The proceedings of Congress are somewhat of the following order. Were both houses whig instead of locofoco, every locofoco paper in the country would be howling over time misspent and the millions of acres of public land squandered to build up monopolies! The Paris papers are chiefly occupied with speculations, in relation to the coalition formed against Napoleon by the Northern powers, during the recent visit of the Czar. The London Times publishes the substance of the notes drawn by the Northern powers, who don't object to Napoleon's becoming an Elective Emperor, but announce the determination to resist any attempt to found or perpetuate an Imperial dynasty. In the event of Napoleon's becoming an Elective Emperor, the Northern powers would demand assurances that existing treaties would be observed, and that he would confine his rule to the present territorial limits of France, and explain Government. They profess to look upon Napoleon only as a temporary and provisional power, and recognize the House of Bourbon as the sole legitimate dynasty of France.

This expressed determination of the Northern powers, has caused much chagrin to the Bonapartist party.

The subject occasioned much debate, but was decided by a strong majority—70 for; 55 against it. This matter now stands as always contended it should stand. Free seats are advised, and pewed ones, by implication, are tolerated. Many of our western brethren apprehend mischievous results from this change of the discipline, but they will, we hope, be agreeably disappointed. THE subscribers are now manufacturing in Lewistown and Bellefonte their celebrated PATENT LIGHTNING RODS, warranted superior to any in use. These spiral twisted car-bonised Rods are light half inch in ten feet lengths, perfectly screwed together, with brass sockets, and put up through glass insulators in a most substantial manner—the whole mounted with a solid silver plated copper point, that will remain bright as long as the Rod stands. In this connection we would simply remark that a rusty steel or iron point can be of no use on a Lightning Rod, for the plain reason that they answer no end that would not be accomplished simply by sharpening the end of the Rod. Stabling for 8 horses, Kitchen, Wood House, Smoke House, and other out buildings thereon erected. There is also a well of water on the premises, Apple, Peach and Plum Trees in full bearing-in fact everything calculated to render

The store stand is undoubtedly one of the best in the country, being situate on the great avenue (the Centre and Kishacoquillas Turnpike.) on which hundreds of thousands of bushels of grain are annually taken to market; the new turnpike from Milheim, in Centre county intersects the Centre and Kishacoquillas road between the store and tavern, and this, now nearly finished, will largely increase the business—so that few places offer more inducements to an enterprising business man than this.

The location in other respects is highly favorable—being six miles from Lewistown, but a short distance from Brown's well known Mills, convenient to Schools and Churches, and an un-surpassed valley beyond, whose thrifty population daily pass the door.
