Agricultural, &c.

Hard Cement .- The following cement has been used with great success in covering terraces, lining basins, soldering of stones, etc., and everywhere resists the filtration of water. It is so hard that it scratches iron. It is formed of ninetythree parts of well burned brick, and seven parts of litharge, made plastic with linseed oil. The brick and litharge are pulverized; the latter must always be reduced to a very fine powder; they are mixed together, and enough of linseed oil added. It is then applied in the manner of plaster, the body that is to be covered being always previously wetted with a sponge. This precaution is indispensible, otherwise the oil would filter through the body, and prevent the mastic from acquiring the desired degree of hardness. When it is extended over a large surface, it sometimes happens to have flaws in it, which must be filled up with a fresh quantity of the cement. In three or four days it becomes firm and solid.

Like Produces Like .- Having long been a believer in the saying that "like produces like," I have always acted upon the principle as far as practicable with the means at my command.

Naturally desiring a good crop, I therefore procure good seed wherefrom to grow it, always finding myself amply repaid for the additional trouble and expense.

In regard to the potato crop, which is everywhere acknowledged to be a failure, I desire to say a few words. Unlike many of my neighbors, if I consider my own seed not very good, I obtain some which are; from which mode I have derived unlooked for results.

Last spring I procured some pure Mercers and planted them, but not having enough, I finished with some of my own of an inferior quality. In digging them lately, I found the pure seed entirely free from rot, while the others were almost destroyed by it.

What makes me think that it is not mere accident, is because a friend of mine had the same result.

If the above does not always hold good, a person will never regret having procured the best of seed, of whatever variety.

War upon Weeds .- Of these we have had an extra number, and a most luxuriant growth during the present year. Some weeks ago we solicited attention to this fact. and to the necessity growing out of it for extra exertions to subdue them and prevent them from going to seed. As a large proportion of farmers are very careless in regard to the eradication of weeds, and as such carelessness will be more productive of mischief this year than it is usually, it may not be a work of supererogation to call attention to the subject once more .-Though now late, it is not yet too late to at all events, to get rid of all weed-seeds not yet scattered by winds, birds, &c., even at this late period, than to give them any additional opportunities for dissemination. Thousands of these seeds may yet be destroyed in gardens and fields. Let the standing weeds be cut down and collected into piles, so as to be burned or rotted, for which latter purpose the corners of fences, where there are worm fences still in existence, or other waste places, will be the most appropriate. Sprinkle over the heaps some ashes or lime, if convenient to the house, and cover with a few sods. If not next year, then at least the year after, these heaps of rotted weeds will be of some use as manure, and all danger from the seeds either entirely or very nearly at an end .- Country Gentleman.

HIGHLY IMPORTANT TO FARMERS. M. M. FAXON'S

Attachment of Vulcanized India Rubber Spring to the Tubes of Grain Drills. This undersigned, having perfected an arrangement for the attachment of a Gum Spring to the Tubes and Drag Bars of Grain Drills, is happy to inform Farmers and all others interested in the growing of Wheat and other grains, that he is prepared to furnish GRAIN DRILLS, with the above article attached, at the shortest notice, at his Foundry, in McVeytown, Pa. Seedershave become an almost indispensable article to the Farmer, and he will find that the attachment of the Gum Spring will enhance its value at least one-haif. All the deten tion and trouble caused by the breaking of wooden pins is entirely done away with by this arrangement, and a man, or boy, can perform nearly double the labor that he could under the old plan, with much greater ease, both to himself and horses. There need be no fear of the Spring breaking, for if there is an article that will neither break, rot, or wear out, the Gum Spring is that article, and I hazard nothing in saying that my Grain Drill is the simplest in construction, most economical in performance, and therefore the most durable ever offered to the agricultural article. and therefore the most durable ever offered to the agri-cultural public The feed is so arranged that it will sow 1, 1½, 1½, 14, and 2 bushels per acre. Persons desiring one for the coming seeding are requested to send in their orders as early as possible. Direct to McVeytown, Mif-flin county, Pa., or F. G. FRANCISCUS, Lewistown; E. L.
