Agricultural, &c.

Profits of Agriculture.

Do they Vary Much in Different Years?—Sometimes they do, but generally not in the long run.

When they do vary.—1. When the farmer devotes nearly all his strength to the growth of one staple, if that fails him he is a loser, and his profits that year are cut off. If a miner raises wheat alone, or fruit alone, it is evident that in bad seasons, his support is taken away, or nearly so. 2. The same result follows, in the same circumstances, when though the crop itself, is not cut off, its price suddenly and greatly lowers by the failure of he demand, or by some other cause.

But in general, the profits of farming are about equal, one year with another, for a long term of years, because—1. If any season is unfavorable to any particular crop, he same season is commonly favorable to some other crop which may supply its place. A cold wet spring is unfavorable to corn, but it is good for grass. 2. If all crops should be very poor, the aggregate though small would commaud as high a price as a generous crop could. 3. In every case where the profits of farming vary much, nomely, instances first mentioned above, the profits one year would compensate for the losses of another, so that they have a very fair average every two or three years.

Inference.—1. The good farmer, who cultivates a variety of crops, need feel very little anxiety about the seasons; what he loses on one hand, he gains on the other. 2. It is in general best to have a variety, if one can; it favors independence, and equalizes one year with another.—Ohio Farmer.

Vegetable Honey.—The Skowhegan Clarion tells us how the people of that favored locality are furnished with honey by the trees.—A similar phenomenon has been recorded by the Mormons of Utah:—In ancient times the children of Israel were furnished with bread from Heaven. At the present day, while the price of every description of sweetening is so high that it is almost beyond the reach of common people, a new wonder has appeared in the shape of honey upon the leaves of the elm tree. The leaves of several elm trees in this village are thickly coated with a substance resembling honey both in taste and appearance. It is so thick as to fall in large drops from the ends of the leaves.

Hydrophobia among Cattle—Mad Bites.—A few weeks ago, we published an account of some cattle and hogs that were bitten by a rabid dog, on the Princetown road, a few miles from this city. Two cows belonging to Mr. Reifsnyder, two heifers owned by Mr. Daniel Rothenberger, and two hogs in the possession of Mr. Henry Noll, were bitten at the time. We now learn that one of the cows belonging mad on Tuesday, and was killed.—One of the heifers was attacked by the same malady on Wednesday, and was also killed. The other cow having shown symptoms of hydrophobia, was placed in the stable and securely chained. She will be killed this morning, should the symptoms result as apprehended. While the men were engaged in chaining the cow, she bit the finger of a Mr. Wagner, whose hand in a short time became much inflamed, and swelled to a considerable size. These are all the particulars of the affair that we have been able to obtain.—Reading Gazette.

HOVER'S LIQUID HAIR DYE.

THIS HAIR DYE needs only a trial to satisfy all of its perfection as a Dye, and the following testimonial from that eminent Analytical Chemist, Professor Booth, of the U. S. Mint, will only confirm what thousands have previously borne testimony to.

LABORATORY FOR PRACTICAL CHEMISTRY,
No. Stryker's Place,
Philadelphia, February 17th, 1857.

"Being well acquainted with the substances composing Hover's Liquid Hair Dye, I am satisfied that by following the simple directions given for its use, it will not injure Hair or Skin, but will give a natural and durable color to the Hair. JAS. C. BOOTH, Analytic Chemist.

HOVER'S WRITING INKS, including Hover's Fluid and Hover's Indelible Inks, are too well known and introduced to require any additional testimony of their character. The sales have been increasing since their first introduction, giving evidence that the articles truly possess that intrinsic merit claimed at first for them by the manufacturer.

Orders, addressed to the manufactory, No. 416 Race street above Fourth, (old No. 144,) Philadelphia, will receive prompt attention by

VEGETABLE COMPOUND,

A SAFE and speedy cure for Consumption, not only in those milder forms of Throat and Lung Diseases, such as Colds, Coughs, Quinsey, Difficulty of Breathing, Bronchitis, Hoarseness, Tickling, Soreness, Chest, Asthma, Inward Fever, Spitting of Blood, Influenza, Croup, Whooping Cough, Pain in the Breast and Sides, Hoarseness, Catarrh and Catarrhal Affections, Inflammation of the Lungs, Bleeding of the Lungs, &c. But in cases of confirmed Consumption, Liver Complaint, and Bilious Diseases, which has for many years baffled the skill of the most eminent Physicians, and which has been pronounced incurable, we refer the public to the following testimonials. Language is scarcely strong enough to tell the great power of this wonderful Compound. The doubting may try and be convinced. The prospectuses point to the following most just certificates with confidence in their influence on the community. Here are but samples of the many hundreds of testimonials in our possession:

Allegheny, July 16, 1856.

MR. H. H. BOWMAN—Dear Sir:—I feel it my duty to let you know what your compound has done for my daughter, and wish you to publish it if you can in hope that some suffering one may be induced by it to try your Vegetable Compound, and be restored to health. My daughter was attacked in 1852, and went to Cincinnati to live, where her husband (former Editor) was engaged in the Commercial office. There she remained about two years, when her husband died, and I went for her to come home. She was then in the last stage of Consumption, and I was informed by the physicians that she could not live but a few days. I immediately commenced using your Vegetable Compound, and before she had taken one bottle she was much better, and by the time she had taken three bottles she was entirely restored to health, and has remained so ever since. She is now the wife of Rev. J. B. Finley, of Ohio.

I believe Bowman's Vegetable Compound to be the best remedy for diseased throat and lungs of the day. I have used it, and found it to be the only medicine that would relieve me, and I have tried many. The Vegetable Compound is one of great efficacy for a bad cough, and the only medicine I have ever found to relieve me when suffering with Asthma. Several of my neighbors were induced to use it, and all pronounced it a good medicine. I would say to the afflicted, try it, and you will be convinced of its virtues. Yours truly,

TERRIBLE DISCLOSURES!
Secrets for the Million!
A Most Wonderful and Valuable Publication.
A WORK OF 100 PAGES, AND 20 COLORED ENGRAVINGS.
Dr. Hunter's Vade Mecum;

AN original and popular treatise on Man and Woman—their Physiology, Functions, and Sexual Disorders of every kind, with NEVER FAILING REMEDIES for their Speedy cure. Price 50 cents.

Dr. Hunter is a graduate of one of the first medical schools in the U. S., and has devoted a quarter of a century to the study and treatment of Syphilis and kindred disorders.

The practice of Dr. Hunter has long been, and still is, unbounded, but at the earnest solicitation of numerous persons, he has been induced to extend his professional usefulness through the medium of his "VADE MECUM."

It is a volume that should be in the hands of every family in the land, as a preventative of secret vices, or as a guide for the alleviation of one of the most awful and destructive scourges ever visited upon mankind.

The author argues most strongly against every species of self-defilement, and warns parents and guardians in searching terms to guard the young of both sexes from the terrible consequences of their ignorance of physiological laws and sexual impurities and irregularities. To those who have been already ensnared to the "paths that take hold on death," a clear and explicit way is shown by which they may secure a return of sound health and a regeneration of the soul from its terrible pollution.

It is well known that thousands of victims are annually sacrificed at the shrine of Quackery—especially those suffering from Venereal or Syphilitic diseases—Stricture, Seminal Weakness, Nervous Debility and the numerous maladies which spring directly from the indulgence of carnal passions and secret violations of Nature.

When it is also considered that about 100,000 persons die annually in the United States of Consumption—a large majority being the victims of the voluptuous indiscretion of their progenitors—the author, imbued with sentiments of enlarged philanthropy, will scarcely be censured for any effort to prostrate the vices of the age, by the humble instrumentality of his Vade Mecum.

One copy, securely enveloped, will be forwarded free of postage to any part of the United States for 50c. in P. O. Stamps, or 3 copies for $1. Address, postpaid, Dr. HUNTER, No. 3 Division Street, New York.

☞Beware of bogus Dr. Hunters,—no connection with any other Dr. Hunter. ma28
