

extent of my ability, to promote the interests and honor of the Commonwealth, and the virtue, the happiness and prosperity of her citizens. If not successful, I have at least labored to deserve success; and in surrendering the trust committed to me, by a generous people, my only regret will be, that I have not been able to serve our noble Commonwealth with a zeal and ability equal to the interest I feel in her progress and welfare. Whatever of merit, or demerit may attach to my administration, whatever may be the opinions entertained of my conduct of the affairs of State, I can at least claim from my fellow citizens, with a full consciousness of my right, the award of good intention; and will enjoy, in my retirement, the proud satisfaction of knowing that no act of mine, or of my administration, in tendency or fact, injured or corrupted the public morals, retarded the prosperity, or tarnished the fair fame of my native State. I will surrender to my successor the cares and responsibilities of the office I now hold, with greater cheerfulness than I assumed them; and will return, without a murmur, to the society and companionship of those who can approve without selfishness, and censure only at the bidding of truth and friendship. To the judgment of impartial history I commit my administration and its acts, without a fear of the result; and when time shall have softened the asperity of partisan feeling, healed the bitterness of disappointment and corrected the errors of prejudice, truth will sustain the judgment and justice approve the record.

Our beloved Commonwealth, rich in all the material greatness, her broad and fertile fields—her lofty mountains, filled with inexhaustible mineral wealth—her rivers and her streams—her internal improvements—her furnaces, rolling-mills and factories—her colleges, academies, and her noble system of common schools—her churches and charitable institutions—her population, enterprising, energetic, intelligent and prosperous—all these are justly the pride of every true-hearted Pennsylvanian. Our mighty republic, "the free heart's hope and home"—the Constitution and the Union of the States—the civil and religious privileges of the people—the right of conscience and freedom of worship—the great and essential principles of liberty and free government, here enjoyed, and our American Nationality, founded in a true and single devotion to home and country, are objects that fill with patriotic emotion, the heart of every American citizen. May they be cherished and defended until patriotism ceases to be a virtue and liberty be known only as a name.

The true glory and greatness of a nation consist, not alone in the number, privileges or intellectual superiority of her people, her material wealth or physical strength, her political position or form of government—"Righteousness exalteth a nation" and "happy is that people whose God is the Lord." Our fathers trusted in Him, and were not disappointed. Recognizing Him as the Sovereign Ruler of nations and men; invoking a continuance of His watchful care over the interests of the Commonwealth, and His blessing upon your official labors—may your acts and the acts of those who may succeed us in the administration of the government, in their character and results, be such as patriotism demands, and honor, truth and conscience can sanction and approve.

A Husband "Out to Pieces" by his Wife.
—It does not seem to satisfy brutality at present merely to kill, but there must be an extra horror, to create a sensation. A correspondent of the Petersburg, (Va.) Express writes from Sussex county in that State:

Our community has been startled by one of the most revolting and cold-blooded murders that has ever been committed in this section. It occurred Christmas morning—the victim was a husband, and the perpetrator his own wife. From her confession the particulars seem to be briefly these:—On Christmas morning, Josiah Freeman, the husband of the woman, threatened to kill her; so, after reflection, she thought she would get the better of it and kill him. While he was asleep she seized a gun, and firing the spring of the hammer would arouse him she opened the pan, and applying a coal of fire the powder exploded, the whole charge grazing his forehead. He raised up and remarked that she had done wrong, when she instantly struck him over the head with the gun, knocking him senseless. The blow was given with such force that the barrel of the gun was badly bent. While in this insensible condition she seized a knife and cut his throat. Still fearing, as she says, "that the wind might again blow breath in his body," she took an axe and butchered the body in a shocking manner. She has been duly committed to jail for trial.

DEATH FROM THE BITE OF A CAT.

A correspondent of the Philadelphia Press, writing from Jeaneville, Luzerne county, December 27th, says:—
Mr. John Abel, clerk in the employ of J. B. McCready & Co., at Lewis Audenreth's colliery, died on the morning of the 27th from the bite of a cat. The circumstances are very singular. About ten weeks since, he was walking from the dwelling house to the store, when he met the cat in the path. He put out his hands to play with her, when she instantly flew at him and bit him. He complained a little at the time, but it passed away and no more was thought of it. He had at times, however, a great repugnance to water, and the mere sight of it caused a shuddering sensation. On Christmas day he dined at the hotel of Mr. David Martz, at Jeaneville, and appeared in usual health. On the morning of the 27th he complained of being sick, and at last took to his bed.

He suffered intense agony, trying to bite the hand which the cat had bitten ten weeks previous, and exclaiming that the sight of water made him mad—a raving maniac. His friends had to hold him to prevent his tearing his breast. Medical skill proved of no avail, and at 8 o'clock on the 27th, Sunday morning, he breathed his last.

OXYGENATED BITTERS.—This peculiarly efficacious medicine has no equal, and a trial will satisfy the most skeptical sufferer that in regard to the power of this remedy, too much cannot be said in its praise. It will cure Dyspepsia. For sale by Chas. Ritz.

THE POLITICAL FUTURE.

A number of would-be democratic papers are chuckling over the supposed fact that the opponents of the National Administration have committed themselves in favor of Mr. Douglas, by endorsing his views on the Kansas question. This is rather an illogical conclusion at present, though it may yet prove true, as it is not at all unlikely there may be two democratic nominees for the next presidency, one of whom may be Mr. Douglas, the other a fire-eating slavery and filibuster propagandist, and between two such we certainly should not hesitate to support the former in preference to the latter, as the least of two evils. In part the question of slavery is settled by the decision of the Supreme Court, and so long as that decision stands all good citizens, without regard to their own opinions, must abide by it; but side issues have sprung up, the most important of which are the right of the people of a territory to form all their domestic institutions according to their wishes, and the carrying of slave property into free states. Bigger and a few other satellites, who profess to speak for the administration, have already taken the ground that a convention, such as lately assembled in Kansas, could form and put in operation a constitution without submitting it to the people, and a Washington administration paper has already construed the Dred Scott decision to mean that slaveholders can carry slave property into free states and hold it there. Filibusterism, the tariff, a bank of issue by the government, and other important matters will probably come up, and we shall not be surprised to see a new division of parties in which all others will be as effectually scattered as was the whig party a few years ago. Time alone however can determine this, and until it does so we shall give credit to Douglas, Buchanan, Packer, and all others, when right, and condemn them when we think them wrong.

Protracted Meeting.

The meeting in the Lutheran Church, under the new Pastor Rev. H. Baker, is still continued with good success. There have been a large number forward at the anxious bench, and many have found peace in believing in Christ. The meetings have been very interesting from the beginning, and a good spirit seems to pervade the minds of the anxious auditors, who crowd the house from evening to evening, to hear the preached word, and catch up its soul inspiring flame. The meeting was favored four evenings last week by the services of Rev. Cyrus Lightmeyer from Mechanicsburg, Cumberland county. He is a young man, and it is exceedingly dangerous to make young preachers the subjects of newspaper notice. If you criticize them unfavorably, it may do them great injury, and to praise their efforts too highly is apt to excite their vanity, and thereby they become killed with conceit. In this case, however, I think there is little danger of doing him either way. Mr. R. seems to carry his abilities so lightly that no one would suspect him of having any, and whether he has made the discovery himself yet, that he is possessed of great tact and skill, is unknown to the writer. The large congregations of people who heard him preach in Lewistown, have made the discovery that he is a workman that need not be ashamed, and is destined to make his mark in the world as a preacher of righteousness. He throws the network of the Gospel around the hearts of sinners so skillfully that they cannot escape its meshes. He strips sin of all its apparent honor and glory, discards it of all its borrowed drapery and tinsel show, and holds it up to the gaze of the audience in all its naked deformity, turning its pretended sweets into wormwood and gall. He shows the people the black side of sin and contends that it has no other, and then shows by overpowering arguments, backed by scripture and experience, the emptiness of all earthly pretensions to happiness, and their utter insufficiency to satisfy the longings of an immortal mind. He then turns the attention of his hearers to the Lamb of God who taketh away the sins of the world, and represents him as the fairest among ten thousand, and the one altogether lovely, as the sinner's only safety and sure refuge, in the day of his trial. And thus he goes on from one stream of impassioned eloquence to another until the whole audience are forced to an inward, or audible ejaculation, Amen—even so—come Lord Jesus.

ROADS.

A petition was presented for an alley in the borough of Lewistown, beginning at or near the southeast corner of a stable on the land of James Parker, now in the occupancy of James Dolby, thence to run in a westerly direction on land of F. G. Francis, E. L. Benedict and others, until it intersect the public alley running parallel with Mill street, at the corner of lot of John Hamilton in the East Ward.

The road cases reported at last court were either confirmed nisi or finally.

The following report of the Grand Jury was unanimously concurred in:

REPORT OF GRAND JURY.

To the Honorable the Judges of the Court of Quarter Sessions.

The Grand Inquest, in and for the County of Mifflin, beg leave to report, that in pursuance of the in-tructions of the Court, they examined the Court House and visited the Jail and Poor House.

As suggested by the Court, they found the rear of the Court House in bad condition, caused by a sunken pavement which leads the water towards the foundation. The Commissioners stated to the inquest that a contract had been made for relaying the pavement, but had not as yet been completed. As the walls are already somewhat injured, the inquest would recommend the filling up of the part referred to, so as to drain away the water from the building.

From an examination of the Jail they consider the building well adapted for the purpose intended. In the prisoner's department, the cells appear to be kept in good condition. Some of the locks on the doors, the banners of the stair case and the railing of the upper tier of cells appear to be loose or broken, apparently done by force, and ought to be repaired before sustaining further injury. One of the pipes leading from the western cells to the main pipe, appears to be clogged by paper or some other obstruction, rendering the use of the privies at that part very offensive. This ought to be removed, both for the health and the comfort of the inmates.

The Poor House was visited without any notice to the Manager, and they found it in a highly creditable condition. The inmates, most of whom are debilitated or crippled, appeared to be well provided with comfortable beds, clothing, &c.; their rooms are clean; and in all other respects every thing supplied calculated to make them comfortable in their dependent state.

In conclusion, the inquest would respectfully represent to the Court that in their opinion a benefit would be conferred upon the community by gradually lessening the number of houses licensed for the sale of liquors, and in all cases refusing license for new ones. They conscientiously believe that where houses of entertainment are necessary for the accommodation of the public and entertainment of strangers and travelers, the sale of liquor is not necessary for their support, or if so, the injury inflicted is far greater than the accommodation afforded. It is to such houses we must look for the source of riotous and disorderly conduct—for profanity and vulgarity, which too many ignorantly utter while under the baneful influence of this curse of our country—and for three-fourths of the petty criminal cases which consume the time of the court and entail a heavy expense on the taxpayers.

T. G. BELL, Foreman.

ORPHANS' COURT.

Joseph Hartzler, Adm. of David Hartzler, deceased, reported that he had sold to public sale 5 acres and 8 perches of land to John Peachy for $143.92, and the balance, 5 acres and 87 perches, to Matty and Elizabeth Hooley for $85.95. Sales confirmed.

The sale of the real estate of Melissa Stone, deceased, was confirmed.

The sale of the interest of John B. Alexander in certain real estate was confirmed, and Guardian authorized to make deed.

E. Raff's dry goods and grocery store and an adjoining building at Lock Haven, were destroyed by fire on Friday a week. There was an insurance of about $3000 in the Lock Haven on the two buildings.

The Clinton Democrat seems to think democrats ought to be allowed to differ on Kansas and other questions. It is about time to allow a difference of opinion, for if all who differ with Buchanan on Kansas in this State are to be read out of the party, the 25,000 straightouts could floor Buck at the next election.

Gov. Packer it is said has made the following appointments: Wm. M. Hiestler, of Berks county, to be Secretary of the Commonwealth; H. L. Pfeifferbach, of Clinton county, to be Deputy Secretary of the Commonwealth; Col. T. A. Scott has been appointed to fill his place. Col. Scott will be remembered here as the energetic manager for rebuilding the bridge burnt a few years ago near this place, and will no doubt fill his new station to the satisfaction of the public and employers.

The Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania, A. Y. M., has appointed the following District Deputy Grand Masters: For Northumberland, Columbia, Montour, Union and Snyder, Bro. G. C. Walker, of Sunbury. For Clinton, Lycoming and Centre, Bro. James Armor, of Bellefonte. For Cambria, Blair, Huntingdon, Mifflin, Bedford and Fulton, Bro. Alexander M. Lloyd, of Hollidaysburg.

The Lewistown Chronicle notices A. J. Greer's political somewhat as follows: "The Junata Register has been brought out in an entirely fresh and very handsome dress, by the new proprietors, Greer & Allison. From an ultra hater of Irish and all the boys of Sam. J. Greer leaps at a bound into an orthodox boy of Pat, and a co-worker with Molly Maguire! 'What a fall there, my countrymen!' The worst we wish him is that he keep his new party in as hot water as he did the old one!"

SECRETARY VISIT.

The friends of the Rev. G. W. Cooper, pastor of the First Church in Hollidaysburg, were warmly by the Standard, played him a "Yankee trick," by calling at his residence on New Year's day, in his absence, and obtaining an entrance through the window, spread a table with a bountiful supply of the necessities of life and in its centre placed a handsome purse of gold. The trick was done up in real Yankee style, as the Rev. gentleman had no previous notice, until his return to his home. On opening his door his first impression was that there were burglars about, but on entering the room and seeing the display his fears were most agreeably dissipated. We presume he would have no objection to having a similar trick played on him every New Year's day, nor would we, particularly to the reverse part.

Oxygenated Bitters.

A Sure Cure for Dyspepsia.—The history of this remarkable medicine, and its astonishing success in obstinate cases of Dyspepsia, Asthma, and General Debility of the System, places it among the most wonderful discoveries in medical science, and has given it a reputation far beyond any remedy known for these complaints, in all their various forms. The Oxygenated Bitters contain nothing which can intoxicate, and the medicine has no similarity whatever to the various alcoholic mixtures disguised as "Bitters," being purely a medicinal compound, in which are combined the most valuable remedial agents and a peculiar oxygenated property hitherto unknown, but highly efficacious in all complaints arising from weakness and derangement, or prostration of the stomach and system generally. It is a mild and agreeable tonic, removing all disagreeable symptoms, and assisting nature in her efforts to restore the impaired powers of the system.

Seth W. Fowle & Co., 138 Washington st., Boston, Proprietors. Sold by Charles Ritz, Lewistown, and by their agents everywhere.

Holloway's Pills.

—There is a disease which has no name, yet is exceedingly common. It consists in a relaxation of the whole vital system. The appetite is poor, the spirits low, the body feeble, the nerves unstrung, the eyes lustreless, the cheek wan and pale, the whole physique in a state of prostration. The sufferer, though perhaps in the morning or meridian of life, is feeble almost to despondence. To rouse the system from this syncope there is no medicine comparable to Holloway's Pills. They recruit the appetite, the strength, the nerves. In fine, they rejuvenate, so to speak, the entire corporeal system, and as a natural consequence improve the condition of the mental energies.

Bilious Cholice and Croup in the Stomach can be relieved in ten minutes, in every case, by using from five to thirty drops of Du Vall's Galvanic Oil.

For sale by Hoar & McNabb, Belleville; Parker & Sons and Brisben & Sterett, Reedsville; B. Alexander, Locke's Mills; G. W. Brehman, McVeetyton; A. J. North, Atkinson's Mills; J. R. Hoops, Rothrock's Mills; and at the Bee Hive Drug Store, Lewistown.

A CARD TO THE LADIES.

DR. DUPONCO'S GOLDEN FEMALE PILLS are infallible in removing stoppages or irregularities of the system. These pills are nothing new, but have been used by the Doctor for many years, both in France and America, with unparalleled success in every case, and he is urged by many ladies who have used them to make these pills public for the alleviation of those suffering from any irregularities whatever, as well as a preventive to those ladies whose health will not permit an increase of family. Pregnant females, or those supposing themselves so, are cautioned against using these pills, as the proprietor assumes no responsibility after the above admonition, although their mildness would prevent any injury to health; other wise these pills are recommended. Directions accompany each box. Price $1. Sold wholesale and retail by F. A. HARTD & CO., General Agents for Lewistown, Mifflin county, Pa., and also agents for Belleville, Milroy, Reedsville, Allegheny, &c. They will supply dealers at the proprietor's prices, and send the pills to ladies (confidentially) by return mail to any part of city or country, on receipt of all through the Lewistown post office. For particulars see circular of agents. ©-8c each box has my signature. J. DUPONCO, Broadway post office, New York.
