

large as the domain of the American slaveholder. He and his bondmen already occupy by far the most fertile and genial portion of this continent. Let him rest content with his territorial possessions and power. We do not seek to disturb him. We neither assail nor defend his asserted right to hold this peculiar kind of property. We simply affirm that we have nothing to do with it, and propose to let him and his slaves alone where they are. We make, therefore, no question about the abolition of Slavery in the South. We but stand in defence of Freedom in the North. Kansas is in the latitude of Philadelphia. In geographical position it is a Northern Territory. It was dedicated by a solemn compact in 1820 to Freedom forever. We claim the fulfillment of the bond. We defend the integrity of the Northern soil against the cupidty that would subjugate it by violence into a plantation of slaves.

Much has been said of the dangers involved in this controversy. We are counseled to submission and acquiescence in the wrong, because the wrong-doer threatens greater calamities if we should dare to resist our rights. Such threats are unbecoming those who make them, and an insult to those upon whose fears they are expected to operate. Great questions of governmental policy, involving the very substance of our liberties, and the happiness of remote generations, are not to be settled by appeals to the fears of any part of the American people. Reason, and the calm judgment of an enlightened public opinion, must decide between freemen—threats are a terror to slaves. Imaginary dangers become realities to the timid—to the courageous they vanish on a nearer approach. So, here the only danger lies in becoming alarmed.

The danger is overcome the day it is met with resolute courage and determined purpose. The right must prevail, and the wrong must give way. Upon no other basis can the questions at issue ever be permanently settled.

It is no impeachment of the mainly qualities of our Southern friends to say that they will not submit to that which is just and right, when constitutionally embodied in the legislation of the government.—Let the freemen of the North announce, in language firm and unmistakable, their purpose to resist the spread of slavery, and, at every cost, to preserve the integrity of the Union, and we shall have a lasting peace, such as no compromise, having its foundation in wrong, can ever secure to the country.

The position taken by the Convention, in its resolve touching the duties and obligations imposed upon those who seek adoption into our great American family of freemen, must meet the approval of every patriotic citizen. We have a right to expect and require a perfect and undivided allegiance from all who are invested with the high prerogatives of citizenship. As the adopted citizen receives in full measure all the rights and immunities of the native born, so ought he to render the like single and reserved devotion to the country of his adoption. He should acknowledge an earthly power superior to the Constitution and the sovereignty of the American people. There is no danger that we shall err in our zealous devotion to our country, and in the cultivation of an intense American Nationality.

I have not time to speak of the other topics embraced in the platform of principles adopted by the Convention, in the manner their importance deserves. Opportunities will be afforded me hereafter to make my views known on some matters of domestic policy closely connected in my judgment with the growth and prosperity of our great Commonwealth. While the utmost care should be observed not to disturb the vast business interests of a Commonwealth so rich, and of such diversified pursuits as our own, yet it cannot be denied that ours, the richest Commonwealth of its extent in the world, has not kept pace in the development of her resources and in productive industry with some of her sister States.

We may therefore without the charge of rashness, inquire in our policy could not, in some respects, be made more conformable to the spirit of the age, and more in harmony with the wants of an ever-active business enterprise.

In conclusion, gentlemen, permit me to tender my thanks for the very kind and acceptable manner in which you discharged the duty assigned you.

Very respectfully, your obedient servant,
D. WILMOT.

Conviction of McKim.—The trial of McKim, for the murder of Norcross, was concluded at Hollidaysburg on the evening of the 7th inst., by the delivery of a long and elaborate charge by Judge Taylor. The jury, after an absence of an hour, rendered a verdict of guilty of murder in the first degree. On Friday morning the prisoner was sentenced to death. He denied his guilt most strenuously. The Governor must fix the time of execution.

It is not often we make an apology for want of well-selected matter in our paper, but a large job, (between 20 and 30 pages,) received on Monday forenoon, and to be finished about the time our paper goes to press, has employed us night and day—leaving but little time to attend to anything else. Hands also are scarce—traveling jobs being sure not to be on hand when wanted.

The attention of Druggists and Dealers is invited to "Costar's" Advertisement and Notice in to-day's paper. If these remedies are what they purport to be, our Druggists will find an extensive demand for them here.

RAILROAD CONDUCTORS.—As a general thing the Pennsylvania Railroad has attentive and obliging conductors, and judging from an incident that occurred a few days ago, "honest" ones. Mr. Weitzel found a ladies' port monee in the cars at this station the other day, and instead of waiting to be called on and asked whether he had found anything, made inquiry all round, and finally followed the omnibus, in which some ladies were seated. To his inquiry whether anything had been lost, he received answers in the negative, but pressing the matter more closely, a lady discovered that she was minus her depository, and gladly recovered it. When the question was asked her, she ascertained that her watch was safe, and hence her first answer.

Navigation has been suspended for several days in consequence of breaks in the Narrows, caused by the late flood. The holes are being stopped up with mud, stones, and whiskey, and we suppose the ditch will again be navigable in a few days. In the meantime a large number of boats are accumulating from above.

The Harrisburg Herald, edited by John J. Clyde, Esq., speaks as follows of the proposed American Convention to nominate a third candidate for Governor:

A few straight-out Americans who, for reason best known to themselves, disapprove of the union movement which resulted in the nomination of David Wilmot for governor, have issued a call for an American State Convention at Lancaster on the 25th of this month. There has been no response to the call, except in one or two counties, the mass of the Americans deprecating the movement as one designed to distract and divide the Opposition, and give aid and comfort to the Democratic, anti-American, pro-slavery party.

The Americans of various counties were fully and fairly represented in the State Convention—their delegates went there in good faith, prepared to abide the result, whatever it might be,—and casting aside all personal preferences, the Americans of the State generally cordially endorsed the action of the Convention and will give a hearty support to the nominees. The evidence of this may be found in the action of the State Council, and most of the subordinate Councils. Many honest Americans were misled last year, and made to play "second fiddle" to the Democratic party and their Foreign Romish allies. They will be careful not to make a similar fatal mistake this year. The tone and temper of the American press throughout the State indicate that the Union movement is complete and perfect in all its parts, and that the Americans and Republicans, occupying the same platform, and rallying under the same banner, will present a solid front to the Romish and Slavery Battalions, and march onward to certain victory. The right spirit is abroad, and all attempts to distract and divide the Opposition will prove abortive.

Mr. Clyde was, and perhaps is now, President of the American State Council. We publish his opinion to show our American friends in this county the tendency of the proposed movement.

Our readers are referred to the letter of acceptance of Hon. David Wilmot in to-day's paper.

Protection to Game.—The Legislature of Ohio has passed a law for the protection of the birds, &c., which makes it a fineable offence for any one to kill a rabbit, deer, or any of the feathered tribe mentioned, between the 1st of February and the 15th of September, or to kill a blue-bird, mocking-bird, red-bird, or other singers named, at any time.

Pennsylvania Legislature.

The bill for the sale of the main line was taken up in the Senate on Monday, it being the order of the day on final passage.

Several motions were made for further amendments, which were all negatived.

The bill was then passed finally by the following vote:

Yeas—Messrs. Coffey, Crabbe, Finney, Flenkner, Frazier, Grigg, Harris, Ingram, Jordan, Killingler, Lewis, Meyer, Scofield, Sellers, Shuman, Southern, Straub, Taggart, Speaker—18.

Nays—Messrs. Brewer, Browne, Creswell, Ely, Evans, Fetter, Gazzan, Knox, Lauback, Steele, Walton, Welsh, Wilkins and Wright—14.

On Tuesday the bill was taken up in the House and the Senate amendments agreed to, so that it but now wants the Governor's signature to become a law. After providing for the sale of the main line at public sale, &c., the bill as passed provides as follows:

And provided further, That if the Pennsylvania railroad company shall become the purchasers of said main line at said public sale, or by assignment as aforesaid, they shall pay in addition to the purchase money at which it may be struck down, and which shall not be less than the sum of seven and a half millions of dollars, the whole amount of sale to be paid in the bonds of the company, bearing interest at the rate of five per centum per annum, payable semi-annually on the thirty-first days of January and July of each year, and which bonds without further record shall remain a lien upon the said main line, one hundred thousand dollars, of which said bonds, to fall due on the thirty-first day of July, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-eight, and one hundred thousand dollars thereof annually thereafter, until the thirty-first day of July, one thousand eight hundred and ninety, when one million of the residue shall fall due, and one million annually thereafter, until the whole is paid; and upon the execution and delivery of said bonds to the Treasurer of the State, the Pennsylvania railroad company, and the Harrisburg, Portsmouth, Mount Joy and Lancaster railroad company, shall, in consideration thereof, be discharged, by the Commonwealth, forever from the payment of all taxes upon tonnage or freight carried over said railroads; and the said Pennsylvania railroad company shall also be released from the payment of all taxes or duties, on its capital stock, bonds, dividends or property, except for city, borough, county, township and school purposes, and that it shall be lawful for the purchasers, or their assigns, either to purchase or lease, hold, and use the railroad of the Harrisburg, Portsmouth, Mount Joy and Lancaster railroad company, and to straighten and improve the said Philadelphia and Columbia railroad, and to extend the same to the Delaware river, in the city of Philadelphia; and it shall be further lawful for them to alter, enlarge and deepen the canal portion of said main line, and to make such additional locks and dams, and to make in whole or in part a slackwater navigation, as may be deemed expedient, and in the event of a sale or lease as aforesaid, by the Harrisburg, Portsmouth, Mount Joy and Lancaster railroad company, the said company shall have the power to sell or lease, and the said purchasers, or their assigns, to buy or take on lease said road, and to make and receive respectively all such contracts, deeds or assurances, as may be necessary to carry the same into effect: Provided, That the right of the Commonwealth to enter upon, resume and purchase the road of the Pennsylvania railroad company, as provided in their charter, shall therefore cease and determine: And provided further, That in case of the refusal of any stockholder or stockholders of said company to comply with the provisions of this act, after the same may have been accepted by a majority of the stockholders of said company, it shall be lawful for said company to pay to the stockholder or stockholders so refusing, full market value of his, her, or their share or shares of stock, and such share or shares shall ensure to the benefit of the company, to be disposed of by directors for the benefit of the balance of the stockholders.

Sec. 4. That if the said main line of public works shall be sold to other parties than the Pennsylvania railroad company, the purchaser or purchasers shall be entitled to a like credit upon the amount of said purchase money, and for the performance of the conditions of said sale, in behalf of the purchaser, and for the security of the purchase money to the Commonwealth, the said purchase money, until paid, shall remain a lien on said works; and the individuals or company purchasing as aforesaid, shall within sixty days after said sale, give a mortgage on said main line of the public works, and bonds for the amount of the purchase money, and in addition thereto, shall deliver, within ten days after said sale, to the Governor, for the use of the Commonwealth, bonds of the State of Pennsylvania or of the city of Philadelphia to the amount of one hundred thousand dollars, and within sixty days the additional amount of one million nine hundred thousand dollars, or in lieu thereof a like amount of first mortgage bonds of the Pennsylvania railroad company, and payment of the principal of such purchase money shall be made in certificates of loan of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, at par or in cash, and of the interest in cash semi-annually on the thirty-first days of July and January in each and every year upon any balance remaining due.

A mob of raftsmen, armed with rifles, shot guns, and axes, attacked a number of log floaters in Clearfield county on the 30th ult., wounding several floaters. The organ of democracy there speaks of this infamous violation of law and right—for the floaters have undoubtedly as much right as the raftsmen—as if it had been a pleasure expedition. The end is not yet, and it is to be hoped some of the leaders will be taught that there is a law above mob law, of which this country has entirely too much.

Wouldn't come.—The Hollidaysburg Standard's small sum of $400. The editor has been puffing, blowing, threatening, and coaxing for a month or more, but the Hollidaysburgers and sojourners about wouldn't fork over even half the amount. We confess to faring better down here. We published a notice five or six weeks previous to 1st April that we needed $300 on that date—being the only notice of money being wanted that appeared in the Gazette for a year—and, true as steel, our patrons made it "all right" without our going a step beyond the borough limits with a bill.

Famine.—The latest accounts from Russian Finland continue to give a most distressing picture of the famine raging in that unhappy country. In the district of Uleaborg, Wass, and Kurplo, out of a population of 657,000 souls, no less than 250,000 have no other means of subsistence than begging, or eating unpalatable bread made from the bark of trees.

"COSTAR'S" Bed bug EXTERMINATOR,
"COSTAR'S" ELECTRIC POWDER, for Ants, &c.

The London Quarterly Review contains near a column, and the New York Daily State Register, of May the 1st says: "No judicious housekeeper should defer purchasing a supply of these invaluable remedies for clearing their houses of all sorts of vermin. With all confidence we can recommend them as indispensable articles for every family."

The New York Journal for April has the following: "Costar's Remedies for all domestic pests, such as Rats, Cock Roaches, Bed Bugs, Ants, Fleas, &c., are said to be invaluable; indeed, we can speak from actual knowledge of their rare merits. The name of 'Costar' is a household word to New Yorkers, and his Depot, No. 388 Broadway, New York, is thronged by thousands daily. As the summer approaches we advise every one who would be rid of the above named pests to send and procure a timely supply of the Extreminator. DRUGGISTS and DEALERS also should send their orders early, if they would secure a trade in articles for which there is a constant demand, and on which a fair profit may be realized."

Holloway's Pills, a most famous remedy for the Cure of Nervousness and General Debility.—Jasper M'Can, of Bridge Street, Brooklyn, Long Island, New York, was without doubt a severe sufferer from nervous and general debility, the least thing provoked his irritability, put him in a passion, and laid him up; this was caused by the bad state of the fluids, and though he tried many remedies for his complaint, he was not benefited. At length he had recourse to Holloway's Pills, which quickly performed their part, by removing the injurious fluids from the system, cleared his head, restored tone and vigour to the stomach, and after five weeks' perseverance, restored him to the blessings of health.

Died. In Belleville, on the 7th inst., WILLIAM HESS, son of Samuel B. and Mary A. Grossman, aged 1 year, 8 months and 24 days.

On the 9th inst., LAURA JANE, daughter of Dr. J. D. and Ann Stoneroad, aged about 3 years.
