GLASS MILK PANS.

A farmer in Akron, Ohio, has been experimenting with milk in glass pans. He says: "I took the milk of the same cow, milked at the same time and divided it equally, putting half in a glass pan, and half in a tin pan, and placed them side by side. In the first twenty-four hours, were two thunder showers; and, at the end of that time, the milk in the tin pan was sour; that in the glass pan was sweet and good. At the end of twelve hours more, that in ties the tin was thick clabber, and that in the glass began to turn. From this, I believe longer than tin pans." We believe farmers are beginning to find this out, as we heard of a number who are introducing Gazette office. glass instead of tin. We have referred to the superiority of glass over tin for dairy purposes, several times within the last year or two.

HYDROPHOBIA.

In view of the prevalence of rabid dogs, we publish the following recipe, which is believed, in some instances, to have neutralized the virus :-

First dose, I ounce of elecampane root, boiled in 1 pint milk until reduced to a half pint. Second dose, (to be taken two days after the first.) 12 ounces of elecammade up. Call and examine the stock, which will be found to be all that is represented, pane root in one pint of milk, boiled as the first. Third dose, the same as the second (to be taken two days after); in all

The above was sent to the New York Tribune by J. W. Woolston, of Philadelphia, as a cure for the above terrible disease, and he states that he has known it to be perfectly successful in effecting a cure in twenty cases. We will add that it is the same cure that was much spoken of ago. It was then said to be a remedy for this dreadful disease; but as scarcely more than one-half of the persons and animals who are bitten become mad, it is quite probable that the "cures" belonged to that Delaines, Alma Cloths, Du Calls,

Is it not evident that speculation and not scarcity keep up the prices of this necessary of life.

Harriet Weightman, the wife of Rev. Robert Weightman, curate of Newton Arlosh, in Cumberland, England, was found dead on the morning of the 6th of May, kneeling on the floor, and with her head upon the sofa. It appeared that the curate was a heavy drinker, and that the of Jewelry, as well as a lot of deceased had unfortunately fallen into the Silver and Mated Ware. They had both been drunk on the previous evening, and when the servant went to bed, at 3 o'clock that morning, Mr. Weightman was sitting on the sofa, and the deceased kneeling in the position in which she was afterwards found.

Heavy Shipment of Specie.-The Arabia departed yesterday for Liverpool with the heavy shipment of two millions two hundred and sixty-five thousand two hundred and twenty-four dollars ($2,265,224) in specie, the largest exportation of hard cash ever made in any ship from this port, by at least half a million of dollars. European dry goods and hardware, silks, laces, jewelry, French bijouterie, &c., will account for the bulk of this little instalment in the way of exchange .-About $800,000 of this sinking fund go over to the Rothschilds upon a gold shaving operation for the relief of the Bank of France. After a while there will be a more universal run for specie, and pretty general run down of all sorts of paper substitutes. Let us keep off the lee shore. - N. Y. Herald, June 11.
