PRESERVATION OF FORESTS.

Where will coming generations get their supplies of timber? How they will lament the bleak and naked hills, and cry out against us for despoiling them of their chief beauty, and leaving behind us few or no traces of our forest scenery, except in the painted landscapes in our parlors! If our forests are so valuable now for timber and fuel, will they not be still more so in the next generation? Then why strip them off so remorselessly? Rather let them be husbanded. Tet them be thinned out, but not utterly demolished. A careful calculation shows that sixty thousand acres of pine wood are cut every year in berry plant in any location. H. L. D. the State of New York, and that at this rate, in the year 1875, these trees will have disappeared from this part of the country. It is said, also, that "the produce of tilled lands carried to tide-water by the Erie canal, in one year amounted to $8,170,000 worth of property; that of farm stock for the same year is given at $3,230,000; that of the forests, in lumber, staves, &c., at $4,770,000. Thus the forest yielded more than the stock, and more than half as much as the farm lands." Shall we, then, utterly and forever exhaust this source of comfort and wealth? Let us beware, lest we kill the goose which lays such golden eggs!

Forest trees should be preserved, also, for their beneficial influence upon the climate. It is universally conceded that the winters of the northern States are colder now than they were thirty or forty years ago; and that the weather generally is more have greater extremes of heat and cold, paid for all kinds of Produce. windy, fluctuating and disagreeable. We and severer droughts. Peaches once grew in abundance throughout central New York; now, it is almost impossible to raise them. The wheat and some other crops are more uncertain. These things are ascribable, not so much to any deterioration of the soil, as to the destruction of our forests. Formerly, our farms had belts of wood land, which broke the force of the winter and spring winds; our hill tops were covered with battalions of trees which defended the slopes and vales. The snow was not blown off from the tender grain crops in winter, nor were the fields laid bare to the blighting winds of early

One of the greatest drawbacks to farm life on the western prairies is the absence of forest trees. Wood for lumber and fuel is scarce, and houses and lands are exposed to the rake of merciless winds in winter and spring. Almost every mail brings accounts of extreme suffering at the West, on the open prairies. To make those lands a paradise for the farmer, they need nothing so much as the kindly shelter of wood lands.

In conclusion, we earnestly plead with the farmer for a more considerate use of his woods. Remove old trees, but touch the young with a sparing hand. Clear up your valleys, but do not strip bare the hill tops. Leave groups and single trees here and there in your pastures, both for the comfort of your flocks and herds and for the beauty of the landscape. Plant belts along the north and west lines of your grain fields and your houses. For purposes of shelter evergreens are best; but mingle with these such rapid growing trees as the larch; scarlet-flowered maple, Dutch elm, bass wood and yellow locust. The time is coming when they who exert themselves to save the remnant of our noble woodlands, will be considered wise men and public benefactors .- American Agriculturist, February.

THE CRANBERRY

As an Ornamental Plant .- No plant of its size can equal the Cranberry in beauty. Its leaves of rich dark green in summer, changed to a reddish brown in winter, remain on the plants through the Crape and other year. The thread-like stalks stand and mat close like moss. They would form a as well as Bonnets, Flats, Ribbons, Flowers, border somewhat resembling box, and would require only an occasional trimming off of the runners to keep them in form for years. From the last of June to the 10th of July they are in blossom, being thickly interspersed with the most beautiful transparent pale pink flowers. The flowers are succeeded, as if by magic, with the berries, at first green, but soon changing to a bright crimson scarlet, covering the plants in a profusion unequalled by any other fruit, having produced three bushels of berries to the square rod. The berries will remain on the vines through variety of fresh

I may be enthusiastic, but have never seen any plant that would so soon attract attention as the cranberry plant. When in blossom, its bell-shaped flowers, suspended by a hair-like stem, almost seem the work of some fairy; and then the berries, two, three, and on some varieties five, attached by the same bair-like stem to the parent stalk, itself only the fifth part the size of a straw; excites one's sympathy lest the fruit break the parent stalk, and we at once see the wisdom of their clustering so closely together, thereby being enabled to bear their load of crimson ber-

If the nature of the Cranberry was fully understood, it would be found in every "Country Gentleman's" yard as well as in field culture. They draw their sustenance from water, a small quantity of which is absolutely necessary to sustain the plants in bearing condition. The air always contains sufficient moisture and pure sand will attract and retain sufficient moisture in the proper form for the cran-Country Gentleman.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS. WHY ARE WE SICK?

T has been the lot of the human race to be weighed down by disease and suffering. HOLLOWAY'S PILLS are specially adapted to the relief of the WEAK, the NERVOUS, the DELICATE, and the INFIRM, of all climes, ages, sexes, and constitutions. Professor Holloway personally superintends the manufacture of his medicines in the United States, and offers them to a free and enlightened people, as the best remedy the world ever saw for the removal of disease. THESE PILLS PURIFY THE BLOOD.

These famous Pills are expressly combined to operate on the stomach, the liver, the kidneys, the lungs, the skin, and the bowels, correcting any derangement in their functions, purifying the blood, the very fountain of life, and thus curing disease in all its forms.

DYSPEPSIA AND LIVER COMPLAINTS. Nearly half the human race have taken these Pills. It has been proved in all parts of the world, that nothing has been found equal to them in cases of disorders of the liver, dyspepsia, and stomach complaints generally. They soon give a healthy tone to these organs, however mucl deranged, and when all other means have failed.

GENERAL DEBILITY. ILL HEALTH. Many of the most despotic Governments have opened their Custom Houses to the introduction of these Pills, that they may become the medicine of the masses .-Learned Colleges admit that this medicine is the best remedy ever known for persons of delicate health, or where the system has been impaired, as its invigorating properties never fail to afford relief. FEMALE COMPLAINTS.

THE elections being over and the excitement attending them passed away, and it being considered dangerous nowadays to keep on hand bank notes, the proprietor of the People's Store would again invite attention to his magnificent depository for replenishing the outer man and woman on the scientific principle of saving money, which accommodating establishment is in East Market street, and can readily be distinguished from all others by its piles of beautiful goods and wares and "that sign," which, like the Star spangled banner, is fanned by every breeze.
