BLAKE'S

Patent Fire Proof Paint.

Prevention is Better than Cure.

WE are daily expecting an invoice of "Blake's Patent Fire Proof Paint," an article superior to any paint now in use. Its superiority consists in its durability, cheapness, and in rendering the building to which it may be applied, Fire Proof. Let those who would have an article possessing the above qualifications, call on Protection from Lightning.

THE subscribers are now manufacturing in Lewistown and Bellefonte their celebrated PATENT LIGHTNING RODS, warranted superior to any in use. These spiral twisted carbon rods are light half inch in ten feet lengths, perfectly screwed together, with brass sockets, and put up through glass insulators in a most substantial manner—the whole mounted with a solid silver plated copper point, that will remain bright as long as the rods stand. In this connection we would simply remark that a rusty steel or iron point can be of no use on a Lightning Rod, for the plain reason that they answer no end that would not be accomplished simply by sharpening the end of the Rod. One of the proprietors, being himself a practical Chemist and Electrician, would assure the public that these improved Rods are manufactured and put up on scientific principles. We deem the important fact that over six hundred thousand feet of these celebrated Rods have been sold in one season, a sufficient recommendation; nevertheless we have numerous certificates from prominent persons, speaking in the highest terms of their utility.

Our teams are traversing all parts of the country with all the necessary apparatus for putting up Rods at once.

We can be seen at Hamaker's Hotel, in Lewistown. Pedlars will find it greatly to their interest to call on us, as we are prepared to sell to them on accommodating terms.

GEO. W. ELDER,

Attorney at Law,

OFFICE in West Market street, opposite Eisenbise's Hotel, will attend to business in the courts of Mifflin, Centre, or Huntington counties.

Lewistown, Jan. 23, 1852.

PRIVATE SALE.

THE undersigned will offer for sale his well known and desirable business stand, situated on Valley street, Lewistown, known as the "LEWISTOWN POTTERY."

The advantages this stand has in location, the facilities it affords for a convenient and ready market for its wares, together with its very extensive patronage, renders it one of the most desirable in the country.

The WAREs manufactured at this establishment are far superior to any other in the six counties, and have a reputation that will ever secure the patronage of the public, from the fact of the material being inexhaustible, and connected with the concern by a lease of a number of years.

The business of Potting has been carried on successfully at this stand by myself and father for over 30 years, which is of itself sufficient advertisement to prove its advantages as a business stand. THE PERSONAL PROPERTY in connection with the concern, will also be sold, if purchasers desire it.

For further information, apply to the undersigned on the premises, or by mail to Lewistown P. O.

The business will be conducted as heretofore until further notice. All orders promptly attended to, and wholesale merchants allowed the usual discount upon the delivery of their orders.

Possession given on or after 1st January next, to suit purchasers.

J. A. MATHEWS.
Lewistown, May 28, 1852-tf.

Valuable Dwelling & Store Stand at Private Sale.

The subscriber offers for sale two lots of ground situated on the corner of the Diamond, in Reedsville, Mifflin county, with a large DWELLING and STORE STAND, Stabling for 8 horses, Kitchen, Wood House, Smoke House, and other out buildings thereon erected. There is also a well of water on the premises. Apple, Peach and Plum Trees in full bearing—in fact everything calculated to render it a pleasant home.

The store stand is undoubtedly one of the best in the country, being situated on the great avenue (the Centre and Kishacoquillas Turnpike,) on which hundreds of thousands of bushels of grain are annually taken to market; the new turnpike from Mifflin, in Centre county, intersects the Centre and Kishacoquillas road between the store and tavern, and this, now nearly finished, will largely increase the business so that few places offer more inducements to an enterprising business man than this.

The location in other respects is highly favorable—being six miles from Lewistown, but a short distance from Brown's well known Mills, convenient to Schools and Churches, and an unsurpassed valley beyond, whose thrifty population daily pass the door. It was last occupied by Wm. J. Glass, deceased.

A further description is not deemed necessary, as persons desirous of purchasing will of course call and examine for themselves.

For further information apply to Wm. Brothers, Esq., or Wm. McKinney, Esq., Reedsville, or to the subscriber in Armagh township.

It is to a suitable purchaser, terms will be made easy.

Whig National Convention.

This body assembled at the Hall of the Maryland Institute on Wednesday at 12 o'clock.

Profiting by the experience of their local predecessors, the Whig Committee of Arrangements made many improvements in arranging the hall, and in doing so, spared neither labor nor expense. The stage heretofore used was removed, and in its place a large platform in the centre of the hall was erected, extending entirely across the building; the spaces at either end of the room being appropriated to spectators, each capable of accommodating 1500 persons. The President's chair was placed on the west side of the hall, and the platform rises as it recedes from the chair, so as to enable those seated in the remotest part, to overlook the rest of the Convention. In order to prevent the noise caused by many feet running over the floors, the platform was beautifully carpeted, and the floor of the hall and galleries covered with matting. Seats were also provided in every part of the building. Another mode to insure quiet was adopted, in spreading tan bark over the streets that surround the building on all sides.

The decorations of the noble saloon are of the most tasteful and appropriate character; the walls from the cornice down to the top of the lofty windows, have been draped with red, white and blue bunting; whilst the gallery railing has been suitably adorned. Over the President's chair is suspended a life-size painting of General Washington, and directly opposite is a full length portrait of Henry Clay. On one side of the Hall appears, in bold letters the motto "The Union of the Whigs for the sake of our Union," and on the other, Webster's great sentiment, "Union and Liberty, now and forever, one and inseparable." The gallery opposite the President's chair is appropriated exclusively to the accommodation of ladies, whilst that on the other side is for the use of Members of Congress, of the State Legislature, of the City Council, and other invited guests.

Hon. GEORGE EVANS, of Maine, was named as temporary chairman, Mr. Upton, of Louisiana, as Secretary, and J. M. Bryan, of North Carolina, Assistant.

A committee of one from each State was then appointed to report permanent officers, and a similar committee for the purpose of receiving and examining the credentials of delegates.

A debate then sprung up on the adoption of rules, which continued until the committee on officers were ready to report. The committee reported as follows:

President, Gen. John G. Chapman, of Maryland.

Vice Presidents—Maine, Nathan D. Appleton; New Hampshire, George W. Nesmith; Vermont, Charles Coolidge; Massachusetts, Seth Sprague; Rhode Island, Robert B. Crans-ton; Connecticut, Samuel Hubbard; New York, James Stewart; New Jersey, Edward P. Cowles; Pennsylvania, John Strohm; Delaware, Caleb S. Layton; Maryland, Francis P. Phelps; Virginia, W. S. Goggin; North Carolina, Augustin H. Shepperd; South Carolina, William Whaley; Georgia, Scanton Grantland; Alabama, Thomas J. Frow; Mississippi, Joseph B. Cobb; Louisiana, J. C. Vandrunkle; Ohio, Samuel Vinton; Kentucky, John S. Williams; Tennessee, W. H. Sneed; Indiana, Milton Slapp; Illinois, Benjamin S. Edwards; Missouri, John G. Miller; Arkansas, William H. Gaines; Michigan, James M. Edwards; Florida, Joseph M. Hamman; Texas, N. M. Murray; Iowa, Archibald McKinney; Wisconsin, Jonathan E. Arnold; California, Richard W. Heath.

Secretaries—R. A. Upton, of Louisiana; James M. Bryan, of North Carolina; S. M. Ballard, of Iowa; W. F. Stewart, of California; Schuyler Colfax, of Indiana; John C. Kunkle, of Pennsylvania; W. C. Worthington, of Virginia; W. S. Perkins, of Connecticut; George W. Meeker, of Illinois; William Thompson, of Michigan; George W. Dunlap, of Kentucky; Justin Worrell, of Vermont; George P. Fisher, of Delaware.

A debate again sprung up as to the manner of voting, when finally the report was unanimously adopted.

The Chair requested the Hon. JOHN M. CLAYTON, and the Hon. S. F. VINTON, of Ohio, to conduct the President elect to the Chair. These gentlemen performed the duty assigned them, and the Hon. J. G. CHAPMAN, upon taking the Chair, was greeted with applause and cheers. He addressed the Convention as follows:

Gentlemen of the Whig National Convention—I tender you my most profound acknowledgments for the honor which you have conferred upon me, in calling me to preside over the deliberations of this most dignified, august and patriotic assembly. Gentlemen, we meet here as Whigs—we meet here as brothers—[applause]—we meet here with one common object—with but one purpose to achieve; and I could but wish, gentlemen, that you had conferred on some other member of this assembly the duties and responsibilities of presiding over the deliberations of this body. I feel, gentlemen, that these duties would have been more ably and efficiently discharged by the distinguished and able gentleman who has been the temporary chairman—a gentleman whom I have for many years recognized as being among the most distinguished patriots of this nation—a gentleman whom I am proud to call my personal friend and my political brother. [Applause.] Gentlemen, I feel that I possess but little parliamentary experience, and that I can bring to the discharge of the duties of the position, but few of the qualifications which a presiding officer of such an assembly as this should possess. However, gentlemen, I bring the disposition to discharge my duties, with a single eye to the preservation of all the rights and interests of the broad nation—with a single eye to protect the honors, interests and happiness of the people, living under a Constitution of which we fondly boast, adopted by those men who periled their lives and shed their blood to establish the happy Government under which we live. I bring this disposition to the chair, and I mean to discharge my duty without fear or favor. Gentlemen, we meet here as brothers. I know no sectional feeling. I know no South or North, East or West. [Applause.] I know but the country; its interests and happiness as identified with the great Whig party of the country. I believe that in the maintenance of Whig principles, depends the honor and happiness of the people at home; and our independence and elevated character abroad and throughout the world. We meet here as brothers from the North, East, South and West. Let kindness, harmony and peace characterize our proceedings, as they should the Whig party—the great conservative party of the country. I do pray, and I invoke you, as the conservative party of the country, to meet and unite herein your deliberations, entertaining the same feelings as I do. In these feelings of harmony and kindness, which I think have heretofore characterized the action of the Whig party, I invoke you, gentlemen, to look to the great interests involved in the election and connected with the success of the Whig party, to meet here in that spirit, and discharge your duties as becomes Whigs and brothers, having but one common purpose to subservise. Gentlemen, we may differ as to men, but we do not differ as to principles. Our purpose is to carry out the principles of the Whig party—those principles which, when administered under Whig rule, have so materially contributed to place this country in the proud position which it now holds among the nations of the earth. We have no personal preferences to subservise. I, myself, know no man or men in the discharge of duty. I look singly and solely to the welfare of the country, and the prosperity and happiness of the people, who live under the happy form of government, which has been ordained for us by men who are at least as wise as we are. Sir, with the Union and the Constitution, and with the policy which is known to be identified with the policy of the whole Whig party, I have no doubts about the success of the nomination whom we may present to the party throughout the Union. [Applause.] If we agree as well should, and come together in a spirit of harmony, determined to sustain those principles, I have no doubt our candidates will be elected almost by acclamation. [Applause.] If we have any sectional feelings, let us bury them, and like patriots, look to the interests of the entire country from the St. Lawrence to the Gulf of Mexico, and from the Atlantic to the Pacific. Gentlemen, I again beg leave to tender my acknowledgments for the distinguished honor you have conferred upon me, and I ask you to maintain a spirit of kindness and forbearance, that our deliberations may lead to a successful termination; and I undertake to say that the country will prosper hereafter under Whig administrations. [Applause.]

The Vice Presidents then took their seats upon the platform.

The President suggested that there was a minister of the gospel present, and that he be invited to ask the blessing of God upon the Convention.

The Rev. Thomas H. Stockton then delivered an appropriate prayer, in which he affectionately alluded to the Hon. Henry Clay.

A member said that the Committee on Credentials had an onerous duty to perform, and would not be able to complete their labors before 12 o'clock, to-morrow, to which hour the Convention adjourned.

SECOND DAY'S PROCEEDINGS.

BALTIMORE, June 17.

Mr. Chapman called the Convention to order at 12 o'clock.

Rev. Mr. Atkinson, of the Episcopal Church, delivered a feeling and impressive prayer.

The Hall is densely crowded and the weather excessively hot.

Mr. Watts, from the Committee on Credentials, made a partial report, and on motion the committee was allowed to set during the session of the Convention.

The President made a short address, urging upon the members assiduity and harmony.

Mr. Botts offered a resolution that the rules of the House of Representatives be adopted, and that each State be allowed to vote on all questions according to the number of United States Senators and Representatives, which was adopted.

Mr. Duncan, of Louisiana, offered a resolution that a committee from each State be appointed to draft a platform for the government of the Whigs of the Union, and that it be adopted before the nomination is made.

A lengthy and somewhat exciting debate here sprung up.

Two or three ineffectual motions were made to adjourn until the committee on credentials had reported.

The question was then taken on the motion to appoint a committee of one from each State to draft a platform for the guidance of the Whigs of the Union to be adopted before the nomination was made, and it was adopted—yeas 199, nays 76.

Maine, New York, New Jersey, Indiana, Michigan, Wisconsin, Ohio and Arkansas, voted in the negative.

FRIDAY EVENING, 10 o'clock.

We have delayed our paper until a late hour this evening, in order to furnish the readers of the Gazette with this day's proceedings of the convention, but find ourselves compelled to go to press with the following meager despatch:

BALTIMORE, June 18, 1852. 5 o'clock, P. M.

The Committee on Resolutions have reported a PLATFORM, with few exceptions, similar to the one approved by the Southern Delegates on Wednesday. Mr. Choate, of Massachusetts, expressed himself fervently that he had the privilege of voting in committee, in favor of COMPROMISE AS FINALITY, and believed agitation of the Slavery Question now forever at rest.

During the evening a debate sprung up on this platform, and it was doubtless adopted, but the breaking of the wires between York and Baltimore, and subsequently an interruption east of this place, prevented us from receiving full details.

The contest seems to be between SCOTT and WEBSTER, and we are glad to say that with the exception of a few fools, (some of whom will always find their way into such a body) the utmost good feeling prevails between the whigs from all parts of the Union, all of whom are animated by a desire to secure a nominee on whom the people can rally with a firm persuasion that victory will perch upon their banner. That nominee, we confidently hope, will be Maj. General WINFIELD SCOTT,
