The Stone Man of Perry County. Reports of the sudden turning of a blasmer of Perry county into stone have circulated, and in answer to numerous uiries, Judge Baker, editor of the Per-County Freeman, gives an explanation it almost worthy of Washington Irving, oncerning this wonderful occurrence the s are these: In the central part of this my county, at the foot of the highest t of Dick's Hill, having an elevation of aty-nine thousand four hundred and sixty-e feet above the level of the sea, (accordto a late barometrical measurement effect-by our Devil by means of a bottle of whis-with lines denoting the degrees marked and the outside, and which may not be liely accurate, but a sufficient approximaa) are to be seen the ruins of an ancient Catholic Missionary Station, establishabout A. D, 984, the last of whose devoted post in the year 1368, and whose devotion deloquent zeal are well remembered by the st citizens of this vicinity. It had always supposed that large quantities of gold silver were hidden in the deep vaults and sees of these old ruins, and some few to been bold enough to make occasional rebes with pick and spade in pursuit of buried treasure.

Among the believers in this concealed wealth, as man well known to many of our citi-sfor his covetous and grasping disposition, noient prefanity, by the name of Solo-a Feltus, or as he was more usually called reltus, or as he was more usually called adened Sol," who, although in very comthe circumstances, was still inordinately study of adding to his worldly store. To the close of July last, his wheat crop line. ing been greatly injured by the weevil, in consequence of which he was often heard fo indulge in curses against Providence. Soloindulge in curses against Providence. Solomen, no doubt hoping to make amends for what he bad thus lost, repaired shortly after dusk on a rainy evening to the spot aferesaid, and, with the sid of his little son John, who held the lantern, commenced digging directly over the supposed vaults containing the treasure. And after having gone down about seven and a half feet, there was (as now stated by the hop) a great explosion from below, ted by the boy) a great explosion from below, which sent the boy possibly, and the father certainly, many feet in the air. The boy, however, seems to have been uninjured, and speedily recovering from his alarm so as to be able to walk, made the best of his way home, reporting to the family what had oc-

The alarm being given, the neighbors soon congregated in wild dismay to the scene of the catastrophe, and there ending this opening in the earth, writing until daylight appeared, some two or three among them made bold enough to descend in the dark mouth of the cavern, when to their terror and surprise they discovered a man apparently fresh, as if in full life, but naked and TURNED TO THE HARDEST STONE. It was soon bruited abroad that Solomon Feltus had turned to stone for blaspheming Providence on account of the loss of his crops and during to violate the sacred vaults of the old Catholic Ruins to repair his misfortune—and this belief became universal, when Solomon could no where be found after the most diligent search instituted by his friends and others. Now, the solution of this warning. The officers without an exception were savethe Steward, (colored) 2d do., do., and try cook were lost, with fifteen of the firehave thrown around it, is plainly solved as follows: This vault, penetrated by Solomon Feltus, as before described, was evidently the tomb of some old officiating priest of the station, who may have been interred there as early as the year 1000, and from the chemical and mineral qualities of the percolating wa-ters of that region, the body of the dead man had been converted into stone. The explosion which blew up Solomon and the boy doubtless can be very satisfactorily referred to the explosive gas generated in the vault for the last 800 years; and the disappearance of Solomon may be readily accounted for, by supposing the force of the explosion to have been sufficient to carry him beyond the earth's gravitating power, when, according to well understood dynamical laws, he would go to the man. the moen.

In addition to the moral lesson which this judgment should teach-us respecting the awful consequences of murmuring against the ways of Providence, and of the unscrupulous means we make use of in our haste to become rich, its investigation also shows that the wicked are no longer punished in a miraculous manner, but through the agency of nat-ural causes, and moreover settles to the satisfaction of the most doubting mind that long vexed question that, if never before, there is now unquestionably "a man in the moon."

By giving currency to the true version of this remarkable occurrence, the blundering errors connected with all former reports touching the stone man will be corrected.

TED INHALATION.

The great point in the treatment of all busses maladies is to get at the disease in a direct manner. All medicines are estimated by their action upon the organ requiring relief. This is the important fact upon which labelation is based. If the stomach is diseased, we take neclicine directly into the stomach. If the lungs are diseased, breathe or inhale medicated vapors directly into them.—
The reason why Consumption and diseases of the Lungs have heretofore resisted all freatment, has been because they were notapproached in a direct manner by medicine. They were intended to be local, and yet they were so administered that they could only set constitutionally, exnimbtered that they could only set constitutionally, ex-pending their immediate action upon the ston ach, whilst the foul ulcers within the Lungs were unmolested. In-halation brings the medicine into direct contact with the disease, without the disadvantage of any violent action.

disease, without the disadvantage of any violent action.

Its application is so simple that it may be employed by the youngest infint or feeblest invalid. It does not derange the stomach, or Interfere in the least with the strength, romfort or business of the patient.

5-No charge for consultation.

OTHER DISEASES TRE TED.

In relation to the following disease and the purpose of the patient.

In relation to the following diseases, either when com-plicated with Lung Affections, or existing alone, I also invite consultation—usually finding them PROMPTLY CURABLE: PROLAPSUS and all forms of FEMALE COMPLAINTS, PALPITATION and other forms of HEART DIS EASE, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, and alt other Dis-eases of Stomach and Bowels, Piles, &c. &c. -No charge for consultation.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.

THE EXCITING CAUSE OF SICKNESS.

ME blood is the life-sustaining agent. It furnishes the components of flesh, bone, mustle, nerve and integu-ment. The stomach is its manufactory, the veins its dis-tributors, and the intestines the channel through which the waste matter rejected in its productions is expelled. Upon the stomach, the circulation and the bowels, these Pills act simultaneously, relieving indigestion, purifying the fluids, and regulating the excretions.

THE NATIONAL COMPLAINT.

Dyspepsia is the most common disease among all classes in this country. It assumes a thousand shapes, and is the primary source of insumerable dangerous maladirs; but whatever its type or symptoms, however obstinate its resistance to ordinary preparations, it yields read by and rapidly to this searching and unerring remedy BILIOUS AFFECTIONS.

The quantity and quality of the bile are of most vital importance to health. Upon the liver, the gland which secretes this fluid, these Pills operate specifically, tarfall-bly rectifying its irregularities and effectually curing Jaundice, Bilious Remittants, and all the varieties of discasse generated by an unnatural condition of the organ. BOWEL COMPLAINTS. Unless the bowels perform their functions properly, the whole body suffers. Tens of thousands die annually of Dysentery, Diarrhæa, Chronic Constipation, and other diseases of these waste pipes of the system. The effect of the Pills upon all intestinal disorders, whether casual or epidemic, is a phenomenon in medicine. By following the printed directions, the most alarming cases of bowel complaint are promptly controlled.

A WORD TO FEMALES. The local debility and freegularities which are the especial annoyances of the weaker sex, and which, when neglicted, always shorten life, are relieved for the rime being, and prevented for the time to come, by a couthis mild but thorough alterative. Holloway's Pills are the best remedy known in the world for the following Diseases: Asthma Diarrhosa Indepention Secondary
