy, and

"Mr. Banks is well known as 'an experienced accountant.' His reputation as an accountant and his business capacity never before was questioned by any one. Such is the confidence had in him by the people of Mifflin county, that he has been appointed administrator, and settled up more estates than any other three men in that county, and always to the entire satisfac-tion of the parties. Never has he failed to perform these duties with scrupulous and exact honesty, which together with his promptness and upright conduct in this line of business, has ustly earned for him the appellation of 'the orphans' friend.'"

We have heretofore said that we did not believe Mr. Banks laid claim to one half the locofoco papers say respecting him, and he would perhaps be thankful were they more sparing of such fulsome flattery. The locofoco editors may give him as much proper praise as they choose -nay, we shall not even object to our friends down street eulogizing him with all the ardor bestowed on a new-found love-but if the Register and its kindred don't quit this soft soaping business, we shall feel bound as a friend, to advise Mr. Banks to prosecute them for libel.

The Democrat is certainly mistaken in alleging that strong asseverations were made by Gen. Irwin about cliques and factions, at the meeting on Tuesday evening. We heard nothing of the kind! As for the tariff, a subject always ably handled by James T. Hale, Esq., it is but a few years since our locofoco brethren were loud in professions of being the tariff party, and although they now prefer to foster British labor in preference to American, we should not wonder to see them terms, as expediency may dictate, could terms, as expediency may dictate, could be at no loss in turning for or against a now requiring decision.

THE RIGHT SPIRKT .- David Blair, Esq., of Huntingdon, in a communication to the Journal correcting some statements that had been made by the Globe in reference to nominations, says:

"I, in common with the Whig party of Huntingdon county, am desirous to see the re-nomination of my worthy friend, Samuel Calvin, believing, as I do, that no stronger or better man can be selected in the District: for I am well persuaded Mr. Calvin can and will have an increased majority over his last election, in Hunt-ingdon county, of from one hundred and fifty to two hundred votes, if the right kind of a ticket is nominated by our County Convention.

COUNTY NOMINATIONS .- The Whigs of Lebanon have nominated Thomas M. Bibighause, Esq., for Congress, and J. W. Killinger, Esq., for the Assembly-a strong team both in talent and popularity.

The Whigs of Adams county have named Daniel M. Smyser for Congress, and William M'Sherry for the Assembly.

The Whigs of Union county have nominated James Armstrong, of Williamsport, Lycoming county, for Congress, Ner Middleswarth having declined being a candidate; Eli Slifer for Assembly; Jacob Haus, Jr., Prothonotary; George Hill, vomit, the mystery of "straining at a gnat Prosecuting Attorney; Robert G. W. and swallowing a barn door" will no longer Hayes, County Surveyor; George Heimbach, Commissioner.

The Governor of Texas having intimated an intention to take forcible possession of portions of New Mexico, the President has deemed it his duty to lay the matter before Congress, and on Tuesday last transmitted a message earnestly appealing to Congress to adjust the question before its adjournment; but at the same time states that if that body fails to do its duty, he will feel himself bound by his oath of office and the Constitution to protect the people of the States and Territories in their lives and their property, and that he shall do so in case of the invasion of New Mexico by an armed force. He means to maintain the Union, and will do it at all hazard .--After recapitulating all the leading facts necessary to show that the territory now claimed by Texas was conquered by the United States forces under Gen. Kearney during the war with Mexico, and subsequently ceded to the United States by the treaty of peace, he says:

The Executive Government of the United States has no power or authority to determine what was the true line of boundary between Mexico and the United States before the treaty of Guadaloupe Hidalgo. Nor has it any such ower now, since the question has become a question between the State of Texas and the nited States. So far as this boundary is doubtful, that doubt can only be removed by some act Congress to which the assent of the State of Texas may be necessary, or by some appropri-ate mode of legal adjudication.

But, in the mean time, if disturbances or col-lisions arise, or should be threatened, it is absoutely incumbent on the executive government, however painful the duty, to take care that the laws be faithfully maintained, and he can regard only the actual state of things as it existed at the date of the treaty, and is bound to protect all inhabitants who were then established, and who now remain north and east of the line of demarkation, in the full enjoyment of their liberty and property, according to the provisions of the ninth article of the treaty. In other words, all must now be regarded as New Mexico which was possessed and occupied as New Mexico by citizens of Mexico at the date of the treaty, until a definite line of boundary shall be stablished by competent authority. This asser-ion of duty to protect the people of New Mexico from threatened violence, or from seizure, to be carried into Texas for trial for alleged offences against Texas laws, does not at all include any claim of power on the part of the Executive to establish any civil or military government within that Territory.

That power belongs exclusively to the legislative department, when Congress is the sole judge of the time and manner of creating or verthrowing such governments. The duty of the Executive is only to see the execution of the laws and the maintenance of treaties actually in force, and the protection of all the people of the United States in the enjoyment of the rights which those treaties and laws guaranty.

It is exceedingly desirable that no occasion shall arise for the exercise of the powers thus vested in the President by the Constitution and the laws. With whatever mildness those powers might be executed, or however clear the case of necessity, yet consequences might nevertheless follow of which no human sagacity can foresee ither the evils or the end. Having thus laid before Congress the commu-nication of his Excellency, the Governor of Texas, and the answer thereto, and having made such observations as I have thought the occasion called for, respecting constitutional obligations which may arise in the further progress of things, and may devolve on me to be performed, I hope I shall not be regarded as stepping aside from the line of my duty, notwithstanding that I am aware that the subject is now before both Houses, if I express my deep and earnest concision, or arrangement, or settlement of the question of boundary between Texas and the territory of New Mexico. All considerations leon can change from one term to two character and by position, the first, or one of

No government can be established for New Mexico, either State or Territory, until it shall be first ascertained what New Mexico is, and what are her limits and boundaries. These can not be fixed or known, till the line of division between her and Texas shall be ascertained and established—and numerous and weighty reasons conspire, in my judgement, to show that this divisional line should be established by Congress, with the assent of the government of Texas. In the first place, this seems by far the most prompt mode of proceeding, by which the end be accomplished. If judicial proceedings were resorted to, such proceedings would necessarily be slow, and years would pass by, in all probability, before the controversy could be ended. So great a delay, in this case, is to be avoided if possible. Such a delay would be every way inconvenient, and might be the occasion of disturbances and collisions. For the same reason, I would, with the utmost deference to the wisdom of Congress, express a doubt of the expediency of the appointment of commis-sioners, and of an examination, estimate, and an award of indemnity to be made by them. This would be but a species of arbitration, which might last as long as a suit at law. So far as I am able to comprehend the case. the general facts are now all known, and Con-gress is as capable of deciding on it, justly and properly, now as it probably would be after the report of the Commissioners. If the claim of the title on the part of Texas appears to Congress to be well founded, in whole or in part, it is in the competency of Congress to offer her an indemnity for the surrender of that claim. In a case like this, surrounded as it is, by many cogent considerations, all calling for amicable adjustment and immediate settlement, the Government of the United States would be justified in my opinion, allowing an indemnity to Texas, not unreasonable and extravagant, but fair, liberal, and awarded in a just spirit of accom-

I think no event would be hailed with more gratification by the people of the United States, than the amicable adjustment of questions of difficulty, which have now, for a long time, agitated the country, and occupied, to the exclusion of other subjects, the time and attention of Con-

Having thus freely communicated the result of my own reflection, on the most advisable mode of adjusting the boundary question, I shall, nevertheless, cheerfully acquiesce in any other mode which the wisdom of Congress may devise. And, in conclusion, I repeat my conviction, that every consideration of the public interest manifests the necessity of a provision by Congress for the settlement of this boundary question, before the present session be brought to a close. The settlement of other questions, connected with the same subject, within the same period, is greatly to be desired; but the adjustment of this appears to me to be in the highest degree important. In the train of such an adjustment, we may well hope that there will fol-low a return of harmony and good will, an in-creased attachment to the Union, and the general satisfaction of the country.

MILLARD FILLMORE.

WASHINGTON, August 6, 1850.

The Whigs of Mifflin assembled at the Town Hall in Lewistown on Tuesday evening, 6th instant, and organized by the appointment of E. E. LOCKE, Esq., as President; DAVID M'CLURE, ABNER REED, J. J. CUNNINGHAM, THOMAS WAT-SON, JOSEPH CAMPBELL, WILLIAM RAMSEY, GEO. W. STEWART, and R. RUSH FRANKS, Esquires, Vice Presidents; and Col. D. Stuart Elliott, C. Major, and Joseph Haffly, Esq., Secretaries.

On motion, a committee of five was appointed to draft suitable resolutions for the consideration him, our word for it, success is certain. of the meeting. The Chair named A. P. Jacob. George Frysinger, George W. Soult, Joseph A. Bell, and William Brothers, Esqrs., who retired and during the evening reported the following, which were unanimously adopted:

WHEREAS. The period is approaching when, ccording to the established usages of the Whig party, candidates are to be put in nomination for the various county offices, for a member of the House of Representatives, and for a member of congress in the lower House; and Whereas, It, praise, for the humble men who bore the is necessary that a perfect organization of the party in this county should be effected, in order to secure unanimity of action and consequent

Resolved, That SATURDAY, the 17th day of August, 1850, be fixed as the day on which Delegates shall be elected in the various Townships and Election Districts in Mifflin county, to meet in County Convention, at Lewistown, on Monday the 19th instant.

Resolved, That in the death of President Tax-LOR the nation has sustained a great and irreparable loss. A Patriot, an illustrious Warrior, a sound, practical Statesman, a good and truly great Man, has been stricken down in the comnencement of a new and no doubt glorious career. We deplore this National calamity with sincere and heartfelt sorrow. His name, his glory, belongs to the American people-his example is a egacy of wisdom and honor.

Resolved, That our confidence is unshaken in the wisdom and true Whig principles of Mil-LARD FILLMORE. His reputation is nationalhis patriotism embraces ALL our country. him the nation is safe, and his energetic and ex-perienced administration will defy the machinaions of traitors or the wild schemes of political

Resolved, That the exalted credit of Pennsylania, the skill and economy with which her finances have been managed, the sagacity and fearless discharge of duty on the part of the Executive, speak the strongest language of praise in favor of Wm. F. Johnston. Contending with a wily enemy, surrounded by spies, and the bright particular mark for every weapon, he emerges from the contest victorious, and extorts reluctant approbation from his baffled foes.

Resolved. That the Hon. SAMUEL CALVIN has faithfully and efficiently represented the interests of this great iron and producing district; that he has shown himself constantly alive to the one only measure of relief-a protective Tariff; that our confidence in him and respect for his talents and integrity are unabated.

Resolved, That J. J. Cunningham, Esq., our

State Senator, has in every respect satisfied the expectations of his friends. His constant attention to public business, and his watchful care for his District, deserve our warmest thanks.

Resolved, That the suffering and prostrate iron interest of Pennsylvania demands imperatively a modification of the unjust and unequal Tariff of 1846. Resolved, That although Providence has withdrawn from us our great leader, yet, amid all human changes, our principles change not .-They are immutable because they are true-they are the basis of our national prosperity-they will, they MUST succeed.

The meeting was ably addressed by Captain THOMAS WATSON, JAMES T. HALE, Esq., of Bellefonte, Gen. IRWIN, and GEO. W. ELDER, Esq., who impressed upon the audience the necessity of united action in the approaching campaign feeling satisfied that all that was necessary to ensure victory was a general turning out of the

It is annnounced in the Keystone that the Canal Commissioners are in session in Philadelphia, engaged among other things, in allotting the work on the North Branch Canal. The allotment of this work seems to be a troublesome job.

NEW COUNTERFEITS .- 5's on the York Bank, which appear to have been printed from a counterfeit plate on the Harrisburg Bank altered, have been detected in Montgomery county. In the counterfeit, the words The York Bank are placed in a semicircle over the vignette, which is not the case in the genuine.

Counterfeit 10's on the Farmers and Drovers Bank, old plate, are about. The die work generally is cloudy and imperfect.

The Board of Health of St. Louis have passed a resolution, requesting all persons to refrain from the use of limestone water, and in order to prevent its use as far as possible, have had the handles taken from many of the pumps in that city.

BALLOONING .- Mr. Wise, the Æronaut, inflated his great Balloon, at Lancaster, on Saturday. An immense number of people assembled to witness it, and the passenger cars upon the Columbia railroad were crowded. After taking up passengers and letting them down again for some time, the sport was arrested by a sudden squall of wind, which capsized the balloon and burst Mr. W. expects to repair the damage again, and then make a trip with his family to the upper regions.

Our Next Member of Assembly. MR. EDITOR :-- Allow me to call the at tention of our whig friends to the name of ANDREW M'FARLAND, of the Valley, as a suitable candidate for member of the next Legislature in opposition to the Cameronian nominee. Mr. M'F. undoubtedly com-bines all the requisites of honesty and capacity, and will command a support that will astonish both friend and foe. With BOROUGH.

MR. EDITOR :- While the locofocos are nominating officers who were in the Mexican war to profitable posts and bestowing all manner of eulogiums on them for hav-

For instance, there is an humble individual now in our midst, who gallantly braved the dangers, privations and battles encountered by Taylor and Scott, yet he is passed by as though he had no existence. I allude, Mr. Editor, to Col. PETER KERN. Now, why is this! He has always been a democrat-not one of the stay-at-home one's during war, but ever ready to shoulder his musket as a private, and do battle for his country like a true American soldier-yet those who would see so much merit in Mr. McCov serving a short time in Mexico as an officer can see none in the brave and gallant sol
