KENTUCKY ELECTIONS -- So far as heard from, the result is 54 Whigs and 39 Locos leaving eight still to be heard from. The Whig majority in each House will be about twelve-certainly sufficient for all useful purposes.

MASSACHUSETTS .- In the first district S. A. Eliott is elected to Congress in place of Mr. Winthrop by about fifteen hundred majority. Returns from second and fourth districts indicate no change.

In the second district all but two wards have been heard from, and the result is as follows :- Upham, Whig, 3,325; Rantoul, Loco, 2,180; Pierpont, Free Soiler, 1,166; scattering 22; Lynnfield and Sangus yet to be heard from. No choice in the 4th district.

Palfrey and Thompson are further from being elected than ever, in consequence of the running of a locofoco candidate.

There were 467 deaths in New York last week, 313 of this number being children under five years of age-67 were by cholera infantum, 30 by diarrhea, 47 by dysentery, 33 by convulsions and 33 by consumption.

The bill of mortality of Brooklyn last week, shows a total of 55 deaths-14 being children, and 12 by cholera infantum.

There were 262 deaths in Philadelphia last week, of which number 160 were children under five years of age-36 were caused by cholera infantum, 27 by dysentery, 17 by diarrhea, and 16 by consump-

The citizens of Brookville, Jefferson county, have been much afflicted of late with a disease which is called dysentery. The last papers of that place record the deaths of some twelve or fourteen for the week, and state that about 30 cases then existed.

THE SEVENTH CENSUS .- The population of Wrightsville, York county, is 1309. In 1849 it was 672-increase 637. There are 95 persons in the town over 20 years of age who can neither read nor write, 150 colored persons, and 232 pupils in the population of 594, being an increase of 258 since 1840. Hanover, in the same ily, from Indiana. The party started on the county, has 1240, being an increase of 180 since 1840. Woodbury township, Blair county, has a population of 1441. Catharine township 890, and Williams-burg Borough 749. The Marshal of Mifflin county is, we believe, engaged in his duties, but thus far we have heard of no

Drowned .- On Wednesday morning last, a little girl about five years old, daughter of Samuel Bay, was drowned by falling into the canal near the lock above this place. She was first missed about nine o'clock in the morning, but as it was supposed she had accompanied some other children after berries, no uneasiness was felt for her until a bucket was found in the canal which she had been seen to have. It was then ascertained that she was not with the other children after berries, and supposing her to be drowned, the water was drawn out of the canal, and the body was freely rendered. Correspondence of the Daily News. Washington, Aug. 19, 1850.

I have taken some pains to inform myself of the state of feeling which exists in Congress towards President Fillmore and his Cabinet, and come satisfied that the fair-minded members of both branches, and of both political parties, (I omit as unworthy of mention the abolitionists and disunionists,) entertain high respect for them, both as individuals and as an administra-tion. Thoroughgoing Whigs are enthusiastic in their support of the Chief Magistrate, and the high-toned, patriotic portion of the opposition —which I am proud to acknowledge, is by far the greater portion—seem disposed to act with liberality and justice towards him. The im-pression which the President has already made on the public mind, is highly salutary, and his increasing popularity is evident to all. His prudence, firmness, and patriotism are impressed pon every administrative act, and these qualities modestly displayed, as they are by Mr. Fillmore, cannot fail to command the admiration of the country at large. By a firm and steady progress, Mr. Fillmore has attained his exalted eminence. Great talents, purity of purpose and action, and unfaltering perseverence, have carried him to a height whence his fame and renown will now radiate the world

The Cabinet has gotten along thus far admirably. Their movements are spoken of in high praise. Webster is Webster; and what more need be said of him? Corwin is well seated in his "wagon;" and who shall say the crack of his "whip" will not be heard present-Graham stands at the kelm of the American Navy: and, "sink or swim, live or die, survive or perish," neither old occan's billows nor his country's foes can disturb his firm footing. And within hailing distance may Conrad be seen, quietly seated upon his "War Horse;" "did you ever hear of the battle of New Orleans?" The noble McKennan is "at Home." Where else should he be? Echo answers, no-where. The ubiquitous Hall is everywhere. Now on horse back, in the Stage Coach, on the Railroad, on board Steamships, all at the same moment; and, certainly, he should be nowhere else. To close the file comes the peerless Crittenden, "in all the majesty of the law; so clear the track for old Kentncky." To be serious, a better Cabinet could not well be formed; one which would ensure more certainly the respect and confidence of the public.

The Compromise Bill though torn to pieces in the Senate, has, nevertheless, in all its essential parts passed that body. There are Senators who, when engaged in the work of defeating the combined measure, misrepresented their constituencies knowingly and wilfully. They deserve the execuation of every lover of the on, and will doubtless receive it. Look at Mason and Hunter, of Virginia, and Soule, of uisiana, and blush for their shamelessness. For the honor of Congress, and the welfare ar common country, it is devoutly to be oped, that the distracting questions which have a fearfully agitated the hearts of our people adjusted by the House of Representaits concurrence in the action of the Boston, Aug. 16.—A catastrophe of a most melancholy and distressing character occurred vesterday afternoon at Lynnfield, involving the lives of fourteen persons, all women and children dren but one. A large party of men, women, and children, most of them connected with the first Christian Society of Lynn, proceeded to Lynnfield on a pic nic party, and had chosen a delightful spot on the borders of a beautiful pond. About 2 o'clock, a party of twenty-five went on board a large flat bottomed row boat for an excursion on the pond, and when about one hundred yards from the shore, the boat capsized, and fourteen of the party were drowned The disaster has thrown the community of Lynn into the deepest distress.

PHILADELPHIA, August 19—9 P. M. A man named Charles Bird, keeping a small jewelry store in Fifth street, near South, was stabbed by a party of rowdies this evening, and injured so badly that he died in a few minutes afterwards. Two well known characters in the southern part of the city are suspected, and will doubtless be arrested before morning. This makes the second murder in our streets during Washington, August 14th, 1850 .- Portugal has made an offer (under duress) to pay every dollar claimed by the citizens of the United States without deducting a penny; but she states to Mr. Clay, our Charge at Lisbon, that she did so, not because she was convinced of their justice, but because she had not the means of repelling force by force; and for this reason she is ready to do anything for the sake of peace. As to the Armstrong, she thinks that the obligation of neutrals only consists in this, that they shall not favor one of the belligerants more than another. At the time the Armstrong was taken at Fayal, the British fleet carried 240 guns and 1200 men, the Portuguese had seven dismounted guns and eight artillery soldiers, with one hundred militia, without flint stones, to keep the peace between the belligerants; while John VI., her King, was in Brazil, protected by a British fleet, and Portugal had only been saved from the hands of Massena by the Duke of Wellington at Torres Vedras. Before all this the Paris Moniteur, of 11th November, 1807, had declared that the house of Braganza these neutrals may have to make their own rights respected, the consequence will be that in the breaking out of a marine war, they will close their ports to us, and Portugal, I believe, has said so to our diplomatic representative in Lisbon. Otherwise Count d'Ojal, the present minister of foreign affairs, is a man of scrupulous diplomatic etiquette, and it is yet possible that the quarrel about the Armstrong may be referred to the arbitration of a third power; or that Portugal may average the claim for which provision ought to have been made at the Treaty of Ghent.

Dreadful Tragedy.

We learn from the Danville Intelligencer of the 16th inst., that quite an excitement existed in that community for a week past, in conse-quence of the mysterious death of a young and beautiful girl, named Miss Smith, from Luzerne The circumstances that have come to light show conclusively that there has been foul play somewhere, and that of the most inhuman and depraved character-indeed of such a nature as to cause the ruin and death of a young and beautiful girl, at that age when life is so eminently desirable, and which has also caused the inevitable disgrace and unhappiness of a highly respectable family. She was on a visit to a sister residing near Danville, and shortly after her arrival there was taken dangerously ill -a physician was called, but to no purpose,and life was fast ebbing away. She seemed to be greatly distressed, and after earnest entreaty, she disclosed the cause. Her disclosures implicated two persons in the transaction, who reside in the village where she did-one a lawyer and the other a physician. The latter has since been arrested. We hope, if guilty, they may both receive their just reward at the hands of the law.
