..... Alarming Accident -- Railroad Bridge Broken Down.

The New York Conrier and Enquirer of nati. Tuesday morning, says:

Yesterday afternoon, about ten minutes to way to this city from Boston, the engine and forward baggage car had no sooner mounted Washington bridge, about twelve miles this side of New Haven, than the structure gave way a distance of about 130 feet. The engine and baggage car were instantly precipitated into the river, but fortunately, the after cars, which contained passengers, were stopped in time to prevent loss of life. No one was injured. The engineer. baggage master and fremen, escaped by jumping off. The cause of the accident is attributed to carelessness on the part of the switchman in turning the switch the wrong way, or in leaving it in the manner he arranged it a short time previous New York train, on reaching the bridge, consequently ran off the track and caused the bridge to fall. Great alarm and consternation were created among the passengers, and about six hours elapsed before they could proceed on their journey. The bridge being prostrated, the passengers crossed by other conveyance, and the train which left this city yesterday at 11 o'clock, brought them to New York. They arrived about 10 o'clock last night. The engine was broken, also the baggage car of the wrecked train, and some of the baggage was broken and seriously damaged by falling into the river.

FATAL REALIZATION OF A PRESENTIMENT. On Tuesday week, Win. Huey, of Delaware, just across the line from Kennett, Chester county, left his home in company with two of his men, to fell a tree. At first, one of his men objected to go, in consequence of a sin-gular dream of the night previous, which so impressed him with danger, that he was fearful of its reality. He finally went, however. When the work was nearly accomplished, and to fall, Mr. Huey took hold of a branch, and attempted to push it-he was warned to leave,
