

Political.

Old and New Democracy. The Pittsburg Gazette has the following from an old fashioned correspondent: CHANGE OF TACTICS. I wish to relate an incident that occurred at a party given by President Madison in 1814, to show the position occupied by the Federal and Democratic parties at that day.

Brownlow on Pierce. The locofoco papers have been regaling their readers for several weeks past with quotations from Brownlow's Knoxville Whig, on General Scott. As that paper seems to be such good authority with them lately, we invite their attention to the following extracts from the same paper:

"When it (the Pension Bill of '41) was sent to the Senate, it was opposed by the 'strict constructionists' and cold blooded 'Funks,' who now aspire to the Presidency."

"When Gen. Pierce was first elected to Congress from his own State, he was a 'drug' upon his party. It was in 1833, when the General Ticket system prevailed in New Hampshire, Pierce fell more than three thousand votes below the average vote of his party, and if the parties had been anything like divided, he would have been shamefully beaten."

"Much may be known of the man by the company he keeps. Pierce is on the most intimate terms with Prince John Van Buren, and as he has ever been the fast friend of Old Grimalkin of Kinderhook, when he styles, 'A TRULY PURE AND GREAT MAN!'"

"We cannot support such a man, until principles with us become obsolete."

Testimony in Point. In the U. S. Senate, the bill creating the office of Lieutenant General being under consideration, the following observations were made:

Mr. Hamlin, of Maine, (Pierce Dem.) said: "I think as highly, and I speak openly and publicly everywhere, of the distinguished General upon whom this rank is to be conferred, as any Senator here."

Mr. Rhet, of S. C., (States Rights Dem.) said: "I shall vote for the resolutions, on the simple ground that General Scott merits it—any testimonial of your sense of his high and distinguished services should be cheerfully paid. He has shed glory on the United States, and we, representing the States, ought to bestow on him all the honor we can with propriety bestow. I shall vote, and vote most cheerfully, to bestow on this distinguished soldier the honor the resolutions proposed, on the simple ground that he has fairly and gloriously won it."

Mr. Butler, of S. C., (States Rights Dem.) said: "I concur with my colleague in saying that I shall vote for this resolution most cheerfully, as a tribute to Gen. Scott. He has won for himself and his country a historical reputation, and I am willing, as far as I can, to bear testimony in my official character to his merits."

Mr. Hale, of N. H., (Proseil Democrat) said: "I believe myself, that as far as military skill and military prowess are concerned, Gen. Scott has a reputation compared with which no man in the world can stand before him. I believe, and I am sustained by information from military men, who were with him in Mexico, that greater skill, greater science, and more of those characteristics which go to make up a great soldier, never were displayed by any mortal man than were displayed by Gen. Scott, from the time he landed at Vera Cruz until he entered the city of Mexico."

HENRY CLAY, of Ky., (Whig) said: "I do not mean to dwell upon the merits of the individual, when it is proposed to reward him; the whole country, the whole world rings with his praise in a military point of view. If there ever was an instance in which it was the duty of a nation to offer its sentiments of gratitude with a view to stimulate future military action, by bestowing the rank, costing nothing, but grateful beyond description to the individual who may receive it, the case of the conqueror of Mexico presents such an instance."

Mr. Foote (Union Pierce Democrat) said: "I honor the illustrious personage alluded to so often in the progress of this debate, as highly as any one here. All the commendation bestowed upon him on this occasion is, in my judgement, not at all beyond his deserts; as a patriot I recognize him as entitled to the most profound respect; as a high minded and accomplished gentleman, he possesses my esteem and affection; as the victor upon many a well-fought field, in which the national honor was maintained, and the enemies of our beloved country humbled before our triumphant flag, I respect him, I am grateful to him, I am proud of him."

My Vegetable Anti-Dyspepsia Bitters. This Medicine is a certain cure for Dyspepsia in its very worst forms. Thousands of cases have been completely cured by it within the last year, which have been entirely despaired of by the regular family physician. We do not recommend it to cure everything—we recommend it to cure Dyspepsia, and the various ailments resulting from it, and that it will cure in almost every case, and it is recommended for nothing else. In many instances, even the worst of cases have been completely cured in two and three months, but it depends somewhat upon the constitution of the patient. We would say to all who are afflicted with this distressing disease, to get one box and try them, and in all cases, two boxes are warranted to cure, if taken according to the directions, or the money returned. These pills not only produce a perfect cure in three days, but remove the bile and create a healthy action of the liver, and consequently fortify the system against a future attack.
