Foreign News. The steamer America, from Liverpool via of Halifax, arrived at Boston on Monday last.

ENGLAND.—The political affairs are without striking importance, though the feeling against the ministry is becoming stronger every day, and public opinion has arrived at the conclusion that a dissolution of Parliament must inevitably take place before its meeting.

On the other hand, the Chronicle and other of the Liberal papers, state that the Peelite are uniting their strength with the friends of Lord Palmerston, and think, by their combined efforts, the Premier will be compelled to give way.

FROM THE CAPE OF GOOD HOPE.—The London journals publish late advices from the Cape of Good Hope, stating that an engagement had taken place between the Native and English troops in the Kaffir country, in which the English were again defeated with the loss of several officers and three or four hundred men.

Extensive operations were making on the part of the troops to retrieve their disasters, but they had not resulted, so far, in any satisfactory manner to the English. On the contrary, in several severe skirmishes which had followed, the Natives had been again victorious.

FRANCE.—Throughout France, everything continues quiet. The promulgation of the new constitution has been deferred for ten days.

The President still continues to meet with a decided appreciation from nearly all classes of the people.

A report was generally circulated that a serious misunderstanding had occurred between the English Ambassador, Lord Normanby, and Louis Napoleon, which had resulted in the former declaring his intention to take a formal leave of the French Government.

This report caused a decline at the Bourse, but affairs soon rallied, and at the close the market was firm.

Active preparations for sending off the political offenders against Louis Napoleon, were still going on, and it was said that over two thousand persons were waiting the completion of the arrangements in progress for their embarkation to the penal colonies.

GERMANY.—The affairs of Germany are without much alteration. The project of Louis Napoleon to annex a portion of Germany, was looked upon with great distrust, and it was thought that should he attempt to put it in execution, a general war would follow.

In some portions of the country there are many evidences of discontent.

HUNGARY.—Throughout Hungary, things were an unquiet aspect, and a number of political arrests have been made.

The following late and important news was received by telegraph at Liverpool, previous to the departure of the steamer.

ENGLAND.—The London Times, speaking of the reports relative to changes in the Ministry, says:—We merely state the fact as we believe it to be, that the attempts to effect a partial improvement in the Ministry, by the substitution of three or four new members for others of the present Cabinet who would retire, has not led to any result. It seems, therefore, the determination of Lord John Russell to meet Parliament without any material alteration in the Ministry.

The Morning Herald supposes that the Marquis of Normanby left Paris to be present at the Privy Council to be held at Windsor on the 10th.

PROTEST AGAINST KOSSUTH'S RETURN TO ENGLAND.—The Daily News copies a statement from a Hamburg paper, announcing that the Ottoman Porte has addressed a note to the English Government, protesting against the return of Kossuth to England, his liberation having been granted under the express condition that he should take up his residence in the United States.

The re-establishment of friendly relations between the Porte and Austria, renders it necessary that these conditions be fulfilled.

The present rates of gold at London leave but a small profit on importations from the United States.

PARIS, Friday, Jan. 9.—A conspiracy has just been discovered, the object of which was to let loose the convicts at the hulks, at Rochefort.

Sixty persons have been arrested at Montpellier on charges connected with the late disturbances.

It is announced that the promulgation of the Constitution of France will take place between the 15th and 20th inst. The reason for the delay is to allow time for the publication of the more urgent of the organic laws.

The prisoners lately confined at Ham, consisting of Gen. Changarnier, Lamoriciere, and their companions, have been set at liberty on the frontier, with the injunction not to return to France.

A grand review of the home garrison of Paris was to come off at the Champs-de-Mars on the 22d.

The commercial intelligence is regarded as rather unfavorable to Breadstuffs.

A SAD LESSON.—The True American mentions the release in Trenton of a man who has just been released from the State Prison, after serving a term of twenty years. During this time the march of improvement has been so rapid, that almost every vestige of all that was familiar to him then has been swept away.

Appointments by the Governor. Secretary of Commonwealth.—FRANCIS W. HUGHES, of Schuylkill county. Deputy Secretary.—E. S. GOODRICH, of Bedford. Attorney General.—JAMES CAMPBELL, of Philadelphia.

There is a good deal of dissatisfaction expressed amongst the outsiders with regard to the appointment of the Deputy Secretary. They allege that in this, almost the very first act of his administration after the delivery of his inaugural address, the Governor violates one of the leading principles laid down in that document.

He there makes loud professions in favor of the compromise, yet in this act appoints a rank Abolitionist as one of his privy councilors! We do not wish to be understood as complaining of this matter ourselves; we give it only as an evidence of the temper in which it is received by the Democracy themselves.

Mr. Goodrich, we think, will make a better officer than either of the other candidates for the station; and besides, he is entitled to favor, because not only of his own efficient efforts in behalf of Gov. Bigler during the late campaign, but of those of his friend David Wilmot and his fellow Abolitionists in his district.

The appointment of the Secretary appears to give very general satisfaction. We do not doubt but he will prove an able officer. To a certain clique of the Democracy, the appointment for Attorney General is exceedingly unpalatable, but they must grin and bear it, as best they can.

It is not a more nauseous dose than they have recently had to swallow in the triumph of Mr. Buchanan in the elections for delegates to the State Convention.

When new men are called upon to administer the government, the people look with anxiety for first acts, as likely to indicate the policy which will be pursued during their continuance in power. Words are but wind, which all can see alike, like the common elements of air and water.

The Governor, in his inaugural, gave a pledge of severity to the South, which we knew at the time was only to deceive the ignorant. Hence we looked for the first acts he should perform after he became seated in the Executive Chair; and we were glad to say, that they gave assurance to the friends of freedom, that the Governor regards with respect, the liberal sentiment of the age.

This first act, to which we refer, was the appointment of Mr. Goodrich as Deputy Secretary of the Commonwealth. Mr. Goodrich is not only a free soiler, and the head of a free soil paper in Bradford county, but is regarded as a man of high moral principle.

The dereliction of party men, and obliquity from the paths pointed out in the Constitution and Laws, find from him no favor. The corruptions of the Canal Board last spring in appointing Judge Ives, and General Brindle, to important stations on the public works of the State, though their seats were still warm as members of the Legislature, in defiance of the Constitution and Laws, were pointed out in an able manner in the Daily American, through the agency of Mr. Goodrich.

He assisted Mr. McPherson, the editor of that paper, in the able article, which appeared there, and would have been an essential service to the cause of the people, if corruption had not taken so strong a hold upon their minds. But he showed his desire to do justice to them, and we rejoice that his honesty on that occasion, has received an endorsement at the hands of the Governor. Such men are wanted in these times, and we are proud of our good old Commonwealth, when she sustains them through her Chief Magistrate.

In this appointment, the Governor has not only shown a desire to reward an honest man, but he has given to the Canal Commissioners an indication of his disapprobation of their acts. Whether the act of the Canal Commissioners, in the matter referred to, was really unconstitutional, we do not know; but we have every reason to believe that such was the opinion of Mr. Goodrich, as expressed through his organ, for the occasion, the "Daily American," and for his honest attempt to stem the tide of corruption in his own party, he deserves the reward he has received. We honor Governor Bigler for this evidence of regard for meritorious worth.

Nor will a large part of the people of the State, be less pleased with his appointment, because of the free soil sentiments of Mr. Goodrich. That such men should be cut off from the patronage of the democratic party, is most unjust; and while the Governor throws out the stuff about the "Compromises of the Constitution," he can neutralize its effects in this State by his real acts.

The half-masculated men who talk about preserving the constitution, will be pleased with the Governor's talk, while the double-fisted, who have been taught something about freedom and liberty, will be taken by this appointment. This is the way the world goes, so far as politicians are concerned. They rope them in from all quarters. Governor Bigler, so far, has shown great skill in business. He is eminently a practical man.

Jacob Ziegler, of Butler, has been appointed Chief Clerk in the State Department; H. L. Dieffenbach, Clerk of the School Department; G. B. Laird, G. L. Vliet, and J. L. Shunk, Clerks.

FROZEN TO DEATH.—Mr. George Heindel, a citizen of Windsor township, was frozen to death on Monday evening of last week, on his return home from town, from which he was hauling lime. He was found about a mile and a half below Daldastown, and not much more than a mile from his own residence, having unhitched his horses, two of which made their way home—the third, being blind, he had probably attempted to ride or lead. When found about midnight, search having been made soon after the horses returned without him, there was no life left in his body. As he was a man of sober and steady habits, he must have fallen a victim to the intense coldness of that night. He leaves a surviving widow and children.—York Republican.

JOHNSTON MCKEE, who was convicted in the Quarter Sessions of Cambria county some years ago, of passing counterfeit money, and sent to the Penitentiary has been pardoned. He had about ten months to serve.

Lucretia E. Newton, daughter of Honorable Edward A. Newton, of Pittsfield, Mass., has presented to the Episcopal Church in that town a splendid organ, worth $9,000.

A number of citizens of Chester county have united in an effort to restore the monument at Fossil, which, from time and neglect, has become almost a ruin. In this movement they expect to receive some aid from Philadelphia.

Items of News.

FROZEN TO DEATH.—A woman and her two children were found frozen to death in a snow bank, at St. Louis, on the night of the 14th inst. At Cincinnati, on the night of the 17th inst., a woman and a boy were frozen to death. On the following day two men were found nearly frozen. One of them was so badly frost-bitten that portions of his arms, legs, and face had commenced peeling off.

According to the notes of the weather made at the National Observatory at Washington, it appears that between the 15th of December and the 19th of the present month, both inclusive, there were eight falls of snow, the aggregate depth of which was thirty-one and a third inches. This is more than fell in the three preceding winters together, and more than in any winter within the last ten years.

A serious accident occurred in this city on Saturday last. It appears that two sleighs came in collision in East King street, by which a young lady, named Catharine Laucoumer, was horribly mutilated. The shafts of one of the sleighs penetrated her skull, dislodging one of her eyes, and otherwise seriously injuring her. She died on Wednesday last, in consequence of the injuries received.—Lancaster Republican.

UNPLEASANT TERMINATION OF A TRIP ACROSS THE ATLANTIC.—Among the passengers in the S. S. Lewis were a "Mr. Dixon and lady," according to the list. Upon the arrival of the said steamer, yesterday, officers Butman and Tardell, accompanied by an English police officer, went on board and waited on "Mr. Dixon," being one Mr. Edward Reynolds, and a defaulting clerk, from London, and a deserter from his wife, whose place had been usurped during the passage by the female who passed for his "lady." The amount of his alleged embezzlement from his employers was variously reported to be from $1000 to 10000. He was taken to the city marshal's office, and subsequently committed, to await further action in his case to-day.—Boston Post Girl.

FINE SPORT.—The people of Fort Des Moines and the surrounding country are making an organized demonstration against the wolves by which they have been for a long time annoyed. Thomas J. Brooke has been appointed Grand Marshal, and has issued General Orders No. 1, dividing the entire population into four divisions, and appointing marshals to the command of each. On the morning of the 20th each division is to form, as specified by the order, the whole to constitute a hollow square, with dogs in the rank of file closers, and at the command by signal the whole army is to advance towards the centre. Fire-arms are forbidden on the field, and the dogs are relied upon as the principal exterminators. The scene will no doubt be grand and terrible.—Dubuque (Iowa) Herald, Dec. 20.

A MONSTER.—A drunkard in Dearborne county, Ia., near Harrison, a short time ago, drove his wife from home in a cold night, as reported to us by the Brookville Democrat. She took with her a young child and started to a neighbor's. After being out awhile, he started a little girl of six years after the mother. The child was thinly clad, and started on her errand. Reaching a small stream, she could not get over it, and turned towards home. The drunkard says she had almost reached home in safety; but in attempting to climb the fence around the house, a rail slipped from its place, throwing her to the earth and falling across her neck. In this position she was found by her father the next morning dead, and cold as the snow drifts around her. Without lifting the rail or removing the corpse into his house, the brute started for an officer to hold an inquest over the body!

SERIOUS ACCIDENT AT THE BIG TUNNEL ON THE BALTIMORE AND OHIO RAILROAD.—After laboring about three years to pass under a mountain of rock, working day and night, the hands, from each end met together on Friday last. Those on the west end being nearer to those on the east than was expected, (only eight feet between them,) a blast was applied, which, when exploding, produced fearful and fatal consequences. From the number of work, which was eleven, one man was killed, and eight seriously, some mortally wounded. Two only escaped unhurt, and they were considerably stunned. They did not know that they were so near together until the explosion. How fearfully suggestive the truth, that "in the bloom of life we are in death," and "as the flower of the field we passeth away." Richard Carter is the name of the man who was killed.—Uniontown (Pa) Democrat, 15th inst.

IMPORTANT TO CALIFORNIA PASSENGERS.—Mr. Corwin, U. S. Consul at Panama, states that hundreds of our countrymen have arrived at Panama, with tickets purchased for the Pacific Mail Steamship Line in New York, from Berford & Co., and being unable to procure a passage thence to San Francisco with these tickets, the greater part of them having expended their all in the investment, have been compelled to remain on the Isthmus in the most abject poverty and distress, and not a few of them have contracted disease and died. Mr. Pint, the agent of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company's line, has written to Mr. Corwin, stating that tickets purchased from Berford & Co., are not recognized by the Mail Steamship Company. Zachrisson, Nelson & Co. state that Mr. E. Mills, agent of the Brother Jonathan, has no authority to sell tickets for the "Union." Persons going to California will govern themselves accordingly.
