

THE INAUGURATION.

The 4th of March was a gala day in Washington city. The crowd of people collected together to witness the inauguration of JAMES BUCHANAN was immense.

INAUGURAL ADDRESS.

FELLOW CITIZENS.—I appear before you this day to take the solemn oath that I will faithfully execute the office of President of the United States, and will, to the best of my ability, preserve, protect and defend the Constitution of the United States.

Next in importance to the maintenance of the Constitution and the Union, is the duty of preserving the Government free from the taint or suspicion of corruption. Public virtue is the vital spirit of Republics; and history proves that when this has decayed, and the love of money has usurped its place, although the forms of free government may remain for a season, the substance has departed forever.

Our present financial condition is without a parallel in history. No nation has ever before been embarrassed from so large a surplus in its treasury. This almost necessarily gives birth to extravagant legislation. It produces wild schemes of expenditures and begets a race of speculators and jobbers, whose ingenuity is exerted in contriving and promoting expedients to obtain public money.

Among these I might mention the extravagant extension of the public debt, a reasonable increase of the Navy—which is at present inadequate to the protection of our vast foreign trade, now greater than that of any other nation, as well as to the defence of our extensive sea coast.

It is my duty to call attention to the fact that the amount necessary to defray the expenses of a wise, economical and efficient administration of the government. To reach this point it was necessary to resort to modification of the tariff, and this has, I trust, been accomplished in such a manner as to do as little injury as may have been practicable to our domestic manufactures, especially those necessary for the defence of the country.

But the squandering of the public money sinks into comparative insignificance as a temptation to corruption, when compared with the squandering of the public lands. No nation in the tide of time has ever been blessed with so rich and noble an inheritance as we enjoy in the Public Lands.

conclusive on this point. We at present enjoy a free trade throughout our extensive and expanding country such as the world never witnessed. This trade is conducted on railroads and canals, on noble rivers and arms of the sea, which bind together the North and the South, the East and the West of our Confederacy.

Public virtue is the vital spirit of Republics; and history proves that when this has decayed, and the love of money has usurped its place, although the forms of free government may remain for a season, the substance has departed forever.

ever since its origin, has been in the constant practice of constructing military roads. It might also be wise to consider whether the lot for the Union which now animates our fellow citizens on the Pacific coast may not be impaired by our neglect or refusal to provide for them in their isolated condition, the only means by which the power of the States on this side of the Rocky Mountains can reach them in sufficient time to protect them against invasion.

I forbear for the present from expressing an opinion as to the wisest and most economical mode in which the Government can lend its aid in accomplishing this great and necessary work. I believe that many of the difficulties in the way which now appear formidable, will, in a great degree, vanish as soon as the nearest and best route shall have been satisfactorily ascertained.

It may be right that on this occasion I should make some brief remarks in regard to our rights and duties as a member of the great family of nations. In our intercourse with them there are some plain principles approved by our own experience from which we should never depart.

We ought to cultivate peace, commerce and friendship with all nations, and this, not merely as the best means of promoting our own material interests, but in a spirit of Christian benevolence towards our fellow-men, wherever their lot may be cast. Our diplomacy should be direct and frank—neither seeking to obtain more, nor accepting less, than is our due. We ought to cherish a sacred regard for the independence of all nations, and never attempt to interfere in the domestic concerns of any, unless this shall be imperatively required by the great law of self-preservation.

It is our glory that whilst other nations have extended their dominions by the sword, we have never acquired any territory except by fair purchase, or, as in the case of Texas, by the voluntary determination of a brave, kindred, and independent people to blend their destinies with our own. Even our acquisitions from Mexico form no exception.

Unwilling to take advantage of the fortune of war against a sister Republic, we purchased these possessions under the treaty of peace, for a sum which was considered, at the time, a fair equivalent. Our past history forbids that we should, in the future, acquire territory, unless this be sanctioned by the laws of justice and honor.

Acting on this principle, no nation will have a right to interfere or to complain, if, in the progress of events, we shall still further extend our possessions. Humbly, in all our acquisitions, the people under the protection of the American flag have enjoyed civil and religious liberty, as well as equal and just laws, and have been contented, prosperous and happy. Their trade with the rest of the world has rapidly increased, and thus every commercial nation has shared largely in their successful progress.

I shall now proceed to take the oath prescribed by the Constitution, whilst I am invoking the blessings of Divine Providence on this great people. JAMES BUCHANAN.

THE GREATEST MEDICAL DISCOVERY OF THE AGE. DR. KENNEDY, of Roxbury, has discovered in one of our common cures a remedy that cures Every Kind of Humor from the worst Scrofula down to a common Pimple. He has tried it in over 1000 cases, and never failed except in two cases, (both thunder humor.) He has now in his possession over two hundred certificates of its virtue, all within twenty miles of Boston. Two bottles are warranted to cure a nursing Sore Mouth. One to three bottles will cure the worst kind of Pimples on the Face. Two bottles are warranted to cure the worst Canker in the Mouth and Stomach. Three to five bottles are warranted to cure the worst case of Erysipelas, a kind of blot that sores and annoys the face. One to two bottles are warranted to cure all Humors in the eyes. Two bottles are warranted to cure Running of the Ears and Itches among the Hair. Four to six bottles are warranted to cure corrupt and running kinds of Ulcers. One bottle will cure Scaly Eruption of the Skin. Two to three bottles are warranted to cure the worst case of Ringworm. Two to three bottles are warranted to cure the most desperate cases of Rheumatism. Three to four bottles are warranted to cure the Salt Rheum. Five to eight bottles will cure the worst case of Scrofula. A benefit is always experienced from the first bottle, and a perfect cure is warranted when the above quantity is taken.

Reader, I peddled over a thousand bottles of this in the vicinity of Boston. I know the effect of it in every case. So sure as water will extinguish fire, so sure will this cure humors, and a host of blot that sores and annoys the face. After a trial it always speaks for itself. There are two things about this herb that appear to me surprising: first that it grows in our pastures, in some places quite plentiful, and yet its value has never been known until I discovered it in 1856—second, that it should cure all kinds of humor. In order to give some idea of the sudden rise and great popularity of the discovery, I will state that in April, 1857, I peddled it and sold about six bottles per day—in April, 1856, I sold over one thousand bottles per day of it. Some of the wholesale Druggists who have been in business twenty and thirty years, say that nothing in the course of their professional lives was ever like it. There is a universal praise of it from all quarters. In my own practice I always kept it strictly for humors—but since its introduction as a general family medicine, great and wonderful cures have been found in it that I never suspected.

Several cases of epileptic fits—a disease which was always considered incurable, have been cured by a few bottles. It will cure a variety of other diseases in all their early stages, and there are few who have seen more of it than I have. I know of several cases of Dropsy, all of them cured by the use of this medicine. For the various diseases of the Liver, Sick Headache, Dyspepsia, Asthma, Fever and Ague, Pain in the Side, Diseases of the Spine, and particularly in all cases of Rheumatism, this discovery has done more good than any medicine ever known. No change of diet ever necessary—eat the best you get and plenty of it. Directions for Use.—Adults one or two spoonful per day—Children from 5 to 10 years, one spoonful. It is so simple and so applicable to all constitutions, that it is sufficient to operate on the bowels twice a day. Manufactured by DONALD KENNEDY, No 120 Warren St., Roxbury, Mass.

PUBLIC NOTICE. MANNY'S COMBINED Mowing and Reaping Machine, WITH WOOD'S IMPROVEMENT, For the Harvest of 1857. ALL persons desirous of getting this celebrated machine will please send in their orders early, to prevent delay and disappointment as was the case in so many instances last season. This machine took the premium at York, Huntingdon, Carlisle, Chambersburg, Harrisburg, Bellefonte, and other places too numerous to mention. Last summer we had hundreds of testimonials and official reports, vouching the superiority of this machine over all others now in use. This machine excels all others in the following points, viz: Its easy convertibility from a Mower to a Reaper and vice versa; its construction for adaptation to uneven surface; the ease with which it can be raised or lowered; cutting from two inches to eighteen inches from the ground, which is done by means of a lever controlled by the driver while in his seat; its ease of draft, portability, and cleanliness and ease of cut. Many of these features are patented and cannot be embodied in any other machine, and all will admit how essential and indispensable they are to a complete combined machine. With each machine will be furnished two scythes, two extra guards, two extra sections, one extra pinion and wrench. These are warranted to give satisfaction, either as a Mower or Reaper, or no sale. Price $440, delivered in Lewistown. All communications directed to F. G. FRANCISCUS, Agent, Lewistown, Mifflin county, Pa. will meet prompt attention. To persons nearer home, I respectfully refer them to K. A. Means, J. D. Nageny, O. P. Smith, R. McManigal, and Jas. Parker, all of whom having used this machine last season, consider it unsurpassed by any combined Mower and Reaper now in use. feb19 F. G. FRANCISCUS, Agent, Lewistown, Pa.

Mr. H. M. Bowman—Dear Sir—I feel it my duty to tell you how what your compound has done for my daughter, and wish you to publish it if you can in hope that some suffering one may be induced by it to try your valuable medicine and be cured. My daughter was married in 1852, and went to Cincinnati to live, where her husband (James Hoyt) was engaged in business. In six months after her husband died, and she was left a widow, and in four months she was confined and caught cold which settled on her lungs. It seemed as though we could get nothing to help her. We tried six different physicians for over one year, and then sent to New York to a celebrated physician there, and he took medicine from him for eight months, but he did not cure her. Her cough was fixed and stubborn and seemed as though it would tear her breast during the progress of cough, and her breathing was at times very difficult. Failing to get relief from physicians, we thought we would try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and she took it regular for seven weeks, but it did her no permanent good. We then tried Sellers' Imperial Cough Syrup, but with all the skill of a nurse, and it seemed as though she was beyond cure, when one day my wife was in at one of our neighbors' houses (Mr. Maynes') and she saw them give our Vegetable Compound to one of their children for a cough, and she got three or four doses to bring home and try it. After my daughter had taken it she breathed a little easier, and we sent and got a bottle of it, and when it was taken there was a marked change for the better. I then sent six bottles, the most of which she had by seven weeks, but it did her no permanent good.
