Reduction of Fare--but not here. We see it announced that the Canal Com missioners have adopted a resolution to re--duce the fare on the Columbia Railroad to 21 cents per mile, in consequence of which the Directors of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company have lowered the fare to Pittsburgh to $9. All this sounds very well, but we hope when the directors again have up the subject of fares, they will take into consideration the gross injustice now exercised in charging the traveling public $2 from Lewistown to Harrisburg, or nearly 3½ cents per mile, while a number of petty towns below, can send their 'few and far between passengers for shorter instance, who devised the plan to charge $1 80 cents to Harrisburg, or 20 cents less than a through ticket, must certainly be one of Solomon's descendants, for no other we thinkcould have fallen upon an idea which would seem to imply that the more frequently a train is stopped, the less the fare ought to be! Yet such is the fact, not only as regards Newport, but many other stations, as any one can ascertain by inquiry at the ticket offices. What renders the charge here still more objectionable, is the fact that it costs a passenger with baggage 25 cents additional, or without baggage 12½ cents, to reach Lewistown-an item sufficient in itself to induce a "liberal company," as this professes to be, rather to go under their rates than to fleece each one 17 cents over and above the three cents per from Lewistown. If their charges are 33

SLAVE CASE AT HARRISBURG.—The Harrisburg Telegraph says—A colored man, well known in Harrisburg to most of our business men, named James Phillips, was knocked down on Monday afternoon last, at the railroad bridge, by one of the officers of Com-neissioner McAllister, who approached him under a feighned proffer of a shake of the hand; and before he could recover from the blow, he was secured and hurried off to Me-Allister's office. Phillips was then taken to the county prison, and there kept until Tuesday morning early, when he was taken in the cars to Baltimore. He has been rem the cars to Baltimore. He has been residing in Harrisbarg about fifteen years. He had married a respectable industrious colored woman, and had children.

The Harrisbarg Union says it was proved that Phillips escaped in 1838, and the prisoner admitted that he was a slave, and had run away from Culpepper county, Virginia.

Leasing of the Columbia Railread.

Several of the Philadelphia papers announce that the Canal Commissioners have leased the Columbia railroad for four years from the first of July next, and have given to certain parpassengers over the road for that time. The particulars of the arrangement, says the Lancaster Whig, have not yet been made public, but we have learned from various private well-informed sources, that Messrs. Israel Painter, late Canal Commissioner, Judge Dock, of Harrisburg-Gov. Bigler's uncle-Mr. Rockafellow, of Philadelphia, and others, are the contractors; that the wheel toll has been taken off and the State to that extent know by what authority the Canal Commisa caution respecting Lightning Rods.

Heisler, Fichthorn, and Dickson tion on the State road, in the face of the act sioners have undertaken to prevent competiof 1834, which especially provides that "individuals shall have the right to place cars on the road, and, under such regulations as may tive cars belonging to the Commonwealth, for excuse they can defend the removal of the fy this building up of a vast monopoly to tyrannize over trade and travel, and control the legislation of the State. We await such a defence, expecting locofoco politicians conveniently to forget all their former rant about the danger of monopolies, and to become the

> So much for one side-now for the other. We strongly suspect that this movement is one of the fruits of hostility engendered between certain parties by the location of sundry machine shops, &c., at an obscure and in many respects inconvenient point, and if so, the Railroad Company has been for once decidedly headed. This belief is strengthened from the fact that our neighbor of the Demo crat endorses the arrangement as a good one, and then adds-

"Notwithstanding the evident advantage which the new system gives to the State, some of the Philadelphia papers, in the interest of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, we suppose, were very indignant when this measure was first announced, and spoke of it as a "lease of the Columbia Railroad" and creating a monopoly, increase in male the present arrangement it was just as if under the present arrangement it was not one, and denied that the Canal Commissi ers had the power to make such a contract. was to be expected, as any measure devised for the benefit of the State and against the interests of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, whose efforts have been to break down the public imdistances at much less rates! The man, for provements of Pennsylvania, for the purpose of advancing their own interests, would call down from this place to Newport, and from thence clamor at the Legislature to lease the works for the ultimate benefit of this company, but where they are to be checked in their career of monopolizing that which of right belongs to the citizens of the State, it is characterized a great wrong. Now, we would like to know if there must be such an arrangement, if the people would not infinitely prefer having it in the hands of her individual citizens, in preference to those of a mammoth corporation, whose course of conduct has shown that their interests and those of the State were directly inimical to each other. We opine there can be but one opinion in answer, and that is they would. As to the authority of the Canal Board to make the contract, we think a reference to a decision of the Supreme Court, some years ago, on a similar contract, will set all such doubts at rest."

Events are certainly coming to a point, and though our citizens, who have had neither lot nor part in this fight, have been in a measure made the sufferers of a mistaken neile, merely because he is going to or coming policy—mistaken we believe both on the part of the Railroad Company and the other cents per mile, be it so-if not, let Jew and parties—we are somewhat curious to see " the

Correspondence of the Lewistown Gazette

Washington, May 15, 1852. FRIEND FRYSINGER:—After a lapse of several years, since you have heard from me, I avail myself of the occasion now to drop you a line from this (at present great centre) metropolis.

Washington City, as in times of yore, pre sents to me, comparatively speaking, same stereotyped appearance, save here and there an occasional new building-mostly, however, of a public character; and this im provement, too, confined principally to the only thoroughfare in the city-Pennsylvania avenue. But what a change has taken place in the character of its inhabitants, during a session of Congress! Hitherto, the city w characterized by dust and windy days only but now, blended with these disagrecables, are hordes of professional gamblers, pickpockets political demagogues, and "rum mills"—the latter evil not sparingly resorted to, or pa-

Speaking of politics, it would prove, no doubt, quite edifying, were you to pay but a flying visit to us just now, and witness the Harlequin capers which are cut in and around the Capitol, by would-be-nominees for the Presidency, and other aspirants, not to fame solely, but mammon. Indeed, I have witnessed many astonishing feats at a circus, and believed their execution outside the ring as a thing impossible—yet the antics of some of these vainglory politicians eclipse anything presented to the gaze of an audience under canvass.

I frequently stroll to the Capitol, in order to see and hear the people's representatives act and deliberate for the people's good; but wherever I go, in either branch of the National Assembly, my ears are assailed with long, dry, stale political harangues, emanat-ing from brainless locofoco members—arraigning this or that action of the heads of the various Executive Departments, charging them either with unnecessary expenditures of the public money, unfitness to discharge the duties of their station, inconsistency, or other the Cathedral in Baltimore during the preceding ten days, adjourned on Thursday last, after the celebration of High Pontifical Mass seen, when placed in the scales of "consis-Archbishop Kenrick, of St. Louis, and a tency," that he is found wanting. Did I say weather-cock, greased. made public or go into effect. Public religious services were held in the Cathedral ison, and I can only compare him to a bubble -now you see him, and now you don't see him. Senator Douglas, a man of some intellect, and dubbed "young America, it is thought, stands the most favorable chance of the nomination by the Democratic National Convention; though, there are so many in the locofoco ranks, willing to enter the course for the race in the Presidential nomination, that it is quite unsafe to speculate with any certainty as to who will come out winner. Be who he may, however, before his arrival to the "White House," he will surely be vertaken, and completely distanced by the bortunate nominee of the Whig party, and

Gen Scott will most likely be the man. Gen. Scott has claims on his party, such as none others can produce. He has done nore, practically, for our glorious Union-its preservation and welfare—than any other nan, or set of men, of his day. He has suc cessfully fought her battles for nearly half a entury-driving the foes of freedom far back from our shores, and at every step adling glory to our name, and winning laurely and golden opinions, both at home and abroad, by his unsurpassed deeds of valor. Emphat-cally, he is the preserver of this republic: and it is but a duty her sons owe him, to him on the highest pinnacle to fame within their gift. That Gen. Scott is true to is country, none can doubt-for found by her side, ready and willing to aid and sustain her at every hazard. What man has done

I have no doubt he will be selected as the most available candidate by the sober-thinking delegates at the Convention, which is to onvene in June: and I can assure you, that the name of Gen. Scott, is more dreaded by the leaders of the locofoco party at the Capid, than any other man in the whig ranks.

Now, that I have "spun" this communication to an unusual length, and knowing your taste for brevity, I must "wind up" my ball promising the rest to be shorter, if not more services.

Yours.

tary Tournament. Unlooked for entrance of the Unknown Knight. His subsequent escape and speedy detection. His mystery solved, for Mazeppa boildly avows his purpose, in attacking the Count, under the guise of the Black Knight. The Castellan pronounces his terrible and awful doesn upon Mazeppa, to meet which he is forcibly bound to A MAD TARTARIAN STEED whose fury is increased to desperation. He is launched onward by the exasperated horse amid the darkness of the night, and the yells of his incensed enemies.

They bound me on, that menial throng, Upon his back, with many a thong, Then loosed him with a sudden lash, Away-away-and on we dash

Away—away—and on we dash:
His flight is closed with a TORCH LIGHT TABLEAU:
Shrieks and cries of horror at the departure of the wild orse, with its suffering burden. A storm arises of fear ful warning in the heavens—the elements oppose each other; grand and solemn conflict—the deep toned thun-der, terrifying man and beast, impels the sacred and savage animal to new exertions, his frightful path, alone il-luminated by the lightning's flash-when, lo, a falling tree arrests their speed, and stopping horse and rider, both exhausted, presenting two separate images of death.

A moment staggering, feebly fleet, A moment with a faint low neigh, He answered and then fell; With gasps and glazing eyes he lay, And recking limbs immoveable,

His first and last career is done. Mazeppa finds a Father. A conspiracy is defeated. The Father preserved from the Assassin's Blade. Mazeppa wears the Diadem of Tartary. Directs a grand War Movement towards the enemy. The grand Romantic Spectacle with a magnificent
