Destructive Fire.

Our town was visited on Friday night last by another destructive fire, which broke out about 11 o'clock in West Market street, somewhere in the rear of Schell's kitchen—at what point it is almost impossible to ascertain, as no two persons can be found to agree as to the precise spot. There was sufficient wind at the time to spread the flames with great rapidity, and in a few minutes Schell's buildings, Henry Kulp's dwelling and front building, a small building occupied as a barber shop, owned by M. Buoy, all eastward of Schell's; and McClintic's cabinet wares room and lumber, and Daniel Fichthorn's brick dwelling on the west, were mostly a livid sheet of flame, and with the exception of the latter, in a few hours reduced to ashes. The wind fortunately lulled in the height of the fire, and thus enabled the occupants of buildings across the street to prevent their roofs from catching. Buoy's brick building occupied by Dr. S. Belford, was burning at the roof repeatedly, as was also the frame building in the rear, and nothing but the most untiring exertions prevented these from being destroyed and the flames from spreading to the Democrat office, telegraph office and post office. On the other side there was also great intrepidity manifested in efforts to preserve Fichthorn's buildings, as had the flames once obtained the mastery there, A. Blymer's shop, and probably his fine dwelling, would have shared the same fate of those destroyed.

The hose was on the ground early, but we regret to say that the water was again stopped off, and when let on had so little head as to prevent the use of the pipe. The hose was accordingly used to conduct water into the engine, and almost useless as that concern is, the strong hands and willing hearts of the boys who manned it, did most efficient service—moving from one point to another as exigency required, and for two hours exposing themselves to a heat and smoke that drove others a hundred feet away. Lines were repeatedly formed to obtain a supply of water with buckets, and although ladies and even little boys willingly fell into the ranks, hundreds who might have given good aid, preferred to stand idle spectators of the scene.

Aside from the inconvenience attending such disasters, the actual loss is not very heavy, being in great part covered by insurance in the Cumberland Valley Company, and may be stated as follows:
Barber shop, owned by Major Buoy, insured for $250. Griffith, a colored man who occupied the building, lost nearly all his stock.

Henry Kulp, Esq., had both buildings burnt, and a portion of his furniture, &c. No insurance, but will be made up in part by voluntary contributions from our citizens.
Schell's house was unoccupied, and with a bottling machine and all the out buildings, was totally consumed. Insurance $1000.
McClintic's ware room was insured for $500, lumber for $266, furniture for $266, and a general insurance of $200. The furniture was mostly got out, some of it however in a damaged state. Mr. McC. is fully insured, but will still be a loser to some extent by a difficulty in procuring seasoned lumber and a want of suitable rooms for the sale of his furniture.

Mr. Fichthorn has an insurance on his property and furniture, but suffers considerable loss by petty deceptions, &c.
Dr. Belford had some furniture injured by removal and water. Several others, who considered themselves in danger, removed various articles, probably lost some, and are put to much trouble in restoring order.
It is generally believed that the fire was the work of an incendiary, though there is no evidence to show that such was the case. The buildings were all closely connected, all of combustible material, and of course liable to destruction whenever a spark, either intentionally or accidentally applied, obtained any headway.

The Cumberland Valley Insurance Company has been particularly unfortunate in losses by fire here within a few years, the amount now exceeding (including the Lutheran Church insurance, which they refuse to pay) $10,000.

We are indebted to Messrs. Cooper, Brodhead, James C. Jones, Seward, Smith, and others of the U. S. Senate, and to a number of members of the House of Representatives, for sundry speeches.

A new rifle company, called the Buchanan Corps, has been lately formed at Lancaster. Each member is to have a lance presented to him by the sage of Wheatland, wherewith to let out democratic blood.

On the 29th January, Gov. Bigler refoed a supplement to the act incorporating the Hanover Branch Railroad, because no limitation as to the amount of the bonds or obligations had been fixed in the bill; and on the 1st of April, Gov. Bigler signed a bill for another company containing the very clause he had vetoed in January!

CONNECTICUT ELECTION.—The locofocos of this State, having in the first place aided in getting up a temperance excitement, when the election came on turned round and voted for their candidates without a why or wherefore as to liquor, and with the help of whigs who opposed all of their own creed who had committed themselves in favor of the Maine Law, succeeded in electing a locofoco Governor and locofoco legislature. Our neighbor of the Democrat, we see, considers this result as "encouraging to the democracy," and in one aspect as "especially gratifying!"

While the bill authorizing a loan of $850,000 to complete the North Branch Canal was before the House, says the Philadelphia moved an amendment that the work be commenced by the first of June and that no part of the money should be used for any other purpose than that stated in the bill! This provision was unacceptable to the friends of the bill, and it was lost. Yeas 35—nays 51. This, we believe, is the first time the Legislature have, by any action, either positive or negative, winked at a dishonest disbursement of the public funds. The House, it is needless to say, has a locofoco majority of sixteen; the precise vote by which the proposed amendment was lost.

Corruption on the Public Works.
The Easton Argus—a ferocious Locofoco paper—acknowledges in a recent number the corruption which is known to exist on the public works. It says:
"Any change at all must be for the better, because the present system is as corrupt as it can possibly be made. We do not wish to charge corruption to any particular officer, but that there is a vast amount of Gulphian and favoritism shown, is beyond dispute. 'Figures,' it is said, 'won't lie,' but the figures in the published reports, do lie, when they represent the public works as being in a prosperous condition. We see it here on the Delaware Division, and we say it without fear of treading on anybody's toes or corns, that the State on this Division, is ruined—most shamefully ruined and ruined, and some of the men in authority know it. One of these days we will take occasion to refer to the figures. In the meantime let us hope that the whole Canal Board will be abolished, and some honest mode of managing our public works, substituted in its place."

THE BERKS COUNTY PRESS—also good Locofoco authority—has an article of a similar tenor, coupled with the new $850,000 loan to complete the North Branch Canal. We quote a few choice passages:
"The Public Works, are in the hands of a set of brigands who steal, and rob the people, to the amount of millions per annum."
Israel Painter, within a few months after his retirement from office, with Wm. B. Foster and others, offer to pay into the public treasury a yearly sum, ranging from one hundred and fifty to three hundred thousand dollars more than the Commonwealth ever received during their continuance in office. Do those gentlemen suppose that the people are so blind as not to see by this, that the state is annually swindled, and that they know where, how, and by whom it is done, but when in office, made no effort to prevent it?"

"A debt, for whatever purpose contracted, is a curse to the people, and with the experience of history, and our own, we are justified in saying that the man in power who can prevent it and does not, is unfaithful to his trust, recreant to his duty, and which inflicts an injury upon his constituents which he can never remove. This is precisely our position at present. Why not adhere to the prudent and satisfactory act of 1849, in regard to the North Branch Canal, and if there was no surplus in the Treasury to carry out the intentions of the Legislature, would it not have been the pride of Col. Bigler's Administration to have made a surplus, by economy, and strict accountability, and thus have saved his administration from the out blot of having added, to our State Debt, more than a million of dollars."

Thompson's Reporter recommends the refusal of all notes corresponding to the following description, no matter of what denomination it may be, or what bank it may purport to be issued by:
Centre vignette three females, agricultural implements, sheaf of grain, ship on stocks, &c., with a round die containing the figure 5 on each side of the vignette—on the upper right corner the letter V with the portrait of Lafayette in the centre, and FIVE on the lower corner; on the left end, upper corner, the word FIVE; and the letter V on the lower corner, with Franklin between; anchor, &c., between the signatures; engraving: "These notes originally belonged to the old Citizens' Bank of Maine, but they have been altered to a great many banks, and will continue to be altered to others, and we therefore wish our subscribers to remember their description. They are well engraved, and generally neatly altered, and are therefore the more dangerous to those not acquainted with them."

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE.—Twelve houses were burnt down at Hannibal, Mo., on the 23rd ult. The fire broke out in the stable of Messrs. Shout & Davis, who had twenty-five horses burnt up. Samuel Moss lost $2,000 worth of bacon.

The Monongahela river last week rose 35 feet at Monongahela city, the highest flood ever known there, and did a great deal of damage. Houses, barns, saw mills, grain and hay stacks, boats and lumber, have been floated beyond the reach of their owners, and a number of bridges carried away or injured.

A GREAT NEWSPAPER.—The New York Daily Tribune, of last Saturday, published a supplement of 24 columns in addition to its usual double sheet—making 72 closely printed columns in all—38 of which were filled with advertisements. The publishers say they expect yet to be obliged to print a supplement every day.

Gov. Kosuth and suit arrived at Washington city on Tuesday, from the South, and took up their quarters at the National Hotel. Kosuth expresses no disappointment that his reception at the South should have been less hearty and cordial than at the North and West, and he appears to bear his herculean labors without becoming care-worn or jaded. He will remain here but a day or two, as it is his purpose to visit Boston and Providence early in the coming week.

THE "MAINE LAW" IN NEW BRUNSWICK.—A liquor bill, of even more stringency than the Maine law, has passed both the House of Assembly and the Legislative Council of New Brunswick, and is now only waiting the sanction of the Governor, which it is understood will be given to it. The law is not to go into effect until June, 1853, in order to allow those who have capital invested in the traffic to get rid of their stock without pecuniary loss.

CONNECTICUT ELECTION.—An election for Governor and Legislature took place in Connecticut last Monday, and resulted in the choice of Thomas H. Seymour, the Locofoco candidate for Governor, by about 60% majority. The opposition have also elected 14 Senators and the Whigs 7. In the House, the opposition have 35 majority. This gives them 42 votes on joint ballot, and secures an opposition U. S. Senator to fill the present vacancy. The Maine Law entered largely into the canvass, and the result is held to be a defeat of that measure.

Taking the Democrats themselves for authority, not one of their candidates can be elected. One says Mr. Buchanan cannot get the vote of his own State, and stands no chance in the world for New York. Another, that Gen. Cass cannot get a vote in the South. Another, that if Mr. Douglas can get Illinois, it is as much as he can do. Another, that Gen. Houston cannot get an electoral vote this side of the Sabine. It would not become us to question those who know more than we do. Besides, we are very willing to believe them all.

The Pennsylvanian, the great gun of locofocoism in this State, is at present engaged in proving that "rum and democracy" are inseparable.

Married.
On the 5th instant, by the Rev. J. H. Brown, JAMES THOMAS and Miss ANGELINE STAHL, all of this place.

Died.
On the 11th instant, at Philadelphia, after a long and tedious illness, in the full assurance of a glorious immortality, ANNA BERTHA WOLFFREH, wife of James Bingham, in 63rd year of her age.

Communications.
Died, suddenly, at 8 o'clock on Tuesday morning, 6th inst, after the short illness of about 34 hours, MARGARET ANN, wife of Peter F. Kessler, of Mill Creek, Huntingdon county, Pa., aged 27 years, 2 months and 6 days. Oh, death! what an unfeeling monster! what an inexorable enemy! what a King of Terrors art thou, to seize as thy victim a wife so lovely, a friend so true and faithful, and a lamb of the fold of Jesus Christ so young, as was Mrs. Kessler! But death, we will not blame thee, for thou art but the child of sin. And even by this event we would be admonished to be ready to meet thee any moment, seeing all seasons and places are thine in this world; and we would thank "God, who giveth us this victory, through our Lord Jesus Christ."
Dearest sister, thou hast left us,
"Here thy loss we deeply feel,
But 'tis God that hath bereft us,
He can all our sorrows heal.
Yet again we hope to meet thee
When the day of life is fled;
Then in heaven with joy to greet thee
Where no farewell tear is shed."

THE MYSTERIOUS RAPPINGS.—The cause of the mysterious breaking of windows in a house in Vine street, in the Northern Liberties, has been discovered, and the evil removed. Instead of the windows breaking, as was presumed to be the case, by some unknown hand, it has been found that a little bound girl in the family, aged about twelve years, created the excitement in the house, and occasioned the destruction. The manner in which she operated was certainly very odd, and not until she confessed to the act was it known how the damage was done, notwithstanding Lieut. Nutt and several of his officers, and some of the friends of the family, were watching the house, inside and out. The little girl stated, after being closely interrogated, that she had thrown stones, potatoes, onions, and clothes-hooks through the windows, from within and without. The reason she broke the windows she alleged she did not know. On one occasion, during the week, the family heard the little girl of doing the mischief, but she strongly denied the accusation, and went bitterly. From her statements it was then thought the missiles came from another quarter, and she went to the kitchen, where another servant girl was at work, with another person in the same room. Here she continued crying; and at a moment, when the others were not watching her, she threw a stone and broke a window in the kitchen. This added more to the mystery, and of course the inmates of the house were much frightened. The whole number of panes of glass broken was sixty-eight. On Saturday the little girl was taken to the Almshouse, from whence she came three years ago, to be bound to the family referred to.—Philadelphia Ledger.

The old Prison property at Lancaster, was sold on Monday evening, for $3,400. Messrs. C. Hager and P. G. Eberman are the purchasers.
