

effort to ascend the shining pathway of the glittering Chocog. The effort was too much for me—I awoke, and found myself hundreds of miles from my "native village" where six years before I had wandered for the last by the nameless streamlet, and sat for the last time beneath the bowld oak reading the simple lines upon the tombstone of FLORA.

Notices of New Advertisements. ILLINOIS LANDS—Such of our readers as have designs of emigrating westward, are referred to the advertisement of the Central Illinois Railroad Company, who have now some 5,000 acres of farming land for sale...

CHESTER COUNTY—The attention of our subscribers is directed to the advertisement in this paper of Messrs. Richards & Miller, of Philadelphia, and we quote from the Pennsylvania Statesman's Journal in regard to the Columbia Stone their advertisement.

We this day place at the head of our columns the candidate nominated by the Union Convention for Governor. We do this not that it is our favorite for the office, but because having been fairly chosen by delegates appointed in accordance with the regular usages of parties, we shall yield him our support just as readily as we would have done to Judge Hale, Mr. Bull, Mr. Moushead, or any other good man, had either received the nomination.

The Council met at their room in the Town Hall on Monday evening. Present—Frysinger, C. B. Bloom, Levy, Hamaker, Smith, Kitzendorfer and Kitting.

The following officers were appointed for the ensuing year: Secretary—David Bloom. Treasurer—Christian Hoever. Attorney—J. W. Slat.

Resolved, That it is a fraud upon our laws, and fraught with danger to our institutions, to admit to a full participation in their benefits, any man who acknowledges a foreign extraction, which he cannot conscientiously and without mental reservation, sly and fostered remembrance; whether that repository be civil or spiritual.

page of a law to become so, and although we think that law wrong still it is a law. It is true many of them are totally unformed for the exercise of the privileges conferred, but this is the fault of our own legislation, and shows that a reform is necessary. We also believe that jesuitical institutions, which are known to have overthrown empires in Europe in the height of their power, ought not to be tolerated here, together with other points on which we perhaps differ but little with honest advocates of Americanism.

Proceedings of Council.

The Council met at their room in the Town Hall on Monday evening. Present—Frysinger, C. B. Bloom, Levy, Hamaker, Smith, Kitzendorfer and Kitting.

The following officers were appointed for the ensuing year: Secretary—David Bloom. Treasurer—Christian Hoever. Attorney—J. W. Slat.

In addressing you in a mode somewhat different from that usually adopted, it is with no view merely to make known my individual opinions, but in order that the new members of Council may more succinctly understand the most important subjects that will be brought up for your consideration and decision.

and make a decided improvement in those streets. A number of individuals have at different times urged the construction of a bridge over the ditch where Wayne street crosses it.—This work, if deemed necessary, could not be done while the canal is filled with water, but in the meantime a committee might be appointed to examine it, report what filling it would take on the northern side of Wayne street to make such a bridge feasible, and whether it is needed. If feasible, and deemed expedient, the Council could then make the necessary arrangements for erecting it at the proper time.

Several squares in the business parts of town will require considerable repairs during the present year. East Market street especially needs a coating of stone, and in my judgment a heavy one. Mice repairs in the first square will no longer answer, it being so completely worn down that the gravel underlying the MacAdamsian part is perceptible in a number of places.

The most important matter perhaps that will be brought before you is the proposition to light the borough with gas. Last year the borough authorities proposed to put up lamp posts provided the company would agree to furnish gas at a discount of 25 per cent. on their present prices.

The Council met at their room in the Town Hall on Monday evening. Present—Frysinger, C. B. Bloom, Levy, Hamaker, Smith, Kitzendorfer and Kitting.

The cleaning up of the streets, lanes and alleys will be the first thing to engage your attention, and should the weather permit, I would recommend the work to be commenced forthwith and persevered in until the various thoroughfares are free from the dirt, manure, and other offensive matter which now meets the eye in almost every direction.

On motion, Messrs. Bloom, Smith and Kitzendorfer were appointed a committee for seeing the landing between the canal and the river, and, if practicable, making arrangements for filling the old dry dock, so as to bring it into use.

Cast iron boxes were ordered to be procured for the fire plugs at the jail and in front of John Davis's shop.

The High Constable was directed to give the usual notice for removing obstructions from the streets and alleys, and that swine, &c. will not be permitted to run at large.
