LEWISTOWN, PA. Friday Evening, April 2, 1852.

After four or five days of as disagreeable weather as could well be expected at this season, the sun came out bright and cheerful yesterday morning, to the great joy of hundreds who were employed in moving kith and kin from one house to another. This morning it is again cloudy.

Message.

Governor Bigler has evidently become alarmed at the condition of our finances, in and out of the Legislature, to plunge the State into inextricable indebtedness. The prudent management of Governor Johnston not only averted all increase of debt during his term, but established a sure means, if carried out, for a gradual liquidation of the millions hanging over the taxpayers; and had the public works been under his supervision, we believe he would have saved at least half a million more which has either been stolen or squandered under their present inefficient management. Gov. Bigler knows full well that it will not do for his administration to create additional burthens, for the purpose of feeding and enriching the few hundreds who have already sucked the life blood out of Pennsylvania, because the time has gone by when taxpayers can be gulled with impunity into the support of men or measures, whether whig or democratic, adverse to the public welfare. He knows this well-and hence he recently sent a message to the Legislature which betrays the apprehensions ertained but too clearly. After recommending some provision for the cancellation of matured bonds, he gives his views of the finances and arrives at the conclusion that should the improvements be visited by anything like the extent of damage that befell them last year, they will yield no revenue!

The Governor then reiterates his conviction that the North Branch Canal ought clause that the debt and interest should be to be completed, and the planes on the repaid out of the tolls was stricken out. IRON VESSELS OF WAR .- Some experiments at the Washington Navy Yard have been made, which would seem to establish the unfitness of iron as a material for the hulls of vessels of war. A condemned iron vessel was procured, an eight inch shell was fired at her from a 50under gun, at a distance of three hundred and lifty yards. The shell went clear through both sides of the vessel, tearing large ragged holes (much larger than the diameter of the shell, and too irregular for plugging,) and scattering small and jagged fragments of iron, which in an action would be likely to prove more dangerous to her own crew, than a shot from an enemy's battery. Another shell fired have not yet been made. Mr. Sankey proposed an amendment to 22d, at his farm on the Little Miami, in Warren make it the duty of the committee also to nominate an electoral ticket, which was agreed and long-cherished purposes and policy of the

Mr. Mumma, of Dauphin, favored the resolution as amended, providing that the dele gates from each Congressional District furnish to the National Convention where such have been appointed, and where not, to nominate to the Convention suitable candidates. Also, to furnish the names of one from each Congressional District for Presidential Electors.

The Convention then adjourned to meet at three o'clock in the afternoon.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The Convention met pursuant to adjournment. The question was upon the amendment offered by Mr. Mumma as a substitute above. On this question the Yeas and Nays were called, which resulted-Yeas 54, Nays 55. But the resolution as amended was negatived-Yeas 55, Navs 62.

On motion of Mr. Killinger, the officers of the Convention were directed to appoint a Standing Committee of thirty-three for the en- III., formerly of Union county, Pa., in the 35th auing year, as soon after the adjournment of the Convention as practicable.

Mr. Killinger, Chairman of the Committee on resolutions, reported the following, which were unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That the Whigs of Pennsylvania, now, as heretofore, cling to and maintain the Whig organization as the best that has ever been devised to secure the prosperity and protect the interests of our common country : reaffirm their adherence to the time-honored party, and that, entertaining none but the kindest feeling for their Whig brethren of the whole country, we earnestly appeal to them to forget past differences, forgive past grievances, the Convention the names of the delegates and move in solid column, and act as one man against our common political opponents in the important elections at hand.

Resolved, That it is the duty of the General Government, in the enactment of Revenue Laws, to extend impartial aid to the industrial interests of the country-that now, as ever heretofore, the Whig party proclaims and maintains its devoted attachment to the Protective Policy, which alone can secure to the farmer, the manufacturer, the mechanic, and the laborer, a just reward for their toil, skill, and enter-

Resolved, That the Whig party of Pennsylvania is now, and ever has been, firmly and patriotically attached to the Constitution of the United States-that it neither seeks nor desires the amendment of that instrument, but holds all its provisions and requirements to be sacred

Resolved. That the Whig party of Pennsylvania is most ardently devoted to the Union as it is, and that it regards as treasonable all attempts, come from what quarter they may, to sunder the national compact, or to weaken its binding force and obligations.
Resolved, That this Convention, representing the nearly unanimous sentiment of the whigs of Pennsylvania, hereby reiterates the expression of their entire confidence in the sound political principles, and their high appreciation of the eminent public services of the Hero, Patriot, Statesman, and Captain of the age, General WINFIELD SCOTT; and that now, as heretofore, we present him for the Presidency as the undoubted choice of the pecple of Pennsylvania for that high office, and in the fullest confidence that, under his leadership, we can and will triumphantly carry the Electoral vote of Pennsylvania, without which no President was ever made.

Resolved, That the administration of President Fillmore deserves and receives our hearty commendation for the ab lity and patriotism with which it has conducted the foreign and domestic policy of the country, coming within its reach and influence, and that this commendation is based no less upon the dignified and unflinching manner in which our intercourse with foreign nations has been conducted, than upon its wise and beneficent management of domestic affairs, the reduction of postage, the enforcing of the strictest accountability and economy of public officers, and in supporting the protection of home industry, and improvement of rivers and harbors. Eminently national and truly conservative, we hail President Fillmore as a bright ornament to the party which elected him to the office he so worthily fills.

Resolved, That the delegates from this State to the National Convention are hereby requested and instructed to support the nomination of General WINFIELD SCOTT as the first choice of the whigs of Pennsylvania, and as A large number of the names of candidates giving a certain ground of hope of regeneratfor nomination as Canal Commissioner, were ing our noble Commonwealth, and placing it in building. the army of whig States.

Resolved. That we render our hearty thanks to Ex-Governor JOHNSTON for the many efforts put forth by him to reduce the State indebtedness, and lessen the State taxes; and deeply regret the defeat which deprived the State of his services as her chief Executive officer. His administration is one to be referred to as one of the proudest in the annals of our State, and adds new lustre to her fair name and fame, at home and abroad.

Resolved, That we recommend the Whig National Convention to meet at Philadelphia on the 17th of June next.

Mr. Coryell submitted a resolution expressing sorrow on account of the illness of Mr. Clay, and regret for the loss of his services in the councils of the nation, which was unanimously agreed to.

On motion of Mr. Karns, nine cheers were given for General Scott, when the Convention adjourned sine die.

The Editor of this paper would announce his return again to the duties of his station, which he has for four weeks been obliged to place in other hands on account of a severe cold. It is with pleasure he acknowledges his indebtedness to Aver's Cherry Pec-TORAL for cure from it, and great relief from suffering by its use, and now would from ex-perience recommend it heartily to others who may be afflicted as he has been, with a belief that they may also be benefitted by its use .-
