Spring Wheat.
The following article, which we copy from the October number of the Farm Journal, on the subject of sowing Spring Wheat as one of our regular crops, in Pennsylvania, is deserving, we think, serious attention. Judge Jessup writes from his own experience in the raising of this crop, and gives such information as ought to satisfy every practical farmer of the value of this crop in many localities over winter grain—or at least as an additional crop which ought to find a place in the farmer's catalogue.

SPRING WHEAT.—This grain is already very important to large farming districts in Pennsylvania, and may most profitably be cultivated in many parts of the State where winter wheat in a great measure fails. The objections urged against it generally, are three. 1. That it is inferior in quality. 2. That it is liable to smut; and 3. That it is an uncertain crop, owing to its being so frequently blighted and shrunk by mildew. But from an experience and examination of seven years, I am convinced that these objections are not well grounded. As in all crops, the quality depends much on cultivation. With good cultivation the Italian wheat weighs sixty to sixty-two pounds, and yields forty to forty-three pounds of superfine flour to the bushel. The flour, although not quite as white, makes as good bread as any winter wheat. It has usually a slight yellowish tinge. If wheat were not too much judged of by the whiteness of its flour, I doubt not that good Italian wheat would soon rank as high in the market as Mediterranean winter wheat.

The second objection is entirely obviated by a proper preparation of the seed. I have had no smut for many years, except where I have sown wheat without washing and liming. My process is to wash my wheat thoroughly in strong lime, which raises to the surface all oils and other light seeds, which are skimmed off. While wet it is thrown upon the barn floor, and finely pulverized quick lime in small quantities sifted over it. The whole is so mixed that every kernel is coated with lime. It may safely be left in this way for several days before sowing. If sown immediately the lime is unpleasant to the hand, and to prevent its injuring the sower, a small quantity of gypsum is scattered over it. No smut is ever found in spring wheat prepared in this manner. The salt, lime, and gypsum are all admirable manures.

The third objection is obviated by early sowing. In large districts in the northern part of the State it is difficult to plough early. The soil is a heavy clay and loam, and retains the water very long. It is absolute ruin to the crop to plough while wet, and consequently the farmer who relies upon spring ploughing for his wheat will be unable to sow before the last of April or the first of May—a month too late here. The ploughing must be done in the fall and the sowing at the earliest practicable day, after the frost is out of the ground. The best spring wheat in quantity and quality which I have ever known raised, was upon a green sward, which had been turned under late in November, and upon which the wheat was sown without further ploughing, the latter days of March. A very light dragging lengthwise of the furrow, before sowing, and the wheat lightly was dragged in so as not to raise the sod. Sown in this way it will be fit to harvest the latter part of July. Wheat which ripens in July is seldom affected with mildew. Two bushels of seed should be sown per acre.

I have tried the Baltic wheat, which is said to be successfully cultivated in Vermont, but it is greatly inferior in quality as well as quantity to the Italian.

WILLIAM JESSUP.
Montrose, Aug. 16, 1851.

Trees and Shrubby.

If your dwelling is not adorned by shade trees and shrubbery, have some of each planted this fall. A country residence without them, is as comfortable in reality, as it is cheerless in appearance, and never meets the eye of a stranger of taste, that the owner does not suffer in his judgment. Besides shade trees, every farmer's home should have all sorts of fruits, as apples, pears, peaches, plums, apricots, cherries, damsons and grapes. They are at once the sources of comfort, luxury, and health. And they all should be of the very best sorts.

Cough in Horses.

It is said that small twigs of cedar, chopped fine and mixed with their grain, will cure a cough; and that it has been used with complete success.

Rice Dumplings.

Pick and wash a pound of rice, and boil it gently in two quarts of water till it becomes dry; keeping the pot well covered, and not stirring it. Then take it off the fire, and spread it out to cool on the bottom of an inverted sieve; loosening the grains lightly with a fork, that all the moisture may evaporate. Pare a dozen pippins, or other large juicy apples, and scoop out the core. Then fill up the cavity with marmalade, or with lemon and sugar. Cover every apple all over with a thick coating of the boiled rice. Tie up each in a separate cloth, and put them into a pot of cold water. They will require about an hour and a quarter after they begin to boil, perhaps longer.

Put them out on a large dish, and be careful in doing so not to break the dumplings. Eat them with cream sauce, or with wine sauce, or with butter, sugar and nutmeg broken together.

Your pudding and dumpling cloths should be squares of coarse, thick linen, hemmed, and with tape strings sewed to them. After using, they should be washed, dried, and ironed; and kept in one of the kitchen drawers, that they may be always ready when wanted.

Cold Water and Burns.

Mr. Ellis Hall, in the Scientific American, makes the following statement in regard to the efficacy of cold water as a cure for burns.

When about 15 years of age, a woman told me if I ever got burned, to plunge the part into cold water. Since that time I have frequently been benefited by her advice. When burned with a hot iron, I at once immerse the burned part in cold water. A few days since, while forging a small article, I cut a small piece from its end, while red hot, and by mistake, when looking in a contrary direction, I took hold of the anvil cutter with my right-hand thumb and finger, when the small piece of iron I had cut off stuck to the end of my finger; I shook it off, and at once dipped my hand in cold water and held it there for about one minute, after which I dipped it in spirits of turpentine and put on a cloth; no blister arose, nor was it sore.

He adds, from his own experience, that many lives could be saved and serious injuries avoided, by extinguishing clothes on fire with water.

Tobacco for Wounds.

Mr. H. Van Andall, of Eaton, Ohio, makes the following statement over his own signature, as to the efficacy of tobacco, on certain wounds. He says:

I have seen a number of deaths reported from Tetanus, or lockjaw, induced by wounds from nails and other iron instruments. The oxide of iron, when introduced into the flesh, by puncture of nails, &c., or cuts from rusty edge-tools, occasions the most intense pain, as I have experienced; many others have testified to the painful nature of such, though otherwise not dangerous wounds. Tobacco (abused by friend and foe as it is) will relieve the pain resulting from such wound, in ten or fifteen minutes, if properly applied: my mode has been to take a piece of good strong tobacco and chew it until it is saturated with saliva, and then apply it with a bandage. It has never, within my knowledge, failed to give relief, and I have seen it applied to wounds that were deep and painful.

Miscellaneous.

Ballad of the Canal.

We were crowded in the cabin,
Not a soul had room to sleep;
It was midnight on the waters,
And the banks were very steep.

'Tis a fearful thing when sleeping
To be startled by the shock,
And to hear the rattling trumpet
Thunder, "Coming to a lock!"

So we shuddered there in silence,
For the stoutest berth was shook,
While the wooden gates were opened
And the mate talked with the cook.

As thus we lay in darkness,
Each one wishing we were there,
"We are through!" the captain shouted,
And he sat down on a chair.

And his little daughter whispered,
Thinking that he ought to know,
'Isn't travelling by canal boats,
Just as safe as it is slow?"

Then he kissed the little maiden,
And with better cheer we spoke,
And we trotted into Pittsburgh
When the morn looked thro' the smoke.

A Cool Operation.

"Hallo there, Capt'ing!" said a brother Jonathan to a captain of a canal packet on the Erie Canal. "What do you charge for passengers?"

"Three cents per mile and boarded," said the captain.

"Wal I guess I'll take the passage, capt'ing, seeing as how I am kinder give out walkin' so far."

Accordingly he got on board just as the steward was ringing the bell for dinner. Jonathan sat down and began to demolish the 'fixins' to the utter consternation of the captain, until he cleared the table of all that was eatable, when he got up and went on deck, picking his teeth very comfortably.

"How far is it, capt'ing, from here to where I came on board?"

"Nearly one and a half miles," said the captain.

"Let's see," said Jonathan, "that would be just four and a half cents; but never mind, capt'ing, I won't be small; here's five cents, which pays for my fare up to here; I guess I'll go ashore now, I'm kinder rested out."

The captain vouchsafed for the cabin, and Jonathan went ashore. The captain did not take any more passengers the remainder of the trip.

Great Scientific Discoveries.

BY DR. J. W. COOPER. FEVER AND AGUE Completely Cured in Three Days.

By Dr. J. W. Cooper's Vegetable Compound Fever and Ague Pills.

THESE PILLS are composed entirely of Vegetable Substances, and in ninety-nine cases out of every hundred, will perform a perfect and complete cure in three days. No instance has ever been known, where more than six days have been required to perform a complete cure, even in the very worst cases, and on the strongest constitutions. We would earnestly say to all who are afflicted with this distressing disease, to get one and try them, and in all cases, two boxes are warranted to cure, if taken according to the directions, or the money returned.

These pills not only perform a perfect cure in three days, but remove the bile and create a healthy action of the liver, and consequently fortify the system against a future attack.

ALSO, My Vegetable Anti-Dyspepsia Bitters.

This Medicine is a certain cure for Dyspepsia in its very worst forms. Thousands of cases have been completely cured by it within the last year, which have been entirely despaired of by the regular family physicians. We do not recommend it to cure everything; we recommend it to cure Dyspepsia, and the diseases originating from it, and in all cases, two boxes are warranted to cure, if taken according to the directions, or the money returned.

ALSO, My Vegetable Worm Powders.

This is the most wonderful Worm Destroyer ever known, and at the same time, so pleasant to take, that almost every child will be fond of it, and many instances have been known of children crying for more after once taking it.

This medicine is in the form of a powder, the only medicine ever used in that form, and it operates on a principle entirely different from any other medicine ever administered by any other physician. It is the only medicine which has no Worm-seed Oil or Turpentine combined with it, which is believed by all other physicians to be the cause of the disease which it destroys worms, and these two things combined, together with castor oil, are the active principles of all other worm medicines, which every person who has ever tasted or smelled, knows to be the most noxious of all noxious medicines, and an account of which, there is generally something added to destroy this noxious taste, and in order to do this, it must be something stronger than the medicine itself, and therefore, it must necessarily destroy some of its medicinal properties. These powders are simple and so harmless, that a child may eat a whole box at once, and it will not hurt, while at the same time, the principle upon which it acts being different from any other thing ever used, it will destroy all kinds of Worms with a certainty never equalled. It will not only destroy the seat worms, or Ascariides, and long, round worms, or Tere, but is the most effectual medicine for the destruction of the Tape Worms ever known. Few doses have brought as many as FIVE Tape Worms from one person.

If your children have any symptoms of worms, try these powders, and in nine cases out of ten, you will never use any other. These are also warranted.

These medicines are all separate, and one for each disease, and each for one disease. They are not recommended, as many other medicines are, to cure some fifteen or twenty diseases, and all of different natures, but they are each to cure one disease, and that they will do in ninety-nine cases out of every hundred, and where they have a fair trial and fail in all cases, the money will be returned.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL For the Cure of COUGHS, COLDS, HOARSENESS, BRONCHITIS, WHOOPING-COUGH, CROUP, ASTHMA, AND CONSUMPTION.

IN offering to the community this justly celebrated remedy for diseases of the throat and lungs, it is not our wish to trade with the lives or health of the afflicted, but frankly to lay before them the opinions of distinguished men, and some of the evidences of its success, from which they can judge for themselves. We sincerely pledge ourselves to make no wild assertions or false statements of its efficacy, nor will we hold out any hope to suffering humanity which facts will not warrant.

Many proofs are here given, and we solicit an inquiry from the public into all we publish, feeling assured they will find them perfectly reliable, and the medicine worthy their best confidence and patronage.

From the distinguished Professor of Chemistry and Mathematics, Medway, Bourdon College.

Dear Sir: I delayed answering the receipt of your preparation, until I had an opportunity of witnessing its effects in my own family, or in the families of my friends. This I have now done with a high degree of satisfaction, in cases both of adults and children.

I have found it, as its ingredients show, a powerful remedy for colds, and coughs, and pulmonary diseases.

PARKER CLEAVELAND, M. D. BRUNSWICK, Me., Feb. 5, 1851.

From an Occurrence in the Hamilton Mills, in this City. Lowell, Aug. 18, 1850.

Dr. J. C. Ayer: I have been cured of the worst cough I ever had in my life, by your "Cherry Pectoral," and never fail, when I have opportunity, of recommending it to others. Yours, respectfully,

THE following was one of the worst of cases, which the physician and friends thought to be incurable consumption.

J. C. Ayer:—I was taken with a terrible cough, brought on by a cold, in the beginning of last February, and was confined to my bed more than two months. Coughing incessantly night and day, I became ghastly and pale, my eyes were sunken and glassy, and my breath very short. Indeed, I was rapidly failing, and in such distress for breath, that but little hope of my recovery could be entertained. While in this situation a friend of mine (the Rev. John Keller, of the Methodist church) brought me a bottle of your CHERRY PECTORAL, which I tried more to gratify him than from any expectation of obtaining relief. Its good effect induced me to continue its use, and I soon found my health much improved. Now, in the month of June, I am well and strong, and can attribute my cure only to your great medicine.

With the deepest gratitude, yours, &c. JAMES GODFREY, Practical Chemist, Lowell, Mass.
