INTRODUCTION OF NEW GRAIN, &c.

The experiment by the Patent Office of introducing and distributing useful seeds, plants and cuttings, obtained from foreign countries, as well as different regions of our own, has been very successful, and style will richly compensate for the cost. The Turkish flint wheat in the Middle States has proved highly adapted to the soil and climate, and its quality of grain has been much improved. Its yield is thirty bushels to the acre, which, in the area annually of ordinary wheat, would increase the production fifty millions of bushels, and add fifty millions of dollars to the wealth of the country. The King Philip or broom corn, obtained from an island in a variety of new New Hampshire Lake, has been extensively cultivated in New Jersey, Pennsylvania, corn to an acre. The Chinese sugar cane is of easy cultivation in the Middle States, and produces seven tons of fodder to the acre. Its juice may be converted into sugar, syrup, alcohol or beer, and may be used for dyeing wool or silk a permanent red. This plant is considered more useful than any introduced into the country since the introduction of cotton and wheat. The German millet has proved very productive; the Chinese yam, a good substitute for the potato, has succeeded well; the earth almond has naturalized itself, and proved very prolific; so the Persian walnut, the almond, the cork tree. Many varieties of the prune and other fruit trees, have been so successfully cultivated, that we shall probably supply the wants of the Union with many kinds of fruits now imported in large quantities. There has been STORE AND MANUFACTORY. a large amount of medical plants, and those used for condiments, distributed and cultivated with advantage, others for their fibre and for their usefulness in the arts; but our limits will not allow us to enumerate all the kinds and varieties. ## OXEN vs. HORSES.

The "Wool Grower" says that "the plowing matches throughout the country have established the fact, that oxen can plow a given space of ground as quick and as well as horses." We do not know how this may be, but we do know a gentleman who puts a yoke of Devon oxen to a plow, immediately behind a team of three good causing hair to grow, and removing dandruff and other causing hair to grow, and removing dandruff and other causing hair to grow, and removing dandruff and other causing hair to grow, and removing dandruff and other causing hair to grow, and removing dandruff and other causing hair to grow, and removing dandruff and other causing hair to grow, and removing dandruff and other causing hair to grow and removing dandruff and other causing ha horses, and they do the same days' work of plowing that the horses do. They are stabled, and curried and fed like horses, and do all the work required of them with as much spirit .- American Farmer.

GROWING GRAPES IN POTS.

One of the finest ornaments produced by horticultural science is the raising of grapes in pots. There can be no sight in Pomology more beautiful than a well-trained vine in full fruit, for an ornament to a conservatory, or for a table at a public dinner. To accomplish this desirable object in the most speedy way, a good branch of a bearing vine should be layered into a pot or small tub, in the winter, before fruit spurs start. In this way it will form its roots and immediately set its fruits, go on and perfect them, and thus present in a single year a handsome vine. With a judicious care, the vine can be separated from the old one, and the pot removed with the fruit perfected. Great care should tured under his immediate superintendence by be had not to let the vine overbear; this competent and faithful workmen, or should a fit affects the size of the clusters, and the size of the berries. The circumference of the vine will always guide the grower as to the number of clusters and the weight of crop the vine can ripen.

SAVING BACON.

As the season will soon be at hand for our farmers to lay up their usual stock of bacon, the following from a correspondent of the New England Farmer may serve a good purpose; -- "He was once entertained at the house of a friend, and at dinner he had reason to compliment him on the excellent quality of his bacon, and inquired to know his method of preparing and preserving. He stated that it was his practice to slice and fry his bacon immediately on its being cured, and then packed it down in its own fat. When occasion came for using it, the slices, slightly refried, had all the freshness and flavor of new bacon just prepared. In this way our friend had always succeeded in 'saving his bacon' fresh and sweet, through the hottest weather."

TO CURE A COLD, with Headache and Soreness of the Body. Take the Cherry Pectoral on going to bed and wrap up warm, to sweat during the night.

FOR A COLD AND COUGH, take it morning, noon and evening, according to directions on the bottle, and the difficulty will soon be removed. None will long suffer from this trouble when they find it can be so readily cured. Persons afflicted with a seated cough, which breaks them of their rest at night, will find by taking the Cherry Pectoral that on going to bed, they may be sure of sound, unbroken sleep, and consequent refreshing rest. Great relief from suffering, and an ultimate cure, is aforded to thousands who are thus afflicted, by this in forded to thousands who are thus afflicted, by this invalu-able remedy. Mr. H. M. Bowman-Dear Sir:—I feel it my duty to let you know what your compound has done for my daugh-ter, and wish you to publish it if you can in hope that ome suffering one may be induced by it to try your val e medicine and be cured. My daughter was married 553, and went to Cincinnati to live, where her husand (James Hoyt,) was engaged in business. In six conths after her husband died, and I sent for her to come ome, where in four months she was confined and caugh cold which settled on her lungs. It seemed as though w could get nothing to help her. We tried six differen physicians for over one year and then sent to New York to a celebrated physician there, and she took medicine from him for eight months; but he could not cure her Her cough was fixed and stubborn and seemed as though it would tear her breast during the paroxysm of cough and her breathing was at times very difficult. Faiting t get relief from physicians, we thought we would try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and she took it regular for seven weeks, but it did her no permanent good. We then tried Sellers' Imperial Cough Syrup, but with all she still be came worse, and it seemed as though she was beyond came worse, and it seemed as though she was beyond cure, when one day my wife was in at one of our neigh-bor's houses (Mr. Mayness') and she saw them give your Vegetable Compound to one of their children for a cough and she got three or four doses to bring home and try it. After my daughter had taken it she breathed a li ster, and we sent and got a bottle of it, and when it was taken there was a marked change for the better. Mrs. S. E. B. WARNER, Principal of the Female Department.

THE Fall and Winter Session of this Institution commenced Thursday, Oct. 16th, and is now open for the reception of students. It is the design of the present teachers to devote themselves exclusively to the interests of the Academy; to establish a full and thorough course of education, practical and ornamental, both in the male and female departments; and to render the facilities for acquiring useful knowledge desirable, not only for those in the immediate vicinity, but also for those living abroad. Particular attention will be given, in the male department, to the practical application of Geology and Chemistry to Agriculture and general Arts. No pains will be spared to keep up a good and careful discipline, and to maintain a high moral and Christian character in the school.

THIS Institution is designed to afford facilities to male and female pupils for the acquisition of a solid and ornamental education. The course of study in English, the classics, mathematics, and natural sciences, is thorough and extensive—designed to qualify young ladies to act well their part in life, and young men for entering any class in college or any of the liberal professions. The studies will be adapted to the capacity of the student, so as to secure a symmetrical development of the mird. This institution enjoys many superior advantages. The locality is proverbial for healthfulness—students are far from scenes of vice and immorality so common to large towns and small villages, as the institution is entirely in the country. It also common to large towns and small villages, as the institution is entirely in the country. It also enjoys the advantages of a preached Gospel, of a moral and intelligent community, and of the most beautiful mountain and valley scenery. Parents and guardians may rest assured that the Principals will spare no pains to preserve the health, and improve the minds and morals of all that may be intrusted to their care.

Terms:—$55.00 per session of 5 months—This includes tuition in the English branches, board and furnished rooms. The common charges made for Music and the Languages. Light and Fuel at the expense of the student. Payments quarterly in advance. No deduction made, except in case of material illness.
