HIGHLY IMPORTANT TO FARMERS. M. M. FAXON'S

Attachment of Vulcanized India Rubber Spring to the Tubes of Grain Drills. MIE undersigned, having perfected an arrangement for I the attachment of a Gum Spring to the Tubes and Drag Bars of Grain Drills, is happy to inform Farmers and all others interested in the growing of Wheat and other grains, that he is prepared to furnish GRAIN DRILLS, with the above article attached, at the shortest notice, at his Foundry, in McVeytown, Pa. Seeders have become an almost indispensable article to the Fermer, and he will find that the attachment of the Gum Spring will enhance its value at least one-half. All the deten tion and trouble caused by the breaking of wooden pins is entirely done away with by this arrangement, and a man, or boy, can perform nearly double the labor that he could under the old plan, with much greater ease, both to nimself and horses. There need be no fear of the Spring oreaking, for if there is an article that will neither break rot, or wear out, the Gum Spring is that article, and hazard nothing in saying that my Grain Brill is the sim cultural public. The feed is so arranged that it will sow , 1_1^2 , 1_2^4 , 1_3^4 , and 2 bushels per acre. Persons desiring one for the coming seeding are requested to send in their orders as early as possible. NEEDLE MANIA. Charles Sumner, M. D., gives a rather strange account in the Rochester (N. Y.) Union of a case of mania for sticking needles and pins in the flesh: The subject was a young lady, nineteen years of age, of nervous temperament, very healthy, and the daughter of a respeciable farmer in Butternutts, Otsego county, N. Y. She first came to my office April 28th, 1853, to have a needle extracted from her left arm, which she said "got in accidentally as she was moving a bundle of carpet rags." This, a medium-sized sewing needle, was soon found and extracted from the anterior side of the fore arm, about midway between the wrist and the elbow. In less than a week she called again, saying she had another needle in her arm. I examined and found deep in the bend of the arm, a hard substance, which proved to be a needle similar to the first, and accounted for in a similar manner. One week after this the arm was very much swollen, painful and presented the appearance of malignant erysipelas. which continued about six days.

The writer then goes on to detail the extraction of a large number during a period of about three years, and winds up as

The whole number extracted was, of sewing needles, 297-and these were of all sizes-pins, 67; darning needles, 2; hair pins, 5; knitting needles and wire, each 5-total, 383. Great efforts were being made on the part of the family to detect her in the act of inserting the needles, but in vain. It was ascertained by comparison that most of them were taken from a box of needles which had lain in the house for a long time. This was removed, but she contrived to use the same kind, evidently from a supply secreted about the premises. Almost every means has been resorted to, to find the reason for so strange a fancy; but nothing has yet developed it. She is firm in her denial of knowing when, how, or why she did it; simply saying "it must be that I do it, for I know no one else does." She is perfeetly sane on every other subject, although the effect upon her general health has been bad, yet during a great share of these years of suffering she has performed her accustomed portion of household duties.

A MISSIONARY SENTENCED.

One of the city missionaries of Boston, Rev. Peter Mason, was invited with his family a short time since, to spend the atternoon at the house of a friend, and on returning, he found his house in the hands of a crowd of people, at the head of whom was Judge Russell of the Police Court .-The Judge explained the unusual demonstration to be "on account of the conduct" of the missionary, and proceeded to pass the following sentence:

Father Mason: You have been accused of divers grave offences. It is charged that having the fear of God and the love of man before your eyes, moved by the instigation of humanity, you have habitually sought and relieved the destitute, the sick and the afflicted; that you have preached the gospel to the poor; that you have comforted those in prison. It is said that you have believed that even the men and women who have been convicted of being "drunk by the voluntary use of intoxicating liquors," might yet have hearts to feel and souls to save. You are further charged with diminishing the number of inmates at the jail, (and the jailor conspires to to have any parents at all, nor no home cloak your offence;) with reducing the fees | nor no nothing.

of constables and the business of the Court. You bring the laws into contempt by preventing the crimes they are intended to punish. You are known to be an old written for the second Old Folk's Concert, will not depart from these ways as long as gle, before the decision of the Presidential you live.

Now receive the sentence of the Court -and as a famous Judge said on sending a convict to State Prison for life-I wish I could give you a heavier sentence, (giving him a purse of $138 in gold.) And you, Mrs. Mason, as you have shared your husband's trials, and helped him to bear his afflictions, as only a woman could, it is right that you should share his joys, (giving her a purse of $50.) Our gift is accompanied not only with kind wishes and warm regards of these friends, but with the prayers of many who have been in distress or saved from vice. I have passed sentence on your husband, and I do not doubt that both of you, continuing your charitable labors in life, will hear the final sentence : " Inasmuch as ye did it unto one of the least of these ye did it unto me."

A RUNAWAY MARRIAGE IN HIGH LIFE.

The Bride Worth $250,000 .- A marriage took place in Grace church on Monday last, that has excited no little interest in fashionable circles and caused quite a fluttering among certain wealthy families. It seems the bride is an heiress, and worth in her own right $250,000. She was the inmate of one of our most exclusive female seminaries, and is but fourteen years and eight months old. Her wealth and high position of her family were of course known to her associates, and her acquaintance was consequently courted. Among the gentlemen she was introduced to was - K-, a well known habitue of Fifth Avenue saloons, but who had reached the mature age of thirty-one years. The acquaintance ripened into intimacy, and eventually the parties became engaged to be married; but as the parents might interpose an objection, it was arranged that it should take place unknown to them or any of the young lady's friends. It was agreed that the happy event should come off last Saturday (St. Valentine's day) and the church was opened, the minister ready, and a few spectators had also assembled to witness the marriage ceremony which was announced for 11, a. m. But noon came and went, and no bride made her appearance, and the church was closed. It seems the couple were duly married in one of suffering great pain. our most fashionable up-town churches on the 15th inst. The bride and bridegroom immediately started for Washington, and young ladies in upper tendom, and is to

A young man named Coffman burned his father's barn, valued at $1200, and then stole $130 of money from the old man; another youth of the name of Frazer, robbed his father of $200; the body of an unknown man was found in the streets, on Wednesday morning of last week, who had been murdered the night previously; the cholera is decimating the hogs; a series of riots, fights, &c., had occurred within a week, and the Postmaster at Melnore, (near enough to Tiffin to be within the evil influence,) had recently robbed the mail of monied letters, but escaped before the officers of the Commonwealth could catch him.

Whew!-The Kansas Kickapoo Ranger appears to be holding on to the good old Border Ruffian times. See how the Ranger kicks: "Kansas must and shall be a slave State. Mark what we say, Southern freemen! Come along with your negroes, and plough up every inch of ground that is at this moment disgraced and defaced by an Abolition plough. Send the scoundrels back to whence they came, or send them to h-l, it matters not which destination; suit your own convenience. people of Kansas, which was passed by the house of Representatives on Tuesday question would have given rise to the most furious agitation and have been attacked, defended and discussed throughout the country. The provisions of the bill are of a sweeping character. The preamble, passed by a vote of 95 to 68, declares that the laws of the Territory of Kansas passed by the Legislature at Shawnee Mission prescribe unjust and unwarrantable test oaths as a qualification for voting or holding office in said Territory; and whereas the committee of investigation sent by the House of Representatives to Kansas, report that said legislature was not elected by the legal voters of Kansas but was forced upon them by non-residents, in violation of the organic act of the Territory, and, having thus usurped legislative power, it enacted cruel and oppressive laws. the bill proceeds to declare said laws null and void, to ignore the legal existence of "a body of men" assembled at the Shawnee Mission, Kansas Territory, "claiming to be the legislative assembly of said Territory," and directs the Governor of the Territory by proclamation, to fix the time and places for an election of members of the legislative assembly. Remaining sections of the bill prescribe the qualifications of voters, imposes fines and imprisonment for illegal voting. The bill has yet to go to the Senate. Profane swearing is abominable .-Vulgar language is disgusting. Loud laughing is impolite. Inquisitiveness is offensive. Tattling is mean. Telling lies is contemptible. Slandering is devilish. Ignorance is disgraceful, and laziness is shameful. Avoid all the above vices, and aim at usefulness. This is the road in which to become respectable. Walk in it. Never be ashamed of honest labor. Pride is a curse-a hateful vice. Never act the part of a hypocrite. Keep good company. Speak the truth at all times. Never be discouraged, but persevere, and mountains will become mole hills.

Singular Accident .- An accident of a singular character happened in the neighborhood of Middlebrook, in Augusta county, Virginia, on Tuesday of last week .-Several young men went out to shoot some pigeons, and when Mr. John Argabright that the principal of the seminary in which fired his piece, which was heavily charged, the young lady was a pupil got wind that the breeching of the gun gave way, forcing something unusual was on the tapis, and a screw into his forehead, the head foreshe locked the would be bride in her room most, an inch and a half. Agricultural, &c.

Wood Ashes as a Fertilizer .- In nearly all soils ashes are beneficial to cultivated plants, but more so on sandy or gravelly land than clay; the latter being formed of granite rocks naturally contains potash. Turnips, beets, carrots, potatoes, etc., contain a very large amount of alkalies, and to such ashes are found to be very beneficial. But the immediate benefit of ashes is most perceptible upon leguminous plants, such as peas, beans and clover. On grass land it destroys moss, sorrel, and all our sour plants. On poor thin soils it should be mixed with peat, barnyard and other organic or vegetable manures. Lime is excellent for wheat or corn. These two crops grow well wherever clover will grow -in calcareous soils. Barley requires a rich loam, finely pulverized. It will not grow well on a sandy or soft soil. It will always do well on land suitable for turnips. A strong clay, well pulverized and dry, will yield a good crop. Clay soils always contain more or less lime.

Wood ashes are a most excellent manure, and can be used to advantage on almost all soils or crops. Orchards fatten on them. Unleached they act rapidly and powerfully; leached they act more slowly but continue to act for many years after being applied. The mechanical effect of soils is to render sands more compact and retentive of water, while they separate and render friable heavy clay.

Some farmers apply ashes as a top dres-

Pruning Trees in February .- The pruning of small twigs and shoots can be done at almost any season of the year without material injury to the tree; but when it is necessary to take off large limbs it can be attended to with advantage in February or the early part of March, in which months the tree is not so full of sap as later in the season, when the tree is in vigorous growth. Large limbs should be taken off with a fine smooth saw, after which the corners of the wound (where the bark meets the wood) may be trimmed smooth with a pruning knife. When the wound is left ragged and torn so that rain will settle in, it will often rot and injure the tree materially. Some experienced horticulturists recommend that the place left by cutting off a limb should be touched over with some cheap paint to prevent the destructive effects of air and moisture. Tar, pitch, and wet clay are often applied for the same purpose.

Curing Bacon without Smoke .- As soon as the meat is salted to your taste, which will generally be in about five weeks, take it out and if any has been covered with brine let it drain a little .-Then take black pepper, finely ground, and dust on the hock end as much as will stick; then hang it up in a good, clean, dry, airy place. If all this is done as it should be, (it ought to be done now,) you will have no further trouble with it, for by fly time in spring your bacon is so well cured on the outside that flies and bugs will not disturb it. Curing bacon is like the Irishman's mode of making punch .-He said: " Put in the sugar, then fill up with whiskey, and every drop of water you put in spoils the punch." Just so with curing bacon, after following the directions given above, every "drop of smoke you put on spoils the bacon."
