

Agricultural.

From the North American Farmer.

Trench Ploughing.

As ploughing is one of (if not the most) important operations in agriculture, every mode of it should be recommended and tried which promises an improvement, either in saving of labor, or in making more abundant crops. In some parts of Pennsylvania, where farming is in a high state of progressive improvement, there is a mode of ploughing called trench ploughing, which is useful and easy performed. It is thus described by the Philadelphia Agricultural Society:—Provide a light plough, from 12 to 15 inches wide in the back of the sole, so as to pare of the sod about 3 inches deep. Then a strong trench plough capable of turning a depth of 8 or 10 inches of mould. This plough should and will require a large team of horses or oxen to draw it. A trench must be first made as deep as possible. The paring plough must then take off the sod of the next intended furrow, and turn it into the trench. Then again, the trench plough follows over a body of earth so as to bury all weeds which, by being placed too deep for their usual rapid growth, rot away and become manure. The mould-board of the trench plough should have a tin plate of iron to extend the surface of the mould-board, and accommodate itself by flexibility to its curvatures. By this auxiliary the loose earth is thrown into the trench, and the plough will not be liable to choke. But all ploughs require cleavages with notches, and curved regulators, to direct their depth and course. This kind of ploughing should always be performed in the autumn, and the field lie all the winter following to extract whatever it can from the air, and receive the benefits of the frosts and thaws. When ploughed in the spring, it should be done with a shallow small plough. A fallow crop only should succeed the first year's trenching. Indian corn, perhaps, is the best; as it admits and requires frequent stirring and exposure of the soil. Judge Peters was a great advocate for this kind of ploughing. He says "it is only on worn or infested fields that I recommend this mode of ploughing. The burying of the old exhausted soil was my motive for trench ploughing progressively, and I have not now (after an experience of years) a trenched field which is not the better for it." It is certain it will not do well upon all kinds of soils, but I have found (says Judge Peters) that it has very materially benefited my ground, which is, most all, a light loam. And I am also certain, (he adds,) that trench ploughing is best for all worn out lands here. I will make no exception. Whereas in ploughing ever so deep in any other way, the edges of the sod are always exposed and liable to vegetate anew. In trench ploughing, (as I before remarked,) vegetables and weeds are covered too deep for vegetation, they cannot force their way through so much earth, they must rot away and turn into manure.

Corn Cobs.

The American Farmer says, "we believe there is one third as much nutriment in a bushel of the cobs as there is in a bushel of grain; and we know that cows or oxen, fed upon three pecks of the crushed and steamed cobs, in addition to their usual quantity of hay and fodder, will keep fat."

Resolved relative to an Amendment of the Constitution

RESOLVED by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, That the Constitution of the Commonwealth be amended in the second section of the fifth article, so that it shall read as follows: The Judges of the Supreme Court, of the several Courts of Common Pleas, and of such other Courts of Record as are or shall be established by law, shall be elected by the qualified electors of the Commonwealth, in the manner following, to wit: The Judges of the Supreme Court, by the qualified electors of the Commonwealth at large; the President Judges of the several Courts of Common Pleas, and of such other Courts of Record as are or shall be established by law, and all other Judges required to be learned in law, by the qualified electors of the respective districts over which they are to preside or act as Judges; and the Associate Judges of the Courts of Common Pleas by the qualified electors of the counties respectively. The term of fifteen years shall be the term for which they shall hold their offices for the term of ten years, if they shall so long behave themselves well; (subject to the allotment hereinafter provided for, subsequent to the first election) the President Judges of the several Courts of Common Pleas, and of such other Courts of Record as are or shall be established by law, and all other Judges required to be learned in law, shall hold their offices for the term of ten years, if they shall so long behave themselves well; (subject to the allotment hereinafter provided for, subsequent to the first election) the Associate Judges of the Courts of Common Pleas shall hold their offices for the term of five years, if they shall so long behave themselves well; and of whom shall be commissioned by the Governor, that the commissions may be issued in accordance thereto. The Judge whose commission will first expire shall be Chief Justice during his term, and thereafter each Judge whose commission shall first expire shall in turn be the Chief Justice, and if two or more commissions shall expire on the same day, the Judges holding them shall hold their offices as follows: One of them for three years, one for six years, one for nine years, one for twelve years, and one for fifteen years, the term of each to be decided by lot by the said Judges, as soon after the election as convenient, and the result certified by them to the Governor, that the commissions may be issued in accordance thereto. The Judge whose commission will first expire shall be Chief Justice during his term, and thereafter each Judge whose commission shall first expire shall in turn be the Chief Justice, and if two or more commissions shall expire on the same day, the Judges holding them shall hold their offices as follows: One of them for three years, one for six years, one for nine years, one for twelve years, and one for fifteen years, the term of each to be decided by lot by the said Judges, as soon after the election as convenient, and the result certified by them to the Governor, that the commissions may be issued in accordance thereto. The Judge whose commission will first expire shall be Chief Justice during his term, and thereafter each Judge whose commission shall first expire shall in turn be the Chief Justice, and if two or more commissions shall expire on the same day, the Judges holding them shall hold their offices as follows: One of them for three years, one for six years, one for nine years, one for twelve years, and one for fifteen years, the term of each to be decided by lot by the said Judges, as soon after the election as convenient, and the result certified by them to the Governor, that the commissions may be issued in accordance thereto.

HARRIS, TURNER & HALE'S Compound Syrup of Spigelia or Vegetable Vermifuge.

The most effectual, the safest, pleasantest and most convenient Worm Medicine ever offered to the public.

THE SPIGELIA, says a work of highest authority, stands at the head of the list of Antelmintic or Worm Medicines. It is adapted to a wider range of cases, and to a greater variety of constitutions and states of the constitution, than any other. But prepared as it commonly is, in the form of tea, it can seldom be given to children in sufficient doses. In Harris, Turner & Hale's Compound Syrup, it is so concentrated that the dose is very small, so combined as to ensure a purgative operation, and so palatable as to be taken, not only with ease, but with positive pleasure.

The precise composition of this syrup and the mode of preparing it, are the result of a series of experiments continued for years. Before offering it for sale, was subjected to the test of experience in the hands of eminent physicians, in Philadelphia and elsewhere, who have recommended it in the highest terms, and still employ it in their practice. In addition to this evidence of its merits, we offer the following, selected from a number of unsolicited testimonials.

"I should have written before this, but felt disposed first to try the efficacy of your Vermifuge. I have used more than half the quantity received, and the experiment has been most successful. I really believe that it possesses advantages over any other Vermifuge I have ever used. Independent of the smallness of the dose, and the pleasantness of the syrup, (which is a great advantage in children) the advantage of administering it under a variety of circumstances, enhances its value; indeed there is scarcely a condition of the system in which it may not be administered. Yours, &c."

"A respectable physician of Lebanon county, in this state, writes—
"I have been in the habit of prescribing your Compound Syrup of Spigelia for some time past, and have found an excellent worm medicine, particularly for children.— Please forward per bearer 3 doz. bottles.—Yours, &c."
"An intelligent merchant of Virginia to whom we had previously sold the syrup, writes—
"Since my return home, I find that your Syrup of Spigelia has come into general use in this neighborhood. We have sold what we had on hand, and it gave such satisfaction that it is now called for every day. You will please send us up 5 or 6 dozen in a small package, and send to the care of W. Anderson & Co., Richmond, as soon as possible, and forward the bill per mail.—Yours, &c."

"A respectable merchant of Ohio, on a late visit to Philadelphia, stated, that some time since he had been applied to by a customer for a trial of your Vermifuge for his son. Not having the article asked for, he advised a trial of Harris, Turner & Hale's Compound Syrup of Spigelia and gave him a part of a bottle which was all that remained in the store. A day or two after his gentleman returning to the store, expressed his surprise and delight at the effect of the Syrup, declaring it had expelled 200 worms and entirely relieved his son. The merchant added an expression of his great regret that he had not had on hands a bottle of the Syrup at the time when his own little daughter died, as he confidently believed it would have saved her life."
"A gentleman of Hudson, N. Y., having sent a bottle of Harris, Turner & Hale's Compound Syrup of Spigelia, to a young friend who had tried in vain a great number of worm medicines, writes, that his friend was immediately relieved; the words of the patient were: "It took every worm out my body!"

DR. HOOFLAND'S celebrated GERMAN BITTERS,

PREPARED BY DR. C. M. JACKSON,
At the German Medicine Store, 120 Arch st. PHILADELPHIA.

"Their parts over the above diseases is not excelled—equalled—by any other preparation of similar nature in the curative art; in many cases of chronic affections, it has done more than any other medicinal agent."
These Bitters are worthy the attention of invalids. Possessing great virtues in the rectification of diseases of the Liver and Gall-bladder, restoring the most searching purgatives in weak and dissipated constitutions, they are without a rival, safe, certain and pleasant.

READ AND BE CONVINCED.

CHAR. ROBINSON, Esq., Easton, Md., in a letter to Dr. Jackson, January 9, 1850, said—
"My wife and myself have received more benefit from your medicine than any other we have ever taken for the Dyspepsia and Liver disease."
"THE TENTH LION," published at Woodstock, Va., January 10, 1850, said—
"A GREAT MEDICINE."
"We have uniformly refrained from recommending to the public any of the various Patent Medicines of the day, unless thoroughly convinced of their value. Among those we consider worthy of notice is the German Bitters, invented by Dr. Hoofland, and prepared by Dr. Jackson, in Philadelphia. One instance in particular, in which the superior virtues of this medicine has been tested, has fallen under our observation. During the last summer, a son of Mr. ABRAHAM GRABLE, of this county, was very seriously afflicted with Liver Complaint, and after trying various remedies, he purchased a bottle of the Bitters, and after using it, was so much relieved of his distressing malady, that he procured another bottle, and is restored entirely to health."

Among those we consider worthy of notice is the German Bitters, invented by Dr. Hoofland, and prepared by Dr. Jackson, in Philadelphia. One instance in particular, in which the superior virtues of this medicine has been tested, has fallen under our observation. During the last summer, a son of Mr. ABRAHAM GRABLE, of this county, was very seriously afflicted with Liver Complaint, and after trying various remedies, he purchased a bottle of the Bitters, and after using it, was so much relieved of his distressing malady, that he procured another bottle, and is restored entirely to health."
"We have uniformly refrained from recommending to the public any of the various Patent Medicines of the day, unless thoroughly convinced of their value.
