NFW YORK, Oct. 6.-The steamer City of Washington arrived at 9 o'clock this morning, with Liverpool dates to the 23d ult. The East India Company had declined the proffer of the European-American Steam Company for vessels to convey troops to India over the Overland route.

Lord Elgin had brought to Calcutta seventeen hundred troops, who were to proceed up the Ganges forthwith. He proposed to take some of the native regiments to China, where they would be more trustworthy than in India.

Gen. Neill, who was in command at Cawnpere, was compelling the high easte of med Harlay, had vowed vengeance against both. On the 16 ult. Harlay went to Ad-European soldiers, accelerating their movements with the "cat," and then hanging them.

A letter to the Paris Patrie, says that Nena Sahib-who it was reported had committed suicide-was marching upon Lucknow with fifteen thousand men, and was four days ahead of Gen. Havelock. Fort Lucknow was deemed impregnable.

At the fight between Caunt and Langham, for the championship of England, after an hour and forty minutes, darkness came on, and the fight was drawn.

THE WAR IN INDIA.

Expedition against Arrah-Heavy Loss-Reported Retreat of General Havelock-Arri-val of Lord Elgin at Calcutta-Disarmament of the Governor General's Body Guard

-Removal of General Lloyd. The intelligence from India is of a mixed haracter-the extension of the mutiny to Bombay, a series of brilliant victories by leneral llavelock over the miscreant, Nena Sahib, more mutinies and massacres, and the disarming at Calcutta of the Governor General's bodyguard. These, with other events of minor importance, make up the news by the Bombay and Calcutta mails, which had previously arrived in driblets through the medium of the telegraph.

The Bombay mutiny was only a small affair, and would hardly command notice in he presence of the startling events of which India is now the scene, if it did not indicate the presence of a mutinous spirit in a Presilency where loyalty it was hoped was strong. A battalion revolted at Kolapore, but the outbreak was speedily suppressed. The inci-dent, nevertheless, has generated some un-easiness respecting the future of Bombay, a fear in which we do not largely participate, for the success of the rebels so far has not been such as to warrant imitation on the part of troops not committed to treason by any overt act.

The most brilliant feats of the campaign, so far, have been accomplished by General Havelock, an Indian officer, who appears fully equal to the emergency. The accounts are a good deal confused, but we gather from them that, having advanced several miles from Cawnpore towards Lucknow, the British commander came in contact with a force, some say of 10,000, others 13,000 men, under Ne-Sahih. Three engagements followed, in ch, with only 1300 Europeans and 600 or 100 Sikhs, the enemy was defeated in the st masterly manner. Twenty one of the abel guns were captured. But notwithstanding this victory, General Havelock was comled to fall back upon Cawnpore, in conseence of the alarming spread of cholera ong his troops. A flank movement, by hich the last and crowning victory was chieved, is highly praised by the military an who write from the camp. Arrived at Cawnpore, a sight of horror re appalling than any atrocity which has et marked these Indian butcheries presented elf. It is thus described by a Calcutta urnal:-"In a stone court yard, clotted with inches of blood, lay the clothes of Engwomen and children, pitilessly slaughterd on the previous day by the fugitives from ast field of battle. The bodies, all strip ed, had been thrown into a well in the comund where the unfortunate beings had been ned. Out of the whole number of capves three women escaped, who had Leen ued and saved by a native. The history the world affords no parallel to the terrible acres which during the last few months are desolated the land. Neither age, sex, condition has been spared. Children e been compelled to eat the quivering flesh their murdered parents, after which they ere literally forn asunder by the laughing ands who surrounded them. Men in many stances have been mutilated, and before be g absolutely killed, have had to gaze upon last dishonor of their wives and daughters vious to being put to death." Hardly inferior in interest to the facts we are mentioned were the mutinies at Dinaore, on the 25th of July. Here three native ments were desired to surrender their ission caps, and some time was foolishly ven to them to deliberate, before the expion of which they marched along the Grand runk Road, cut the telegraph wires as they sed, and assumed an attitude of defiance. hey were followed by General Lleyd, and engagement took place at the passage of ne, where, it is said, the Queen's troops at down 800. But, notwithstanding, the atineers crossed the river and reached Arh, about 25 miles west of Dinapore. There as adequate force at Arrah to repel them, the lives of seventy-five of the English idents were taken. Two steamers, each sing on board 160 British soldiers, were atched from Dinapore to Arrah ; but one the steamers unfortunately grounded, and troops in the other incautiously landing, surrounded at night by the rebels, and 147 men and 9 officers, within four of the number. nother massacre of officers had occurred Segowlie. These occurrences will inter t the communication between the capital Bengal and the disturbed districts by the to road, but the Ganges is still open, and i transport of troeps by that route can be de with safety. Lord Elgin had arrived Calcutta with 400 marines and a company the Queen's 5th, and while the steamer ich conveyed the homeward mails was og down, two other steamers with transh board were going up. It may be ioned incidentally that the blundering duct of General Lloyd at Dinapore had in the command by Sir James Outram. The news from Delhi extends to the end of The place still held out, and three lies had occured, in which the insurgents e repelled with great slaughter. The des-ate nature of the fighting may be inferred n the fact that the English lost 500 in ed and wounded. Brigadier Nicholson was expected at Delhi in a fortnight from the Punjaub, with reinfercements.

plot to murder the Europeans at Jessore and Benares had been discovered at Midna-pore. The Shekawatti battalion was wavering, but had not been disarmed yet. Martial law had been proclaimed in Behar. Great uneasiness was felt in Calcutta of an eutbreak during the approaching Mohurrum, and the Body Guard had been disarmed, but allowed to retain their horses. The 14th Bengal infantry had resisted the order to disarm at Jhelum, and had been cut to pieces by a body of Europeans. The Governor General's Body Guard had been disarmed.

Frightful Tragedy.—A correspondent of the Baltimore (Md.) Patriot says that a man named Adams was recently married to a Miss Jenkins, in Ware county, Georgia, and a rejected suitor of the lady, naams' house, and, finding nobody there but an old negro woman, he knocked her down with an axe, fracturing her skull, and then broke to pieces all the furniture. Next morning Adams went to seek Harlay, and shot him in the arm, when they closed, and Adams was soon killed with a knife. in a swoon, when the murderer cut her in a most ghastly manner with his knife, which he then drove to his own heart, and fell dead. Mrs. Adams is not expected to

NEW YORK, Oct. 5 .- The Bremen bark Bremen arrived here this morning, with three more rescued persons from the wreck of the Central America. They were picked up by the British brig Mary, from Cardenas for Queenstown, and transferred to the Bremen. The names of the rescued are : J. Tice, second engineer ; Alexander Grant, fireman ; G. W. Dawson, passenger. Statement of Mr. Tice .- Mr. Tice, one of the Central America passengers rescued by the British brig Mary, and arrived here this morning, states that he drifted on the plank that sustained him for seventy-two hours. On the fourth morning after the sinking of the steamer he drifted by a boat, and succeeded in getting into her. On the fifth day he picked up Alexander Grant, who had been drifting, up to that time, on a part of the hurricane deck. Grant swam to the boat; the two men pulled for the hurricane deck, and took from it G. W. Dawson. There had been originally twelve men upon it, viz: Ceorge Buddington, third engineer; John Burk, coal passer; Patrick Bard, do; ---- Evers, fireman, Dawson were eight days without water or provisions. The sea was making a breach upon them. On the second day after the steamer went down, they saw a number of passengers on pieces of wreck, but could not assist them. The rescued are in a sad condition, being badly bruised and covered with boils.

PHESE lands were granted by the Government to aid in the construction of this road, and are among the richest and most fertile in the world. They extend from North East and North West, through the middle of the State, to the extreme South, and include every variety of climate and productions found between those parallels of latitude. The Northern portion is chiefly prairie, interspersed with fine groves, and in the middle and Southern sections timber predominates. alternating with beautiful prai-

The climate is more healthy, mild and equa-ble, than any other part of the country—the air is pure and bracing, while living streams and springs of excellent water abound. The great fertility of these lands, which are a black rich mould from two to five feet deep, and gently rolling-their contiguity to this road, by which every facility is furnished for travel and transportation, to the principal markets North, South, East, West, and the economy with which they can be cultivated, render them the most valuable investment that can be found, and present the most favorable opportunity for persons of industrious habits and small means to acquire a comfortable independence in a few years.

Chicago is now the greatest grain market in the world, and the facility and economy with which the products of these lands can be trans-ported to that market make them much more profitable, at the prices asked, than those more remote at government rates, as the cost of transportation is a perpetual tax on the latter which must be borne by the producer in the re-

DR. HARDMAN treats Consumption, Bronchiti	is, Lary	ng
tis, Asthma, and all diseases of the Throat by	MEDIO	CA

The great point in the treatment of all human maladies is to get at the disease in a direct manner. All medicines Is to get at the disease in a direct manner. All medicines are estimated by their action upon the organ requiring relief. This is the important fact upon which Inhalation is based. If the stomach is diseased, we take medicine directly into the stomach. If the hings are diseased, breathe or inhale medicated vapors directly into them.— The reason why Consumption and diseases of the Lungs have heretofore resisted all treatment, has been because there we not discussed by the store of the disease. have heretofore resisted all treatment, has been because they were not approached in a direct manner by medicine. They were intended to be local, and yet they were so ad ministered that they could only act constitutionally, ex-pending their immediate action upon the stomach, whilst the foul ulcers within the Lungs were unmolested. In thalation brings the medicine into direct contact with the disease, without the disadvantage of any violent action. Its application is so simple that it may be employed by the youngest infant or feeblest invalid. It does not dethe youngest lufant or freeblest mixild. It does not derange the stomach, or interfere in the least with the strength, comfort or business of the patient.
