Fair for the Benefit of the Lutheran Church.

The Ladies who have been assiduously laboring for some time in getting up useful and ornamental articles, have determined to hold a fair during August Court, for the purpose of disposing of their stock-the proceeds of which will be applied to rebuilding the Lutheran Church. They have now a fine assortment, from the sale of which, if their expectations are at all realized, they can contribute a liberal sum towards restoring the beautiful building so maliciously destroyed by fire.

Fatal Disease at Mifflintown--Our Duty as Citizens.

The citizens of Mifflintown, Juniata county, have been thrown into the wildest consternation during the past eight or ten days, by the appearance of a disease which, if not the cholera, is at least equally as violent and fatal, striking down its victims in a few hours under the most excruciating pain. We have strong doubts whether the disease is really the dreaded pestilence of Asia, and think it more likely to be one of those endemics at times produced with singular fatality by local causes; but as it is the part of wisdom to guard against the ills which flesh is heir to, no measures ought to be left untried to preserve the health of our own borough. Possessing but little authority, and that little at times difficult to execute, the Burgess and Town Council have done all they could do towards effecting that desirable object, and if seconded by the citizens at large, we shall probably present less inducement for disease to obtain a foothold than we have for years. In such case, should cholera, or any other fatal epidemic, visit us, we may find cause for congratulation that early steps were taken to destroy the miasmatic influences which at this time of year always exist.

gives the following account of the disease and

"Our town has been visited by some disease as singular in its symptoms as it is fatal in result, and which from its malignancy, extent and indifference to treatment, caused the utmost consternation and alarm. the fears of our citizens, but the interval of a week had somewhat calmed them, when on Friday evening the epidemic reappeared with the ntmost virulence, and in the course of forty eight hours, hurried off seven persons, which, to our small place, was a dreadful mortality. No cases occurred from Saturday till Tuesday, when a child which had imprudently eaten some green fruit, was violently attacked, Prompt remedies, however, seemed to check the disease, and though still dangerously ill, it is now in a fair way to recove No cases have since occurred. This was the first case which yielded to medicine, and from the fact that the latter attacks were much less malignant than the first, we believe and hope that the disease has spent its force, and that our town will now regain its usual health."

MISSISSIPPI,-Every Whig paper in this State supports the Whig ticket, Ratification have been held in different parts of the State, and the nomination of Scott and Graham enthusiastically responded to. The Natchez Courier say the Whig Electoral ticket is the ablest ticket ever presented in that State for popular suffrage. The prospects of the Whigs carrying this State are

THE AURORA, a new candidate for popular favor, made its appearance on Wednesday, and considering that it was got up without much preparation, makes a very creditable appearance. It is published by W. F. Shaw, at $1 per annum. The inaugural address of its editor and publisher lays down the platform on which he intends conducting his sheet, and if he follows it out, we may reasonably expect to see some happy and much needed reforms made in the democratic ranks of Mifflin county. On this subject he says: " Motives and designs may be imputed to us by those whose interests may not be promoted by our course, which we as an honest democrat should utterly deprecate and ab-There is nothing more common than the cowardly practice of assailing a man's motives -placing him in a suitable position and then knocking him down. We shall expect only to succeed by following the old landmarks of the party, and adhering strictly to Democratic principles, usages, &c., which it is our purpose to do. And while we would not dictate to the democratic party its future course of policy in this county, we cannot refrain from expressing our sincere conviction that unless a more liberal course of policy can be fixed upon than has been pursued for the last few years, we as a party will find ourselves in the ninority. Does any one ask for the proof of this? Examine the election returns of last fall as to local officers, and there read the answer in figures that will not lie. What we say is this—and we say it out boldly, without fear or favor—the success of the democratic party in Mifflin county requires a change in manner of making county nominations. We say to the party in the county at large to see to it, that the party organization is not sed as an instrument by designing politicians to advance their private gains.

We had expected to learn something respecting the ties which bind our opponents together when two exponents of democracy The stockholders of the Lewistown and appeared in the field, and must already con-Tuscarora Bridge Company have declared a fess to some enlightenment on the subject .dividend of 5 per cent. for the last six months. "There is nothing more common," says our Peter Christeana, West Market street, one new doctor, "than the cowardly practice of door west of the Red Lion Hotel, continues assailing a man's motives-placing him in a to manufacture boots and shoes of every de- suitable position, and then knocking him scription with neatness and dispatch. See down!" Well, that's not whig creed, by a ing force whatever, you aver the contrary, jug full, and coming from democratic authority, we must of course set it down as wing can show to the contrary-hence it is lath? fair to infer that in addition to the "cohesive power of public plunder," a good democrat is occasionally retained in the ranks by being knocked down! How such doses are liked, we know not, but we suspect are not as palatable as canal clover.

> In a subsequent article on "Legislative Nominations," the Aurora speaks as follows:

"Let it not be said of our Legislature, as far as Mifflin county is concerned, what was said of the one last in session-that a greater mass of corruption never assembled at the capital of Pennsylvania; and had there not been "one sober Indian in camp" our State would have felt its influence for many years

As this "mass of corruption" was in a great part composed of acknowledged locofocos, the sin of sending such stuff there must lie at the democratic door; and so "far as Mifflin county is concerned," it would therefore be well for the people hereafter to elect an honest whig, who would conscientiously follow the "sober Indian's" moccasin tracks so long as he kept in the right path.

But having no more room, we must close this article, and do so with the wish that our neighbor may thrive in his new vocation, certainly one requiring arduous and ill-roquited labor, and a well-governed temper to resist the use of the profane vocabulary.

THE COLLINS STEAMERS.—The compensation granted by Congress to this line of steamers, for 26 trips (to Liverpool and back) per annum, is $33,000 per trip, making $858,000 per annum, instead of $385,000 as heretofore Congress has reserved the power, at any time, after the 31st December, 1854, to terminate the arrangement for the additional allowance, upon giving six months notice.

The Congress that passed this bill giving The Juniata Sentinel, received last evening, away $858,000 per annum, is strongly locofoco in both branches. There is no claim preferred in this case-no pretence to justify it, except to keep up an individual who is engaged in running a line of steamers to England. In the meantime, while a locofoco Congress is bestowing nearly a million of three sudden deaths in Patterson had excited dollars per annum on a New York locofoco. where are the papers that have been velling Galphin, Gardiner, &c.? Have they no indignation to bestow on this robbery of the treasury-for if the payment of old claims is robbery, as they contend, this bestowal of money is infinitely more so-or is their love the unity of the locofocos, and tells us how Huntingdon break ought not to father all the for the people's interest confined to a limit beyond which they can see no wrong, however glaring it may be. Out upon such hypocrisy.

> Democratic Bolters .- Quite a number of Democratic newspapers and politicians refuse to submit to the proceedings of their party National Convention, and have resolved to give their aid to outside movements, Among the papers we may mention the Northern Democrat, published at Pulaski, N. Y.; the True Democrat, Ia.; the Knaska, Wisconsin, Telegraph; the Independent Demo-crat, Concord, N. H.; the Lowell, Mass., crat, Concord, N. H.; the Lewen, American; the Wyoming, N. Y., Mirror; the Manchester, N. H., Democrat. These, we believe, are all radical partizan Democratic They will mostly support the ticket which may be nominated by the Free Soil Convention at Pittsburg, Those papers in the above list which represent the New York Barnburners, declare that the mass of that party will not follow John Van Buren in supporting Pierce and King.

> "GIVE US YOUR HAND-So DO I."-Everybody hereabouts knows George Witherel, who for years has been a workingman in the Democratic ranks, and who has done that party good service. On Monday George met a democratic friend who had just returned

Cleveland (Ohio) Herald.

The Democrat-the New York Tribune, and the Gazette.

It is an easy matter for the Democrat to say that the New York Mirror, or others of that kidney, is a whig paper, and then launch out into anathemas against the Tribune and its assertions, either real or manufactured. Now Mr. Greeley has repeatedly asserted that he speaks for himself, and not for the whig party, and in condemning the platforms adopted at Baltimore, he made especial mention that such was the case. But of course t would not answer so well to make this fact known, as it would at once knock the whole pith of the Democrat's article into a mess of pi. So far as we are concerned, that paper is welcome to place us in any position it can in reference to slavery. We stand by the compromises of the constitution; are desirous of seeing them carried out in good faith, but have no anxiety to become a nigger catcher; we neither spit upon nor defy its provisions, nor any of the laws made in pursuance thereof, | trouble nor upon the platform, yet we cannot believe that an internal slave trade is less inhuman than an external; we also believe that Congress. A better selection could not be the shooting down of a poor black by a white man is as much murder as the killing of a white man by a black one; and that a Governor of Pennsylvania who makes a distinction between the two, is recreant to his duty. But while the Democrat is thus lashing poor Mr. Greeley-who no doubt will feel very unwell when he hears it-why does it pass over the transgressions of the New York Post, which, as any one can see by yesterday's Democrat, is recognized as Democratic authority. That paper condemns the locofoco platform adopted at Baltimore in the most unqualified manner, and unlike Greeley, who professes to speak only for himself, it undertakes to speak for the democracy. Now, there, Mr. Democrat, is a Pierce and King abolitionist of the first water, with whom you are found in company, and while he prates of at a platform which he alleges to be of no bindbut have no word of condemnation to utter good democratic doctrine, unless the other from your eye before you attack Greeley's

We have certainly no objection to David the general average, McClure obtaining an office, but it sounds at the hands of a whig administration.

The correspondent of the Philadelphia Ledger writes as follows respecting a late movement in favor of increasing the duties

Washington, July 18, 1852. Yesterday, the tariff got the last dig under the fifth rib, inflicting on the friends of that measure a wound from which they will not recover either this or the next session. An ngenious movement was made by Mr. Mace, f Indiana, to introduce a bill for allowing oreign railroad iron to come in free of duty. This might have afforded an opportunity to some of the Pennsylvania democrats to move amendments, increasing the duty on other pecies of iron, so as to bring the tariff of 1846, in that respect, to the standard originally intended by its framers and its friends. The bill, however, was laid on the table by a decisive vote, reconsidered, and the reconsid eration laid upon the table. This will be sad had stood manfully by the South in the defence of southern rights, and who had confidently expected that the South would reciproon the growing mining industry of the Keystone State. Recent attempts, by substituting home valuations for the present mode of co lecting duties, and thereby increasing the duty on every article of impost, suggested as they were by a noted delegate to the Baltimore Convention, were out of time and place but a simple proposition in regard to iron was entitled to respectful consideration, and hught not to have been strangled at its birth.

If, as was alleged, some ironmasters last year supported Bigler, as well as sundry locofocos for Congress, under the shallow promise that a locofoco Congress would be more iron, they can now realize what such promislighter their pockets are in the bargain.

the naughty whigs will not help them out of sins now or recently committed. their difficulties. Hear him:

All the land bills are now in a precarious position, the whigs being determined to produce as much discontent among the Northern Democrats as possible, and the large Democratic majority in Congress being so completely cut up in factions, ready to cut each others throats, that it cannot carry a single measure professedly Democratic in either house. The Whigs are constantly taunting the Democrats with their nominal strength in the House of Representatives, which, for all practical purposes, is not worth a pinch of snuff. Well, there must be a loving set of brethren among the democratic ranks in Congress if they are ready to cut each other's throats, as the Ledger man says they are-though we must say there would not be much lost if their threats were carried out.

Scott declined the proffered Secretaryship from considerations of deference to hi superiors, and surely here was none of the

We have no alternative but an appeal to your liberality to aid us in securing a new site, and in order to make it permanent, we desire to purchase a lot and erect a plain substantial edifice. Our pecuniary resources are too small to undertake it alone, our revenue being principally derived from the initiation fees and dues of members, which are comparatively small, and but little exceed the ordinary "economical administration of our government."
